

Miss Redding Succumbs After Lengthy Illness

Miss Johnnie Redding, 53, died Wednesday morning at her home in Carthage after about two years of declining health, and several months of illness.

Miss Redding had failed rapidly since an operation last November, though recently she had appeared to be improved, and her death came as a shock.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at Carthage Presbyterian church, conducted by Dr. W. S. Golden, followed by burial in Cross Hill cemetery.

Miss Redding was born in the Salem Church community of Lee county, daughter of the late John and Laura Kelly Sanford. She had lived in Carthage since she was a small child. She graduated from Carthage High school, attended Woman's college, Greensboro, for a year and graduated from Peace college, Raleigh.

She held various important positions during her active life and at the same time was interested and active in community, county and church affairs. She was secretary to the late D. A. McDonald of Carthage, State Senator and later a federal official, for several years. She held the post of Carthage town clerk for about 15 years, until her health began to fail.

She grew up in the membership of the Carthage Presbyterian church, and was a leading member of its ladies' auxiliary. She was active also for a number of years in the Carthage Junior Woman's club.

She was an enthusiastic and active Democrat, a longtime leader in the Young Democratic organization.

Wit, energy and lively personality, loyalty and a deep capacity for friendship marked her life.

Surviving are her stepfather, J. A. Lang, U. S. Commissioner at Carthage; one brother, John A. Lang, Jr., administrative assistant to Congressman C. B. Deane; and one sister, Mrs. Howard Gardner of Carthage.

Waiting-List Cases Put TB Group In Red; County Helps With $2,000

An appropriation of $2,000 was granted this week by the county commissioners for the Moore County Tuberculosis association, in partial reimbursement for funds expended for the care of patients awaiting admission to the N. C. Sanatorium at McCain.

Expressing appreciation for the grant, Norris L. Hodgkins, newly elected president of the association, said, "We feel this is justly a community and county problem. The main duties of the association actually lie in the fields of education and prevention of tuberculosis, not its treatment. But when these cases of extreme need come along, what can we do?"

What they have been doing in recent months, it was revealed, has been to send the patient to a private sanatorium. Caring for four patients in this way during the past year cost the association some $3,600, leaving the treasury bare. The $2,000 grant is to tide it over until the next Christmas Seal campaign.

The waiting period at N. C. Sanatorium, pending completion of its building program, runs varying lengths. The longest time of waiting now is that for Negro men, 10 to 12 months. In this time, President Hodgkins pointed out, the patient could very well die or, if he lives, infect hundreds of others.

The $3,600 expended represented the cost of the care of four patients, and in at least one case a life was definitely saved. Given only two weeks to live unless he received treatment at once, the patient was taken to the Guilford Sanatorium. That was 10 months ago. He has now been admitted to N. C. Sanatorium, is doing excellently and his prognosis is good.

Bills in this case alone, costliest of the four, totaled $2,200.

Patients' families repay what they can, said Mr. Hodgkins, but so far repayments have been pitifully small. Arrangements are being made for families to assume at least a portion of the cost of each case in future.

Lawrence M. Johnson, of Aberdeen, second vice-president of the association, was delegated by President Hodgkins to present the appeal to the county commissioners, which he did at their regular meeting Monday, June 2.

They agreed with him that the burden could not properly be considered one for the association to

Farmers Bringing Cucumbers To New Market At Vass

The new cucumber market at Vass, operated by Charles F. Cates and Sons, pickle manufacturers of Faison, with Dallas H. Jackson as local manager, opened Thursday of last week with first-day offerings of 50 bushels. By Monday, receipts had jumped to 110 bushels.

Approximately 165 acres in the Vass section were planted in cucumbers last spring by numerous growers, to be marketed under contract at a set price of $5 per 100 pounds for No. 1's, those up to one and one-eighth inches in diameter; $2 for No. 2's, up to one and a half inches; and $1 for No. 3's, those two inches in diameter.

The market is being operated in a sizeable shed in the rear of McKeithan's store. The cucumbers are dumped into a grading machine which jiggles them through a slatted frame onto belts which convey them, according to size, to wooden crates or boxes. They are weighed and checked, then loaded to be hauled by truck to Faison for pickling.

A fine crop is in prospect if sufficient rain falls within the next few days, it is said.

TIME and GOD

It is no accident that men, the world over, have built clocks into the steeples of their churches:
Reduce life to its simplest components and what have you?
TIME and GOD.

Time marks the beginning of life. It measures the growth of our bodies. It provides opportunity for our work and play. It reveals to us our human limitations. And then, one day, Time leaves us behind . . .

But God is the origin of life. He measures the growth of our souls. He provides our strength and forgives our weakness. He reveals to us His limitless Love. And, never deigning to leave us behind, God beckons us on—even beyond the circle of time.

A parable then: the clock in the steeple!

Man finds material security and temporal happiness as he learns to respect Time.

Man finds spiritual security and eternal happiness as he learns to love God!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
