Sportsmanship, Courtesy May Save Life As Hunting Begins Thanksgiving Day

'Ten Commandments' For Safety Listed By County Agent

If you are one of the thousands that will join the ranks of game hunters this week, it will pay you to remember that sportsmanship and courtesy may save a life—"maybe yours," says E. H. Garrison, Moore County farm agent. Mr. Garrison says the first rule in good sportsmanship is to "ask the farmer's permission whether the land is posted or not. No one likes to have his fall and winter crops damaged by persons tramping through soft fields."

Second, and just as important, he says, is for all hunters to remember that three causes lead to two-thirds of all hunting accidents: (1) humans in line of fire, (2) mistaking humans for game, and (3) hunting with the safety catch off.

Sportsmanship is just good manners, says Mr. Garrison. It is common sense in handling guns, plus consideration for others. It means also the use of the right gun for the right game, hunting only in season and taking the limit only if he can use the meat or the trophies. For bird hunting, the true sportsman takes a trained dog to retrieve cripples. He puts out cigarettes and campfires carefully, breaks matches before dropping them and, in other ways, uses his head.

Mr. Garrison recommends the following "ten commandments" for safety in hunting:

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun.
2. Carry only empty guns taken down with the action open into your auto, camp and home.
3. Always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstructions.
4. Carry a gun so that you can always, under all circumstances, control the direction of the muzzle.
5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.
6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot.
7. Never leave your gun unattended unless you unload it first.
8. Never climb a tree or fence with a loaded gun; lay it down.
9. Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water.
10. Do not try to mix gunpowder and alcohol.

Open season for rabbits, quail and wild turkey begins Thursday to run through January 3. Deer season, which opened October 15, runs to January 1.

All the nearly 100 lakes in Western North Carolina are artificial. The largest is Fontana in the Great Smokies, covering 10,800 acres.

Bragg Chapels Join In Making Korean Offering

All Chapels at Fort Bragg are joining in making a non-denominational offering to Korean War Orphans as part of their Thanksgiving worship.

In this annual endeavor to aid others, the Chapel congregations at Fort Bragg sent over $1,000 in 1951 and $800 in '52. Such articles as baby blankets, jackets, sweaters, socks, baby booties and trousers were purchased in Japan and distributed in Korea directly by Army Chaplains to the orphanages.

In addition, Fort Bragg, the Home of the Airborne, recently was the scene of a clothing drive for its former commanding general, Maj. Gen. Thomas F. Hickey's, present command in Korea.

Christmas Show At Planetarium Opens

"Star of Bethlehem," most popular of all Morehead Planetarium programs, began on Tuesday, November 24 and will continue through January 4, at Chapel Hill. The combined religious, scientific and historic nature of this presentation has, in past years, attracted visitors from near and far.

Performances will be given at 8:30 every evening in the week and in the afternoons on Saturdays at 3 and 4, and on Sundays at 2, 3 and 4 p. m. Presentations for school children which must be arranged in advance, will be on Wednesdays at 2:00 p. m. and on Thursdays at 11:00 a. m. and 2:00 p. m.

A stirred custard is done when it coats the spoon; longer cooking will not thicken it but will cause it to curdle.

Tobacco Export Prospect Better, Hutson Reveals

The export prospect for U. S. flue-cured tobacco has shown improvement in recent months, J. B. Hutson, president of Tobacco Associates, Inc., said last week.

Discussing the tobacco situation with growers at a conference held in connection with the N. C. Farm Bureau annual meeting in Raleigh Hutson said that "during the first eight months of this calendar year, exports were 59 million pounds, or nearly 30 percent above the corresponding period last year."

However, he added that "domestic consumption for the same period has shown a small decline, with cigarette production about two percent below the annual average of recent years." This change in trend was attributed in part to the shift to king-size smokes.

A substantial part of the increase in exports, the farm leader explained, was due to "the purchase of tobacco by the United Kingdom from the Flue-cured Stabilization Corporation in the early part of this year." This tobacco, taken from the 1952 crop, was being held under option by Stabilization. At the same time, Hutson added that "export prospects, generally, are favorable in most of the world markets."

North Carolina, bounded by four states and the Atlantic Ocean, has a 1,296 mile border—along Virginia 322.5 miles, Tennessee 255 miles, Georgia 68.5 miles, South Carolina 325 miles, and the Atlantic Ocean, also 325 miles.

There are 131 varieties of trees in the Great Smoky Mountains of North Carolina, of which 25 attain larger size there than anywhere else.

North Carolina is the only state with an even 100 counties. Six states have more: Texas 254, Georgia 159, Kentucky 120, Missouri 114, Kansas 105 and Illinois 102. At the other extreme, Rhode Island has no counties at all.
