

County Officers Nab Speeding Car With Liquor Load

Two Arrested After Fast Pursuit In Northern Moore

A chase which at times reached 95 miles per hour ended in the apprehension of two young Moore county men, with five gallons of "white likker" in their car, by officers of the law last Saturday morning.

Arrested after failing to elude their pursuers were Barley Leeton Williamson, 24, of Robbins Rt. 2, and Edward Norman Brown, 18 of Carthage Rt. 2.

Taken into custody was their 1940 Ford coupe, which, the officers said, led them a chase along NC Highway 27 in northern Moore at speeds ranging between 80 and 95 miles per hour.

Participating in the pursuit and final capture were ABC Officers C. A. McCallum and John K. Sharpe, Deputy Sheriff A. W. Lambert and Robbins Constable W. H. Hester.

Also seized was the "stump hole," in 10 half-gallon jars, which Williamson, who owned the car, said was his, not Brown's. The officers figured this was a matter for federal authorities to decide. They brought Williamson and Brown to Carthage and turned them over to ATU Agents Bill Ticklen and George Yutzky, who carried them before U. S. Commissioner J. A. Lang. Probable cause was found, and bond for each was set at $500 for their appearance at the September term of Middle District court at Rockingham.

RALPH LELAND CHANDLER

Ralph L. Chandler Retiring Today After 39 Years With Power Services

Long And Useful Career All Spent In One Community

Ralph Leland Chandler, manager here for the Carolina Power and Light company, and the son of the man who first brought electricity to the Sandhill section of North Carolina, is retiring today after 39 years in the power business. W. Ward Hill, who has been assistant district manager in Asheville, is succeeding Mr. Chandler effective today, August 1.

Ralph Chandler holds the unique distinction of having served his entire electrical career in one town.

He joined his father's power company in 1913, stayed on when the Sandhills Power company bought the business August 1, 1920, and remained in the business when Carolina Power & Light company acquired the Sandhills properties July 10, 1924.

He and his wife, the former Sammie Horne of Cordele, Ga., are looking forward to the comparative relaxation and freedom from the clock that retirement brings. Not that it will mean complete relaxation, because Mrs. Chandler has already mapped out a pretty good schedule of cleaning up, arranging, planting and yard-tending about their new home in Weymouth Heights.

Mr. Chandler is also planning to help their son, Ralph, Jr., with the Puroil distributorship in Southern Pines.

He was born in Michigan. The family moved to Southern Pines in December, 1894, when his father, I. F. Chandler, became interested in the fledgling resort center through an advertisement inserted in a northern newspaper by the Seaboard Air Line railroad. Then, as now, the railroad was trying to promote new business on its main line.

The elder Chandler built and operated a small factory to make wooden baskets for berries, peaches and grapes, which Sandhill farmers were beginning to grow on a large scale.

The tremendous amount of waste in this lumber operation prompted the owner to establish, about 1900, a steam plant for the making of electricity. Waste lumber was sufficient fuel to light the homes of Southern Pines for a few hours at night. Before long, neighboring towns were enjoying the novelty of electric lights, and expansion soon included electricity all day Monday so that people could do their ironing.

By the time I. F. Chandler sold his business to the Sandhills Power company in 1920, he had built three small hydro plants to meet the needs of the customers.

The Sandhills company served customers in Southern Pines, Aberdeen, Pinebluff, Lakeview, Vass, Cameron, Carthage, Raeford, Siler City, Bonlee, Goldston, and Liberty. Generating facilities included hydro plants at Carbon on Deep River, and Lobelia Plant and Lower Plant on Little River. A steam plant was located near the coal mine at Gulf.

Ralph Chandler came to his father's power business in 1913 after working fifteen years with the Seaboard railroad. He began his railroad career in Southern Pines September 1, 1898, as a clerk. He was the agent there from 1905 until 1908. The last five years of his Seaboard service were spent in Southern Georgia, where he met and married Mrs. Chandler.

Mr. Chandler is active in the religious and civic life of the community. He is treasurer of the First Baptist church and a past president of the Sandhills Kiwanis club, of which he is one of the first 25-year members in Southern Pines.

As a Mason, he has served some 25 years as treasurer of all York Rite bodies with headquarters here. These are Southern Pines Lodge No. 484, AF & AM; Southern Pines Chapter No. 16, Royal Arch Masons; Southern Pines Council No. 14, Royal and Select Masters, and Southern Pines Commandery No. 16 of Knights Templar.

He has also served in the past as presiding officer for all of these, has held several state Masonic offices and been presiding officer of two of the state organizations.

All-Star Aberdeen-Raeford Team In Little League Playoff Opener Tuesday

Big Turnout Seen For Baseball Event At Raeford

First game of the District 5 Little League playoff will be Tuesday at Raeford, it was announced by officials of the Aberdeen-Raeford league.

Taking part will be an all-star team chosen from the four teams of the Aberdeen-Raeford league, facing the Norwood all-stars. A flip of a coin decided where the game would be played. All participants in Little League baseball are in the 8-12 age group.

Hundreds of fans from Aberdeen, Raeford, Norwood and this area are expected to attend. The Raeford Chamber of Commerce is cooperating with officials of Robbins Mills (N. C.), Inc., and town officials to make it a big day for the visiting boys and fans. Stores in Raeford will be closed during the game and pre-game ceremonies. The Aberdeen-Raeford teams are sponsored by Robbins Mills and were fully equipped by the textile corporation.

Taking part on the pre-game program will be W. P. Saunders, Robbins president; Mayor Forrest Lockey of Aberdeen, Mayor W. L. Poole of Raeford; Neill A. McDonald, president of the Raeford chamber of commerce; and J. P. Bell, league president at Raeford.

There will be a flag-raising ceremony, speeches of welcome and other features. Efforts are being made to obtain a good band for the occasion.

Following the game the Raeford Chamber of Commerce will entertain all the boys, league officials and town officials at a supper after which a trophy will be presented to the winning team, and individual player awards in the Aberdeen-Raeford league will also be made.

Winner of the opening tournament game between the Aberdeen-Raeford all-stars and the Norwood team will play the winners of a playoff among three Durham Little League organizations in District 5.

Presumably, if the Aberdeen-Raeford team wins August 5, the game with the Durham team would be played at Aberdeen.

Auto Dealers Will Offer Free Rides On Election Day

Free transportation to the polls will be offered voters in this year's presidential election by new car dealers in nearly every community in America, in a non-partisan effort to turn out a record-breaking vote, it was announced here by F. H. Brown, area chairman of the North Carolina Automobile Dealers association.

Underlining the project's non-partisan nature will be the slogan: "Vote as you please—but vote!"

The project is sponsored nationally by the National Automobile Dealers association with which the North Carolina organization is affiliated.

near his parents', the Chandlers have a daughter, Mrs. Richard Tarlton of Fayetteville.

A conference of burley tobacco workers will be held near Waynesville, August 20-22.
