Mrs. Wilson Dies Within Year of Husband's Passing

Mrs. Adrienne Baldwin Wilson, 65, mother of Mrs. Sidney C. Whiting, died Sunday of acute leukemia at the Whiting home on Highland road. She had been ill only a few weeks.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at Clarks Funeral Chapel, conducted by the Rev. C. K. Ligon. Burial will be made later at Rochester, N. Y.

Mrs. Wilson's death followed that of her husband, Sidney Clinton Wilson, by only eight and a half months. They came to Southern Pines from Rochester about a year ago to be with their daughter and her family. Mr. Wilson was a well-known inventor of industrial processes.

Mrs. Wilson was born at Fort Huron, Mich., July 6, 1887, daughter of Alvin and Drusilla Pulford Wilson. She was musically talented, and at one time was president of the Federated Music Clubs of Rochester. During her residence here, she sang in the choir of the Presbyterian church.

Surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Sidney C. Whiting; one son, Lieut. Donald A. Wilson of the Air Force, who has recently returned from Korea; four grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Frank Atkins, of Evanston, Ill.
