Shirley Thwing Good Guesser, Wins Diamond

Shirley Thwing, Southern Pines High School student, made a good guess and as a result was the winner this week of a diamond ring.

The ring was given by Ormsby Jewelry store for the nearest correct guess as to the number of nails in a glass jar in the store window. The jar, it was revealed, contained 519 nails. Shirley's guess was 525, just six nails off. Miss Irene Wilson came the next nearest with 512.

The contest was on for about two weeks and 325 entries were received, said John Ormsby, proprietor.

The Public Speaking

To The Pilot:

Upon opening my Pilot this morning my attention was called to the editorial "Production Managers for the President," and my first impression was one of amusement, but was quickly followed in a greater degree with pity for the writer.

The "amusement" came from the fact that the writer showed that he was still harboring the disappointment, that the people all over the United States showed so plainly by their action that Eisenhower was the man that they wanted, and is still showing that preference.

The "pity" was caused by the fact, that anyone allowed to write the editorial was so ignorant of all the splendid progress already made by our beloved President when one realizes the terrible condition the country is in from the administration of the last 20 years.

Either the writer was entirely ignorant of what has been done, or has such a narrow point of view, the only criticism he could make was regarding the difference in the snarling voice of Truman, and the friendly voice of Eisenhower. Did he not recognize the splendid calibre of the men in the high positions included in the talks we listened to that evening, and the information given in such a manner to the public, who like himself might not understand just what was being done?

I could go on and on, but may I suggest that the writer take up any magazine, or any newspaper with views Democratic or Republican, and he will find that all over the United States the people are strong for Eisenhower and the manner he is handling the deplorable situation that was handed him; what I fear will surprise him is the fact that it is the Democrats that are doing fully as much to help him carry out his ideas as the Republicans.

Interestedly,
—(Mrs.) FLORENCE M. GRAFF.

Judge Phillips Postpones Hearing In Zoning Case

Hearing in the Pinebluff zoning case, Town of Pinebluff vs. Candis E. and Odes M. Spurlin, has been indefinitely postponed by Superior Court Judge F. Don Phillips, according to notice received by attorneys in the case from the resident district judge this week.

The hearing was originally set for Saturday, June 27, to be held in Judge Phillips' chambers at Rockingham. The judge postponed it last week to Saturday, July 4, and this week sent word he would have to be out of town on that date and did not know when he could conduct the hearing.

The Town of Pinebluff is seeking a mandatory writ compelling the Spurlins to remove a house trailer from a lot which they own in the town's residential section, on the grounds that the trailer is there in violation of the town's restrictive zoning ordinance.
