Medical Bills Haven't Kept Pace, Say Physicians

To create a better understanding of one of the major causes of patient-doctor misunderstanding, "the cost of illness," North Carolina physicians are now distributing a new pamphlet titled "Your Money's Worth in Health," says Dr. James P. Bowen, president of the Moore County Medical society.

Despite what some folks may think, medical bills haven't gone up as far, or as fast, as the cost of bread, milk, fuel and other family necessities. Actually, the booklet points out, your doctor is getting a decreasing share of your medical dollar. While most family expenses have been shooting up sharply, physicians' fees have risen only moderately, and the pamphlet shows graphically that cost of illness has not risen as much or as rapidly as other consumer goods.

The fact that supportive medical care in general has gone up is pointed out in "Your Money's Worth in Health," but medical care includes many things besides your doctor's services; many things which are more readily affected by increased costs, such as laundry, drugs, food items and equipment for the hospital. Ask your local physician for a copy of this illustrated eight-page pamphlet, "Your Money's Worth in Health," as prepared by the American Medical Association. If your doctor's supply is exhausted additional copies are available through the State Medical Society Office in Raleigh.

Student Council Enlists Mothers In Social Program

Around 15 mothers of high school students accepted an invitation to meet with the Southern Pines Student Council last Thursday in the elementary school library, the object of which was to enlist the mothers in helping with recreation plans during the winter season.

The students have been offered the use of the Southern Pines Country Club once each month for school functions, and the mothers of the high school group are being asked to sponsor and supervise these social meetings.

Billy Huntley, president of the student council, and Supt. A. C. Dawson explained the plans, briefly, to the mothers, who were happy to cooperate, and chose Mrs. W. T. Huntley, Jr., mother of the student council president, as their leader in this service.

First in the series of monthly parties will be a celebration around Halloween, and mothers who attended the meeting are requesting that other mothers of high school students volunteer to help. They may get in touch with Mrs. Huntley.

The students served cookies and coca-colas.

In addition to Billy Huntley, members of the student council are: Joe Merley, vice president; Carolyn Hoskins, recording secretary; Dorothy Newton, corresponding secretary; Mark J. King, III, senior class representative; Charles Bowman, Jr., junior class representative; Patty Woodell, sophomore class representative; Jackie Davenport, freshman class representative. Miss Polly Miller is faculty adviser.

Approximately 15 million pine tree seedlings are available to Tar Heels for planting this fall and winter.

Nothing To Brag About

We Americans have many things to be proud of, but our voting record isn't one of them. In Europe, particularly since the war, people seem to value the franchise more than we do here—perhaps because, since they lost their freedom during enemy occupation, they appreciate it now that they have it again.

In our last Presidential election, only 54 of every 100 eligible voters cast ballots. Yet in a recent Italian election, 94 out of 100 voted. A Dutch election drew 89 per cent, and in Great Britain 83 per cent voted. Sweden, Norway, Denmark and France each held elections in which 78 per cent or more of the eligible voters cast ballots.

August Paving

The State Highway Commission completed 3.2 miles of new paving in Moore county during the month of August, Commissioner

George S. Coble reported.

The newly paved surface runs on a county road from Highfalls east 3.2 miles toward Glendon road at the talc mine for a distance of 3.2 miles.

The Sixth Highway division brought a total of 43 miles of road work to completion during August, Commissioner Coble revealed.
