

Design By Blue Is Selected For Exhibit In England

Walter E. (Buddy) Blue, Jr., has been honored by having an architectural design of his selected to represent the work of his class, in an exhibit to be sent to England under sponsorship of the State College School of Design.

In the exhibit will be presented one "problem" as worked out by an architecture student of each class, chosen from all those submitted from that class. Mr. Blue's represents the fourth-year work.

"Problems" assigned the students were for the re-designing of buildings now existing in and around Raleigh. Mr. Blue re-designed St. Agnes' hospital according to modern architectural principles.

A World War 2 veteran, Mr. Blue entered State college in September 1948, at which time he and his wife, the former Miss Doris Ferguson of Southern Pines, became members of State's "trailer colony." Entering as a civil engineering student, after a short time he found his metier in architecture and has conscientiously rated A's in design.

According to requirements of the exacting five-year course, he will spend most of this summer furthering his professional training with an architectural firm. He and Mrs. Blue will continue to be at home in Raleigh, spending frequent weekends with their parents in Southern Pines, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Blue and Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson.

Highway Safety Violations Take Up Court's Time; Two Are Fined $200 Each

Junior Dolphus Bousman, 25, of Pope AFB, was fined $200 and costs, with license revoked for 12 months, in recorders court Monday when the court satisfied itself that he had driven his car as fast as 100 miles per hour. Costs amounted to $41.60.

State Highway Patrolman W. E. Jones of Cumberland county testified that he had tailed Bousman from Fayetteville to Southern Pines, clocking him "in excess of 75 miles per hour" and up to 100 a good part of the time.

This was the second $200 fine racked up in Monday's court. Mallie W. Hussey of Robbins Rt. 2 received this penalty, with license revocation as provided by law, for driving while drunk—a second offense.

These led the list of highway safety violations of varying degree which took up the greater part of the court's time on that hot day, following a weekend which had seen Moore highways strewn with blood—three killed, four injured, in two accidents involving reckless speed.

An exception was an affray case with five defendants, two of which were recently in court on similar charges. Charged with assault, aiding and abetting in assault and engaging in affray were Eddie Brooks, Haywood Sercy, Rowland J. Brown, Wayne L. Brown and James Rowland Freeman, all of Carthage. Judgment was continued for all, on payment of costs.

Rest of the docket—costs added to all penalties:

Barney Davis, assault on wife and non-support, judgment continued on request of wife; Kennedy E. Stewart, Jr., Ellerbe, speeding 65 mph, $35; Edward Ervin Salmon, Fuquay Springs, speeding 70 mph, $30; Worthy Lee Morgan, Southern Pines, speeding 70 mph, $25; Maxwell L. Blue, Carthage Rt. 3, trespass, careless and reckless driving (two counts), intoxication, 90 days or $125, license revoked for 12 months; Herbert Earl Williams, Eagle Springs Rt. 1, careless and reckless driving, $25; William Adolphus Wimberly, Highland Pines Inn, Southern Pines, speeding 65 mph, $15; Clifton Harlee, Laurinburg Rt. 1, driving on wrong side of highway causing collision, $25; Will Frank Poe, Laurinburg, speeding resulting in accident, three months or $50; Joe Robert Rogers, West End Rt. 1, careless and reckless driving, driving while drunk, colliding with another vehicle, three months or $100, fine to be used to apply on repair bill for Miss McKenzie's car.

William Carrett McMillan, Raeford, driving without license, judgment continued; Ernest Taylor, Aberdeen, driving with improper equipment, violation of prohibition laws, 60 days or $25; Joseph Rudolph Cothran, Ashley Heights, careless and reckless driving, acquitted; Pattie E. Williams, Robbins, backing out from curb without observing proper precaution, acquitted; Ira Thomas, Hoffman, careless and reckless driving causing accident, $25; Mitchell Russell, Eastwood, speeding 70 mph, 30 days or $25; James Edward Morgan, Highland Pines Inn, Southern Pines, attempting to pass another vehicle at intersection causing accident, $25.

Verley Williamson and Rudy Scott, state takes no pros; William Henry Gilchrist, Harnett county, careless and reckless driving, $25; Roger Cagle, Eagle Springs, assault with deadly weapon inflicting serious injury, trial continued to next Monday, subpoenas to issue for state's witnesses; Michael Leonard Wajda, Philadelphia, Pa., driving without license, displaying fictitious license knowing it not to be his own, 30 days or costs; James Marsh, Ador, careless and reckless driving causing accident, driving without license, 30 days or $25; Raymond B. Wicker, Virgie Rudolph Hardy, Philip Austin Wood, trials set Monday, June 16.

"Mogo" Will Have Summer Job On Colorado Ranch

Bill (Mogo) Baker and his two roommates at the University of North Carolina, all members of the Carolina football team, left last Wednesday for summer jobs, new experiences and adventures.

The three will work on a big ranch, which is also a camp for boys and girls, at Buena Vista, Colo. One of the roommates, Dick Lackey of Shelby, worked there last year, and when he left was told to "come back next summer and bring your buddies"—instructions which he is following to the letter.

Bill and the third member of the party, George Norris of Raeford, Va., joined Dick at Shelby and they started motoring west. They planned to spend the first weekend at Chicago, taking in some Big League games.

Bill, a Southern Pines High school graduate of 1950, has just completed his second year as a student and football player at Carolina.

Deys Moving From Pinebluff To Penn.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Dey, who have lived at Pinebluff during the past year, will leave Monday to visit their son in Pekin, Ill., than to go to New Hope, Pa., to make their home. They plan to live in or near this famed artist's colony on the Delaware river, which is also in the heart of an industrial section which will give Mr. Dey opportunity to work at his profession of electrical engineering.

Mr. Dey, a native of Switzerland, is a distinguished artist in watercolor and woodcuts. The Deys moved here from Cornwall, N. Y., principally to be near Mrs. Dey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith, of West Illinois avenue, during the past year. Mr. Day has been employed by the Robbins Mills plant at Raeford. They say they plan to return for the winters, as they have done for a number of years, but that the

Young Architect Moves To Sandhills, Opens Office For Loewenstein Firm

The Sandhills this week welcomed its first architect to move here in many years, Thomas T. Hayes, Jr., native of Sanford and recent graduate of State college.

Mr. Hayes is opening here a local branch of the Edward Loewenstein architectural firm, of Greensboro. He has rented the Sylvester Loudermelt house near the airport as an office, and also as a home for his wife and himself.

He was the architect for the new Lloyd P. Tate house, which was handled by the Loewenstein firm, and is at present supervising its construction on the Starland Farms property.

Mr. Hayes, a graduate of Sanford High school, was awarded his B. S. degree in architectural engineering at State college in 1949, and his B. A. in architecture, also at State, in 1951. This seeming duplication in graduations was caused by the fact that the two courses were being consolidated at that time in the famous State College School of Design, headed by Dean Kampfoeffner.

While taking courses toward his second degree and for some time after, Mr. Hayes was associated as a consultant with the William H. Dietrich architectural firm in Raleigh. He went to the Loewenstein firm last fall and has worked with them on some of their major projects throughout the state.

The Loewenstein firm designs churches, schools, business buildings, homes and numerous other types of buildings. They are architects for all construction done by the Cone Mills. A local sample of their work is seen in the Voit Gilmore home, an outstanding example of modern functional design and the principle of blending structure with site.

In much of his work as student and consultant, Mr. Hayes worked closely with the late Matthew Nowicki, who came from Europe summer heat is not to their liking. At Pekin they will visit their son Robert Dey, his wife and two-year-old daughter Leslie Warren. Robert is on the staff of the Pekin daily paper.
