

Colonial Williamsburg Announces Special Rates For School Children

Reduced rates of admission and special arrangements for school groups studying in this "living laboratory" of early American history have been announced by Colonial Williamsburg (Va.) for the annual "winter session" from October 1 to March 15.

Notices of the special school tour provisions currently are going out to more than 2,500 principals and teachers in North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland, according to J. Neville McArthur, director of school activities for Colonial Williamsburg, the non-profit educational organization carrying forward the 18th century restoration of this one-time colonial capital city.

The special group rate for school students has been reduced to 25c per person covering an escorted tour of four historic exhibition buildings during the special school season from October 1 to March 15. Also provided for visiting classroom groups are free materials, books and publications for loan use and rental films and color slide sets on the city and its history for advance school use to integrate the tours with classroom study of pre-revolutionary life and events.

In the past year more than 30,000 school children in groups toured the area here which has been accurately returned to the way it looked in George Washington's day. The groups last year came from schools in 28 different states as part of the growing trend towards supplementing textbook study with visitations to sites of historic and cultural interest.

In Williamsburg, the groups start their tours at the Reception Center, where they are shown a short program summarizing early American history and Williamsburg's role in the movement that resulted in the Declaration of Independence.

Among the historic buildings visited are the Capitol where such patriots as Patrick Henry and Thomas Jefferson called on the colonists to defy the tyranny of Britain; the Magazine, arsenal of the Virginia Colony which touched off the Revolution in Virginia; the Gaol or prison where Blackbeard's pirates were confined; the Governor's Palace, elaborate mansion built for the royal governors of Virginia; and 18th century craft shops where skilled craftsmen use the tools and techniques of two centuries ago.

The special school season program was established several years ago to permit more school groups to take advantage of the historical resources of this restored colonial city during the winter months when specially arranged tours and other aids can be provided, McArthur stated.

Book Club

Mrs. S. A. Worsley entertained the members of the Walter Hines Page Book club at the first meeting of the new club year. Mrs. J. Vance Rowe, president, presided over the business session during which reports of the different committees were given. Mrs. E. M. Medlin, chairman of the program committee, introduced the theme of the year, after which the new year books were distributed. Mrs. Karl Pohl gave an interesting talk on "Walt Whitman." During the social hour books were exchanged. The hostess served a sweet course with coffee.

Bridge Club

Mrs. David Hobbs was hostess to the Thursday evening Bridge club in her home on North Poplar street, with two tables in play. After several progressions had been played and scores tallied prizes were awarded to Mrs. Jack Tribble, club high, and Mrs. C. D. McGowan, guest. The hostess served a sweet course with coffee and tea before play began, and cokes during play. Those playing were: Mrs. W. H. McNeill, Jr., Mrs. Flo Baird, Mrs. W. P. Whitlock, Mrs. Sid Taylor, Mrs. James Veasey, Mrs. Ralph Leach, Jr., Mrs. Jack Tribble, and Mrs. C. D. McGowan.

A Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. David E. Cole of Fort Worth, Texas, are the parents of a daughter, Laurie Dianne, born August 31, according to news reaching here. Mrs. Cole is the former Dorothy Willis.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson and daughter have been spending some time visiting Mrs. Johnson's parents Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Harrington. Dr. Johnson has recently completed his service in the Army.

Mrs. G. C. Seymour is now able to receive visitors. Lewis Harrington Jr. has returned from a stay of several days in Fayetteville.

Miss Shirley Wood of Fayetteville was the weekend guest of Miss Mary Lou and Elaine Cameron.

Mrs. Curtis McLeod was a recent visitor in the home of Mrs. M. B. Pleasants.

Sam Swearingen has returned to San Diego, California, after spending several days visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Swearingen, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Marks attended the Marks reunion in Norman recently.

Mrs. J. L. Gwyn of Mt. Airy was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Gwyn for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Townsend

Mr. and Mrs. J. Talbot Johnson left Wednesday for Franklin, Va., where they spent several days visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allport, and small daughter, Anne. Mr. Johnson celebrated his birthday there on Thursday. From Franklin, they will drive to Rochester, N. Y., for a visit to their other daughter, Mrs. Wescott Burlingame, and children, Leslie Jean and Westy. Mr. Johnson will return home by train from Rochester, while Mrs. Johnson continues on by car to Boston, Mass., where she will visit relatives.

WHAT ABOUT THE DOWN COW?

Q: What causes cows to go down?

A: There are several causes; among them are leukemia, acetone, milk fever, "hardware disease", and nutritional deficiencies. Or the trouble may stem from fractured bones, nerve injuries and various poisons from infections and food sources.

Q: Are these diseases very deadly?

A: Most of them can prove fatal.

Q: What should the owner do if a cow goes down?

A: His first step should be to call a veterinarian, so the trouble can be diagnosed and corrective treatment started. While waiting for professional help it's a good idea to cover the cow with warm, heavy blankets, because in most of these cases the cow's temperature usually drops. This is especially true of milk fever. Keeping her warm helps her chance for recovery. Do not try to move the cow as it may lead to further injury and complications.

Q: Is there any advance warning that a cow is about to go down?

A: In milk fever, the cow often looks dull and doesn't like to move around. In leukemia, there may be a swelling of the lymph glands in the neck, general weakness, loss of appetite and a wasting away. "Hardware disease" is marked by a loss of appetite, grunting and other symptoms.

Q: How successful is treatment?

A: It depends on the individual case and how quickly treatment is started. Modern techniques are now saving many down cows which would have been considered hopeless cases a few years ago.

THEATRES

Carolina

Engrossing entertainment along a somewhat different tract with a mighty competent cast, consisting of Shelly Winters, Ricardo Montalban, Wendell Corey and Claire Trevor, is offered in "My Man And I," continuing through Friday (tonight) and Saturday, at 8:15 p. m., with a Saturday matinee at 3. It is a powerfully acted, realistically and sympathetically directed drama of human relations and emotions which will impress audiences with, perhaps, the exception of those who want nothing but swift action. It is a highly interesting and off-the-beaten-path story about the migrant Mexican workers in the San Joaquin valley in California among whom is Ricardo Montalban, who values very highly his American citizenship papers signed by the President.

Alive with rugged action and high spirited adventure that has long been associated with stories of plunder and piracy on the fabled Spanish Main, Paramount's exciting thriller "Caribbean" comes to the Carolina theatre. Sunday through Wednesday, September 28-October 1 at 8:15 p. m. with matinees Sunday and Tuesday at 3.

Gloriously filmed in color by Technicolor and glittering with a cast of top-flight stars that include John Payne, lovely Arlene Dahl, Sir Cedric Hardwicke and Francis L. Sullivan, it easily rates with such great sea epics as "Mutiny On The Bounty" and "Two Years Before The Mast." It is an adventure drama that and children of Laurinburg visited Mrs. C. C. Bethune recently. Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Clark spent a week's vacation at their home in York, South Carolina.

Among the out of town guests who came to the Page Memorial Methodist Church homecoming were the church's first pastor, the Rev. W. H. Brown, and Mrs. Brown of Jackson Springs, and its first organist, Miss Margaret Morris of Gastonia. Other guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weaver and Harold Weaver of Raleigh, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Fields and family of Star, Mrs. Robah Fields and family of Greensboro. Mrs. Charles Little and family of Raleigh, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Burney of Southern Pines, Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Burns, and Dr. E. Ray Burns of Chapel Hill, and the Rev. and Mrs. L. M. Hall of Red Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Talbot Johnson left Wednesday for Franklin, Va., where they spent several days visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allport, and small daughter, Anne. Mr. Johnson celebrated his birthday there on Thursday. From Franklin, they will drive to Rochester, N. Mr. Johnson will return home by train from Rochester, while Mrs. Johnson continues on by car to Boston, Mass., where she will visit relatives.

has something picturesque doing every minute of the time. Sir Cedric Hardwicke as the pirate chief and Francis L. Sullivan, his one-time partner who sold him into slavery, kidnapping his wife and daughter, live up to their splendid reputations, and Arlene Dahl, never more beautiful, acts with spirit and, in the softer scenes, with charm.

Starting Thursday night, October 2, at 8:15 p. m. is the re-issue of "Samson and Delilah" with Hedy Lamarr and Victor Mature.

Bethesda Church Homecoming Plans Now Completed

Sunday, September 28, bids fair to be another red letter day in the long history of Old Bethesda church.

On this day her sons and daughters will make their annual pilgrimage back to the old sanctuary whose history dates back to 1790. What promises to be an interesting program has been arranged for the day.

At 11:15 a. m. the morning service will start with the Rev. John D. McLeod delivering the homecoming sermon. During this service a chorus from the Flora MacDonald college glee club will sing two selections.

At the noon hour the usual picnic dinner will be spread on the tables in the grove. Those attending are asked not to forget to bring well-filled baskets.

At 2:15, the afternoon service will begin. A male chorus of 16 or more Sandhill voices will sing some of the old-time songs. This feature of the program will likely prove one of the high-lights of the day. It has been suggested that this male chorus may develop into another permanent "Sandhill Sixteen," a name famous in these parts years ago.

The address of the afternoon session will be delivered by E. T. McKeithen, who a few weeks ago returned from a tour of England and Scotland, will speak on the subject: "The Development of Christianity in Scotland."

General chairman of the 1952 homecoming is H. Clifton Blue. The grounds committee is composed of M. B. Pleasants, W. T. Matthews and Elbert Garner. The water and coffee committee is composed of Jack Smith, Ben Wicks and Gordon Keith. John Sloan heads the special music committee.
