

Bennett Will Be Speaker At Farm Bureau Meeting

Many Problems of Tobacco Growers Will Be Taken Up

R. R. Bennett, tobacco specialist with the N. C. State Extension Service, will be the guest speaker at the first 1953 meeting of the Moore County Farm Bureau, to be held Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the court house in Carthage. Cards will not be sent out but all farmers and their friends are invited to attend the meeting, according to the announcement from T. C. Auman, West End, Farm Bureau president. The program has been arranged with the cooperation of E. H. Harrison, Jr., county farm agent, who said it is designed to bring to growers much new information about tobacco. Mr. Bennett's talk will touch on such subjects as plant beds, varieties for planting, tobacco diseases and insect control. Several new varieties are out which growers should know about, Mr. Garrison said. Also, with the troubles farmers suffered during the past year, they will want the latest information on control of Black Shank, soil treatment for Root Knot, etc. Mr. Bennett will endeavor to provide the answers for many of the growers' problems at the meeting.

A minimum of $15,000 capital is needed by a young couple starting a small tobacco farm in North Carolina, a study made by N. C. State College indicates.

Of tobacco growers voting in the recent burley referendum on November 22, 98.5 per cent asked for quotas. In North Carolina, 8,565 growers cast votes.

Living From Heart

Lesson for January 4, 1953

WHEN YOU are studying a foreign language for the first time, one of the "humps" is learning the vocabulary. It's dull but necessary. You can't know the rules of grammar down to the last footnote; you can pronounce the words "like a native;" but if you don't know what the words mean, you are sunk. All this is just as true in trying to understand the Bible as it is in understanding anything else.

"Heart" Means Many Things

The Bible word "heart" is one of those that can be easily misunderstood. It speaks often of the heart. "Out of it are the issues of life," says the Prophet (Prov. 4:23). "These people honor me with their lips, but their heart is far from me," says the prophet Isaiah. Jesus says that it is what comes from a man's heart that makes him unclean. What, exactly, does "heart" mean, in the Bible? It could mean a number of things that it does not mean.

It is seldom used, in the Bible, in the literal sense of the physical organ that pushes the blood around. No ancient peoples knew the true physiology of the heart. Also, the Bible writers seldom, if ever, use the word in our common figurative sense of emotion, or the emotional life. If we today say that a certain person's heart rules his head, we mean by that, that his intellect is not as strong as his feelings. A smart and unscrupulous lawyer, addressing a jury, will say (as he might say) "go for their hearts, not for their heads." That is, he expects them to be swayed by prejudice and emotion, not by the facts in the case. But this too is not the Bible meaning of "heart." Certainly it is never balanced off against the mind or the intellect.

Bible Meaning of "Heart" Even in modern times, with all our passion for scientifically accurate terms, there is no one word which means just what this word "heart" means in the Bible. There the heart stands for the center of the personality as a whole. If we used such words as "core" or "root" or "mainspring" of life, we should be getting at the idea. It is not emotional, though it affects the emotions. It is not intellectual, though it lies back of thinking. It does not quite mean character, rather it means the taproot of character.

Let us try to illustrate it. Tell the same piece of news to several people—say the report of some accident or disaster, and see how they react. One will be quite indifferent, one will burst into tears, another will laugh, another will say "Can't we do something to help?" Now what makes the difference? All have heard the same news, but the words have different effects. In Bible language, the heart is that they have different hearts. The inner makes us think deeper than what we see or the ears hear, than the brain, it lies at the bottom of the feeling.

Bible speaks of a heart that is not speaking, that acts or talks or feels, that means the way that we live.

God Sees Through Hypocrisy If there was a person for whom you cared whatever, it would be a hypocrite is someone who has learned the fine art of circuiting his own heart with a smile on his face and a water faucet that feels like smoke because he is not for; he will think another's actions, language, more related to himself than to a circus.
