

AT PINEHURST
Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dudley, of Washington, D. C., will arrive at Pinehurst Saturday to spend three weeks in the Shearwood cottage and conduct the Shearwood Travel Service during the absence of Mrs. John Dundas of Southern Pines.

The Dudleys are from England and Mr. Dudley is Washington representative of the BOAC.

Rotary President Lorenson Appoints Chairmen For Year

President Russell Lorenson of the Southern Pines Rotary club, yielding the gavel for the first time since his installation, listed his appointments for the year at the club's weekly luncheon meeting Friday at the Village Inn.

The program consisted of a Technicolor film on the manufacture of plumbing appliances, presented by Leo O'Callaghan.

The following were named by President Lorenson to committee and subcommittee chairmanships for 1952-53:

Club Service—Johnnie A. Hall (director); June Phillips, classification; Earl Hubbard, membership, club bulletin; Lloyd Clark, fellowship; Virgil Clark, magazine; Garland Pierce, program; the Rev. C. V. Covell, public information; Herbert N. Cameron, club information.

Vocational Service—Dan S. Ray (director); buyer-seller relations, H. L. Brown; competitive relations, Don Jensen; employer-employee relations, E. C. Small; trade associations, H. A. McAllister.

Community Service—Clyde Council (director); Dick Sugg, crippled children; Leo O'Callaghan, student loans; Henry Turner, traffic safety; E. J. Austin, youth.

International Service—A. C. Dawson (director); Joe Garzik, international contacts; Paul Van Camp, public relations and forums; Charles S. Patch, Jr., Rotary Foundation fellowships; Dr. L. M. Daniels, United Nations.

Joe Garzik was named to the post of sergeant-at-arms, by election of the board of directors.

THEATRES
Carolina

Continuing through Friday (tonight) and Saturday, July 18-19, at 8:15 p.m., with a Saturday matinee at 3 p.m., at the Carolina theatre, is the re-issue of Walt Disney's greatest feature-length Technicolor production, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Out of Washington has come the big story of the year! The behind-the-scenes story that's never been told until now—M-G-M's romantic, revealing and thrillingly timely story of the girl reporter who looked for scandal and met Mr. Congressman. "The Washington Story" is coming to the Carolina theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday (three nights) July 20-22, at 8:15, with matinees Sunday and Tuesday at 3.

Starring Van Johnson, Patricia Neal, Louis Calhern and Sidney Blackmer, drama and comedy are combined into an entertaining story of the problems of a Congressman. With a great deal of the picture filmed in Washington there is a strong flavor of realism. A rapid pace, with plenty of laughs and numerous colorful touches, is maintained throughout the story of a newspaper reporter seeking to expose a Congressman.

Louis Calhern as an aged Congressman is hilarious in a scene in which he satirizes various types of politicians in television.

On Wednesday and Thursday, July 23-24, at 8:15 p. m., with a Thursday matinee at 3, the Carolina is presenting a picture that many of its patrons have been waiting for in the special production, "Encore." This is a combination of three of W. Somerset Maugham's famous short stories, under the titles of "The Ant and the Grasshopper," "Winter Cruise" and "Gigolo and Gigollette," starring the well known (in America) English stars, Glynis Johns, Nigel Patrick, Kay Walsh, Roland Culver and Ronald Squire.

Following Maugham's "Quartet" and "Trio," this latest production, "Encore," is the most delightful yet and has wide appeal.

The personable Mr. Maugham is seen in the film delivering a characteristically witty introduction to each of the stories, which were photographed on and near the French Riviera and include views of the gambling casino at Monte Carlo.

CARTHAGE NEWS

Miss Elizabeth Currie, Bride-Elect, Feted

Social activity in Carthage this week is centered around Miss Elizabeth Currie, whose marriage to Oscar LeRoy Shoenfelt, Jr., will take place in the Carthage Presbyterian church on July 26.

On Thursday, July 10, Mrs. M. G. Boyette and Miss Kay Boyette gave a luncheon for Miss Currie at Harold's in Sanford. An arrangement of all-white summer flowers centered the table and the honoree's place was marked with a corsage of yellow roses. A three-course luncheon was served Miss Currie, Mrs. John Hutchins, Mrs. Dudley Pendleton, Mrs. W. H. Currie, Mrs. Helen Moses, Mrs. L. R. Sugg, Mrs. E. S. Adams, Mrs. W. D. Sabiston and Misses Frances McKeithen, Jean McDonald, Ruth Douglas Currie and Carolyn Hall.

The hostesses presented Miss Currie with china in her chosen pattern.

Friday morning, Mrs. W. D. Sabiston and Mrs. L. R. Sugg entertained about 30 guests honoring Miss Currie at a coca-cola party at the home of Mrs. Sabiston. The honoree was presented a silver compote by Mrs. Sabiston and a silver butter knife by Mrs. Sugg.

Friday evening, Mrs. Joe Allen gave a bridge party at her home for the bride-elect. The guests made up four tables and after several progressions, Mrs. Dudley Pendleton was high score prize winner. Mrs. Allen presented Miss Currie an electric toaster. Ice cream topped with pineapple, bridal cakes, salted nuts and mints were served.

Miss Jean McDonald assisted by her mother, Mrs. Charles McDonald, gave a coca-cola party at her home Saturday morning honoring Miss Currie. Arrangements of summer flowers were used throughout the house. The bride-elect was presented a gift of silver in her chosen pattern.

Miss Currie was again honored Tuesday morning at a bridge luncheon given by Miss Frances McKeithen of Carthage and Mrs. Edwin McKeithen of Aberdeen at the home of Miss McKeithen. Arrangements of gladioli and summer flowers decorated the home. The honoree's place was marked with a purple-throated orchid corsage. Miss McKeithen presented the bride-elect with cake plates of hand painted Italian pottery and Mrs. McKeithen's gift to the honoree was a serving piece in sterling silver.

Guests with Miss Currie were Mrs. W. H. Currie, Misses Ruth Douglas, Ann and Kitty Currie, Mrs. Dudley Pendleton, Mrs. John Hutchins, Mrs. John Currie, Mrs. James Clawson, Mrs. Helen Moses, Mrs. Neill McK. Clegg, Mrs. L. R. Sugg, Misses Kay Boyette, Annie Margaret Brewer, and Jean McDonald, and Mrs. J. W. Blue of Southern Pines.

Mrs. Reid Pleasants invited about 25 guests to her home Tuesday evening to honor Miss Currie. A delightful musical program was given. Sandy Thomas played several piano selections, and vocal solos were given by Mrs. Dudley Pendleton, Mrs. LaVerne Womack, Mrs. Colin G. Spencer, Jr., and Miss Kitty Currie, accompanied by Mrs. L. R. Sugg and Mr. Thomas.

Mrs. Pleasants gave to the bride-elect crystal in her pattern. A dessert course of lime ice, bridal cakes, nuts and mints was served.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Colin G. Spencer gave a tea at her home in honor of Miss Currie. About 50 guests were present.

Mrs. John Hutchins and Miss Kitty Currie greeted the guests and directed them to the entrance where Mrs. Colin G. Spencer, Jr., introduced them to the bride-elect and Mrs. W. H. Currie. Miss Ann Currie directed the guests to the garden where they were seated for a program of music. Mrs. Dudley Pendleton, Mrs. LaVerne Womack, Mrs. Colin G. Spencer, Jr., and Miss Kitty Currie, accompanied by Mrs. L. R. Sugg, sang vocal solos. Miss Ruth Tyson played a selection on the piano. The guests were then invited into the dining room by Miss Frances McKeithen. The table was arranged with a centerpiece of white dahlias, snapdragons, pom-poms, and feverfew, flanked by tapers in silver candelabra. Mrs. John Currie served lime ice. Bridal cakes, salted nuts and mints were placed about the table.

Mrs. Dudley Pendleton and Miss Ruth Douglas Currie presided over the bride's register.

J. Frank Barfield, Carthage Native, Passes At Durham

J. Frank Barfield, native of Carthage who moved to Durham 35 years ago, and made a name for himself in business and in public service, died Sunday at Watts hospital there at the age of 60.

Mr. Barfield was a real estate auctioneer, operating out over a wide territory. He was successful in this field and famed for the colorful manner in which he conducted auctions. He also managed tobacco warehouses for a number of years.

He served 21 years on the Durham City Council, to which he was elected for his sixth four-year term in the spring of 1951, leading the ticket.

He was deeply interested in the welfare of unfortunate children, and contributed generously for their aid. He and the late O. B. Wagoner donated Northgate park to the City of Durham, and in recognition of this action the park's youth center was named for him.

He was an outstanding worker in the Presbyterian church and also a member of numerous fraternal organizations.

Funeral services were held Monday at the First Presbyterian church in Durham, with burial in Maplewood cemetery there.

Surviving are his wife, the former Helen Huff Rowe of Salisbury; one sister, Mrs. Arthur Hunt of Portsmouth, Va., and one brother, Charles R. Barfield, of Norfolk, Va.

Dates for the 1952 North Carolina State Fair, to be held at Raleigh, are October 14-18.
