

The growing practice of cotton farmers to control insects as a regular part of their crop management program has been greatly increased by the recent development of new organic insecticides, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

West End 4-H Girl Wins Grand Prize At Poultry Show

Shirley Jenkins, a junior high school girl of West End, was the grand prize winner in the 4-H Chain chicken display at the annual Highfalls Poultry show held Saturday, with more than 600 persons in attendance. Her prize was $12 and a 100-pound bag of laying mash. Shirley's Grand Champion pullets were bought by L. F. Comer of the Victory Warehouse in Carthage at $3.50 per bird.

Red ribbon winners were Carolyn Lee, Carthage; Patsy McDonald, West End, and Earl Simpson, Vass. Prize, $9.

White ribbon winners numbered four: Roger McDonald, Cameron; Harold Fountain, West End; Kenneth Cooper, Cameron, and M. C. Graham, West End. Prize, $6.

In the general poultry exhibits, the following were winners, in the order given: Broilers—Fred Cloninger, L. B. Ritter, Robert McFayden. Layers—Mrs. Eli Maness. Pullets—Mrs. Peter Dowd, Mrs. Alice Ritter, John Caudill, Eggs—Mrs. Peter Dowd, Carl Comer.

During the morning session of the Poultry School and Show, held in the high school auditorium, three poultry specialists from State college spoke on various phases of chicken raising.

Dr. B. F. Cox discussed poultry diseases most common to this area and told of research work being done on the new chronic respiratory disease, in which seven states are participating and for which money has been provided from Washington.

C. F. Parrish discussed housing and the location of poultry buildings.

Poultry management was the theme of a talk by W. G. Andrews.

The audience asked timely questions which the specialists answered.

During the noon hour lunch, which was provided by the feed and commercial concerns serving the poultry growers, was served by one of the Highfalls churches.

Mr. Parrish and Mr. Andrews conducted the auction sale of 4-H pullets in the afternoon.

Visiting officials described the show and sale as one of the best they had seen in the state. It was sponsored by the Moore County Home Agent's office in Carthage.

One Court Case On Extra Long Docket Has Happy Ending

Principals In Counter Charges Walk Out Friends

Two defendants who entered Moore County recorders court Monday, having sworn out warrants against each other charging assault with a deadly weapon and threats, walked out friends and cleared their obligation to the State by sharing payment of the court costs.

This unusual situation developed in the cases of Fletcher Hussey, 27, and Paul Light, 31, both of Robbins. They both pleaded nolo contendere to the charges against them and Judge J. Vance Rowe, presiding at the regular weekly term of court, dismissed the cases upon payment of the costs when testimony developed that neither defendant had actually struck the other and that, as the judge noted, "they are friends and have no ill feeling toward each other."

The happy interlude of the Robbins cases came during a long session in which more than 30 defendants were called and which continued in session until about 7:30 Monday night. Liquor and traffic cases predominated.

Here is a summary of the proceedings:

Gilbert Lee Dunn and Furman Baster Newton, West End, careless and reckless driving and speeding 65 mph, joint fine of $40 and costs; Leland Daniels, Southern Pines speeding 65 mph, $15 and costs; Phillip Brown and Robert Alex McCallum, both of Jackson Springs—$10 fine for Brown who pleaded guilty to public drunkenness and $100 fine and costs and license revoked for McCallum who pleaded guilty to drunken driving.

Also Robert Marshall Bennett, Jackson Springs, careless and reckless driving, $25 and costs; Dan Hearn, Southern Pines, drunk and disorderly and threatening to do wife bodily harm, pleaded not guilty and found guilty of disorderly conduct, cursing and threatening wife to the extent that she and children found it necessary to leave home for their safety, three months on roads, suspended on condition that defendant be of good behavior for 12 months, pay the costs and live separately from wife and children for 12 months unless wife asks him in writing to come back; Ray Leonard Taylor, 18, Hillcrest charged with larceny of hubcaps from Phillips Motor company, Carthage, pleads guilty of "taking them without permission,"

Continued to October 6 was case of Gaston C. Comer, charged with carrying a concealed weapon; continued to Monday, James Ernest Mitchell, cursing; also Wayne Cook, charged with larceny, defendant in hospital this week; capias returnable Monday ordered in case of Marvin Owens, summoned for further order.

Men's Church Club And Guests Hear Holy Land Lecture

Dr. Howard F. Newman, pastor of Jonesboro Heights Presbyterian church in Sanford, was guest speaker at Tuesday night's dinner meeting of the Men's Fellowship club of Brownson Memorial Presbyterian church, which attracted a record-breaking attendance of more than 100 including members, their wives, and a few additional guests. The meeting was held in the fellowship hall of the church.

Paul Butler, president of the organization, presided, and after a blessing asked by the pastor, the Rev. C. K. Ligon, he introduced special guests. This was followed by a round of introductions, with each husband giving his own name and presenting his wife.

During a very brief business session the men decided to again sponsor a series of revival services in the church, to be held this fall.

At the end of the three-course dinner, A. L. Burney, program chairman, recognized Mrs. Newman and presented Dr. Newman as speaker. Dr. Newman complimented the organization on the wonderful leadership and talent in the group.

Dr. and Mrs. Newman are just back from a year spent abroad, during which he studied at the University of Edinburgh and the two traveled through the British Isles, in Egypt and Palestine. While in Palestine they made many pictures in color, some of which the speaker showed with a running commentary that was most instructive and interesting.

The slides selected for Tuesday night's program, Dr. Newman explained, depicted two things: what is happening in Palestine today, and the life of Christ.

The first series showed places in northern Palestine, now known as Israel, homeland of the Jews, who, since the year 70 A. D. have been dreaming of having a homeland of their own—a dream realized in 1948 when Israel was established. In this Palestine series were other pictures in the southern part, or Jordan, occupied by the Arabs, and the speaker discussed the crowded conditions existing there since many of these people were driven from Israel.

The second part of his program presented slides of numerous places about which all students of the Bible have read, and the familiar stories dealing with the life of Christ were made to come alive as their settings were shown in beautiful colors.

Mrs. Lewis McNeill played the accompaniments for several songs sung during the evening.

The dinner was served by girls of the Youth Fellowship in cooperation with some of the women of the church.

FOOTBALL

Third Quarter
Both teams fought hard during the third quarter, but no great gains were made.

Fourth Quarter
Southern Pines kicked to Rowland. Rowland brought the ball up to their own 15-yard line. Here they stayed for two more plays, then they tried a punt. Huntley, for Southern Pines, went through and blocked the kick. He then picked up the ball and went on a 15-yard run for a touchdown. Tommy Ruggles was again called on to boot the extra point. His kick was good and the score went to 36-0 in favor of the Blue and White.

Ruggles then kicked for Southern Pines and Fraizer, a fast boy with his legs, brought the ball to the 40-yard line before being brought down by Donald VanBenschoten and "Little Tank" Smith. Rowland then tried his pass offense with a gain of 20 yards. Then on a run around right end, the Rowland man was hit hard and a fumble was the result. Southern Pines took over from here. Sending Jim Humphries out on the flank, the Blue and White still rolled on at full steam. Humphries took a pass on the 40-yard line and raced to the Rowland 10 before being brought down. Then Southern Pines took to the air again with good results. A pass from the 10 was taken by George Morrison who ran it over for another Southern Pines tally. Then Woodruff limbered up his passing arm again to find Morrison once more. Morrison carried through a charging line to make the score 43-0.

Southern Pines kicked off and was met by charging Fraizer of Rowland, who ran the ball back 35 yards before being stopped by Humphries. Rowland then started its aerial work again, and this

In and Out of Town

Mrs. Paul Fitanides and son, Philip, returned Sunday after spending the summer at Ogunquit, Maine. On the way down they stopped for a week's visit to Philip's godmother, Mrs. Jean Kaniolu, in Forest Hills, Long Island, N. Y., and while there Philip celebrated his ninth birthday. Mr. Fitanides will join his family here next Monday, to open his shoe repair shop for the season.

Mrs. J. H. Towne has returned to her home on Morganton road after spending the summer in New York City.

Mrs. Roy Grinnell of Clarksville, Va., spent several days this time it clicked. A 30-yard pass was good for the first and only score for Rowland. Rowland attempted the kick for extra points, but it was blocked by Menzel and Humphries. The score then stood at 43-6.

Rowland's kick was taken by Humphries up to the 28-yard line. Then "Little Tank" Smith took over to bring the ball up to the Rowland 25-yard line. Woodruff then scooted through center to bring the "pigskin" up to the 2-yard line of Rowland. Smith was once again called on to deliver the goods and did so in true gridiron fashion. Plowing from the 2-yard line, Smith scored to put Southern Pines ahead 49-6. Ruggles' kick was good and the score rose to 51-6.

Southern Pines had then reached the mark past 45 and could either choose to play or not. Southern Pines chose to discontinue play, so the game ended with a score of 51-6.

Special commendation should be given to the members of the squad who played line for Southern Pines. Some of the hardest charging was done Wednesday that has been seen since the days of Baker and Copley.

Morrison, Bailey, Warren, Lutetz, Bowers and VanBenschoten did a wonderful job on offensive line work for the Blue and White. Keep it up, boys.

Next week, Southern Pines takes the field to face Aberdeen. A good game is expected.

week as the guest of Mrs. Jean Edson.
