Blue And White Scores Second Win

The Southern Pines High School baseball team won its second consecutive victory in as many tries last Friday, defeating West End by the score of 7-2 on the West End field.

The young, hustling charges of Coach Irie Leonard look very impressive in their second outing. Winning pitcher for the Blue and White was David Bailey, who was pitching his first game. Tommy Ruggles, coming in as a relief, did a fine job in hurling the last three innings.

The hitting for Southern Pines was led by Ronald Luketz, hard-hitting center-fielder, a newcomer this year. Ronald collected three hits in four trips to the plate.

Other outstanding performances for the Blue and White in both the field and at bat were turned in by Billy Huntley, David Page, Roy Newton, Joe Marley and George Morrison.

Child Hit By Car, Termed Unavoidable

James Cameron, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alec Cameron of Niagara, received a glancing blow from a car on South Broad street Saturday afternoon, but was reported to have sustained no serious injury.

Chief C. E. Newton said the child, standing in front of the library with his sister, left her side to dart in front of a parked car into the street to get to his parents' car, which was parked on the other side.

Dr. W. E. Bush, driving south, saw the child start off, and braked down before he saw him round the front of the parked car. While he could not miss hitting the child, he had slowed down abruptly by then, or serious injury might have resulted.

Chief Newton termed the accident unavoidable.

Two Distinguished Men, British-Born, Lifelong Friends, Buy Homes Here

Redferns, Hobsons Enjoying Climate And Golf Courses

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hobson and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Redfern, visitors at W. C. Hilderman's Pine Cone Lodge for several past seasons, have purchased homes here and plan to spend the rest of their days "enjoying Southern Pines climate and golf courses."

Mr. Hobson and Mr. Redfern are lifelong friends. They were born in Manchester, England, and both came to this country in 1913. Both have had distinguished careers, from which they have now retired.

Mr. Hobson has been a leading figure in marine insurance, representing various British concerns. He retired two years ago.

Mr. Redfern started life as a newspaperman, holding his first job on the Manchester Guardian. Forth the past five years he has been an official with the United Nations, heading the United Children's Emergency Fund, which was inspired by Herbert Hoover. He retired just a month ago.

He first became associated with Mr. Hoover in the American Relief Administration shortly after World War 1, when he was in charge of the ARA program in Warsaw. Most of the 33 years since that time he has spent in activities directly under Mr. Hoover, or with which he was associated in some way.

After ARA, he returned to Warsaw in the interest of trade promotion for the Department of Commerce. On the expiration of Mr. Hoover's presidency in 1932, with resulting change of personnel, he continued in Warsaw as correspondent for the New York Times and New York Herald-Tribune.

When war broke over Poland in 1939 he, of course, had to leave, and in fact was lucky to get out. The following year, however, found him back there, working with refugees in the interests of the Commission for Polish Relief, headed by Mr. Hoover.

Reporting back to his chief in 1941, he was handed another humanitarian assignment, this time with the American Red Cross. For four years he handled relief for prisoners of war—American prisoners in enemy hands, and enemy prisoners in this country.

The year 1945 took him back to Poland, where he worked with UNRRA in the public information field, from which he was appointed to the UN post.

Mrs. Redfern is a native of Czechoslovakia.

Mrs. John Jayme, Longtime Resident, Succumbs At 88

Mrs. John Jayme, 88, died at noon Monday at The Anchorage nursing home after two years of declining health. She was 88 years old, and had been a resident of Southern Pines for slightly more than 26 years.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Clark's Funeral chapel, conducted by Dr. R. L. House, pastor of the Church of Wide Fellowship. Burial followed in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Mrs. Jayme was an active and devoted member of the Church of Wide Fellowship, and belonged to the Lena Sweezy circle, members of which attended the service in a body.

She was the former Miss Emma Martha Pickle, of Pittsburgh, Pa., where she was born February 28, 1864. Her husband was a hat salesman, who spent 43 years in travel. Returning home one time from a trip to Florida, he became attracted to Southern Pines and bought a lot here.

His enthusiasm infected his sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Henderson, a widow, to the extent that in December 1925 she moved with her children from Pittsburgh to Southern Pines. She bought a home on South May street. With her came her sister, Mrs. Jayme. The following spring Mr. Jayme retired, and all became year-round residents, continuing to live in the South May street home.

Mr. Jayme died in 1939. Mrs. Henderson also preceded her sister in death. Of late years the home has been shared by Mrs. Jayme and her nephew, Robert L. Henderson, and his family.

Only immediate survivors are five nieces, Miss Henrietta L. Hammer, Mrs. David L. Rees and Mrs. Freda Sarver, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Bonita Rawnsley, Cincinnati, Ohio, and Mrs. Charlotte Staton, Brooklyn, N. Y.; and three nephews, Robert L. Henderson of Southern Pines, John Milton Hammer of Knox, Pa., and Jennings Hammer of Detroit, Mich.

A conference for North Carolina dairymen will be held at State College on January 29-30. Several outstanding speakers will appear on the program.

Proper rotation of crops is one answer to the black shank problem, believe tobacco growers of Franklin County.
