

Flora MacDonald Presents Noteworthy Attractions On Concert-Lecture Series

Five outstanding attractions remain on the list for the 1952-53 concert-lecture series at Flora Macdonald college, Red Springs. The first event, a concert by the Reginald Kell Players, an instrumental quartet, was held Monday night.

All the programs take place in the college auditorium. Single tickets, or season tickets at a considerable saving, are available.

Ania Dorfman, Russian pianist, will be the next attraction, presenting a concert of classical music November 17.

John Jacob Niles, folksinger, will be presented December 9 in selections from his vast repertoire of American folk music, collected by himself, and sung to the accompaniment of his dulcimer.

The Salzburg Marionettes, the world's most celebrated marionette theatre, will be seen February 20. The permanent ensemble consists of 700 marionettes and puppets. While their specialty is Mozart, their programs include operas, plays and fairy tales, all accompanied by the full Salzburg Mozarteum orchestra.

Ogden Nash, famed humorist and rhymester, will give a lecture March 10. His stage personality is said to be as delightful as his poetry.

Jean-Jacques Servan Schreiber, foreign affairs analyst for a Paris newspaper and contributing columnist to the N. Y. Herald-Tribune, Washington Post and other leading American papers, will speak April 24.

Special Offered On Commissions In Marine Corps

T/Sgt. John G. Smith, of the local Marine Corps recruiting station, announced this week that Raleigh area college graduates and seniors will have an opportunity to earn commissions in the Marine Corps this spring.

By February 20, 1953, the expanding Marine Corps will enroll a total of 800 officer candidates, said Sergeant Smith. Candidates will begin their training on March 12, 1953 at the Marine Corps schools, Quantico, Va.

Married or single college graduates between 20 and 27 years old are eligible. Seniors who will graduate at the end of the current semester also are eligible, but must apply before the February 20 deadline.

Married men will receive family allowances as soon as their candidate training begins.

Candidates completing the 10-week training course will be commissioned in the Marine Corps Reserve. Following this they will receive five additional months specialized officers' training, also at the Quantico base, which is located 35 miles south of Washington, D. C.

Sergeant Smith said that the necessary application forms are available at the recruiting station at Raleigh. He stated that it would be advisable for prospective candidates to apply as soon as possible.

It was also announced that members of Marine Corps Reserve units may apply if they meet the requirements.
