a church-going boy who had never drunk beer or liquor, and that he would like to go in the Army if given another chance.

Expressing the hope that he would do so, Judge Rudisill did not place him on probation, which would have ended his chance at service, but gave him an 18-months' road sentence suspended for three years on good behavior conditions, with payment of costs by September 15. If this deadline were not met, said the judge, capias and commitment would follow. The defendant had already made restitution of the stolen money.

Road sentences went also to two teen-age boys, 19-year-old twins, named Ed and David Vanhoy, also an older man, George Collins, who pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the Phillips Motor Co. used car lot at Carthage and stealing a quantity of auto parts and accessories. On testimony by Carthage Police Chief J. W. Joyce, SBI Agent Lowdermilk, and Newland Phillips, of the motor company, sentences were meted as follows: David Vanhoy, 10 months; Ed Vanhoy, eight months; George Collins, who had not actually entered the used car lot—the boys got inside and threw the stolen goods to him over the fence—six months.

They admitted to having done this twice, stealing a couple of wheels with tires, also two batteries which they sold for 90 cents, but Phillips said deprecations had been going on "for more than a year" at the lot, and hundreds of dollars' worth of material had vanished.

No True Bill

No true bill was found against Woodrow Flowers of Carthage on an auto-larceny charge, but he received six months on the roads for careless and reckless driving and drunken driving, after appealing from a recorder's court judgment of 60 days or $125 and costs.

Bigamy Conviction

A blue-eyed, baby-faced girl of 17, looking like a high school sophomore, was sentenced to 18 months in prison for bigamous cohabitation, in the closing hours of court Thursday. She was Shirley Galyean Brady, formerly of Aberdeen, who last December 28 married Harry Brady of Carthage, now serving with the U. S. Navy in Korea.

Sentenced at the same time to 18 months on the roads was a 24-year-old Carthage man, Lester G. Doby, who admitted having married her in Dillon, S. C., August 10. Doby recently returned to Carthage following an 18 months' sentence for breaking and entering. Officers said he had also served time in prison.

Arrested and jailed Monday, indicted Tuesday by the grand jury, the couple pleaded guilty as charged, offering no statement in defense of their felonious action. Judge Rudisill brushed aside their attorney's pleas for a continuance on the ground that they had had no time to prepare for trial, and made plain his indignation at their treatment of "that boy in Korea." When he asked, "Do you think that was fair to him?" the girl only hung her head.

Carthage Chief John W. Joyce testified that he had stopped Doby's car for a traffic violation, and to check his driver's license. He asked Doby who the young lady was in the car and was informed "That is my wife." At the same time, he said, Doby whipped out a marriage certificate from a pocket in the car. This certificate of the Dillon marriage, also that of the girl's marriage to Brady, secured from the navyman's family, were exhibited in the case.

Doby admitted to being married also to someone else, but said he had separated from his wife, and that she was living in Sanford.

In sentencing the pair, Judge Rudisill ordered the clerk to send a copy of the judgment to the proper authorities to stop the gov-
