Book Club Discusses Travel Volumes At Thursday Meeting

Travel books offered a wide field for discussion at the March meeting of the Thursday Morning Book Club. The meeting began with a few members discussing, panel style, "Black and White," travel in Africa by Flavin, a Pulitzer Prize winning novelist. Flavin's cynical humor about the civilizing process in the Belgian Congo was emphasized.

From this book to "North From Malaya," by Douglas, seemed a natural continuation of the discussion of subjugated peoples, this time in Asia. There was a timely exchange of ideas on France in Indo-China and the Communist danger that the author finds on "five fronts" in the course of his travels.

"Enchanted Vagabonds" by Lamb and Cleveland presented many thrilling adventures for conversation, including drums heard but non-existent.

After malaria and ticks, thirst and hunger, trips up crocodile-infested rivers and deep down into gold mines, one member stated that she was glad she had gone back to the old days to take a peaceful trip with Robert Louis Stevenson in his "Travels with a Donkey" in a lovely part of France. Some of the group felt that Stevenson's philosophy of life might well be adopted by our tense competitive world.

Coffee and a fire were enjoyed until the sun came out unexpectedly and windows had to be opened. Miss Amy Churchill, former librarian and friend of the Book Club, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Chester Churchill, and a friend, Mrs. Margaret L. Wallace, were welcomed as guests.

The next meeting will be April 22, Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, in the Civic Club. The topic will be: Modern Writers and Modern Problems.

MRS. SWAIN HUNTER NORMAN STEPHENSON

MISS KATHERINE BOYETTE IS BRIDE OF MR. STEPHENSON IN CARTHAGE CEREMONY

Officiating for the Saturday afternoon wedding of Miss Katherine Kelly Boyette and Swain Hunter Norman Stephenson of Halifax in the First Presbyterian Church in Carthage was the Rev. William S. Golden.

The wedding music was presented by Mrs. L. R. Sugg, organist, and Miss Carolyn Hall of Carthage, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a French rosepoint lace gown fashioned with a sheer yoke applied in off-shoulder effect. Over the floor length skirt was a separate court train. Her chapel length veil of bridal illusion edged in French lace was attached to a seed pearl bonnet. She carried an old-fashioned nosegay of white roses, lilies of the valley and stephanotis, centered with a white orchid and showered with satin streamers.

The bride had as her only attendant her sister, Mrs. Young Allen, Jr., of Rowland, as matron of honor. She wore a ballerina length dress of aqua taffeta with matching head dress, and carried a spray of pink camellias.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, William Turner Stephenson, Jr., of Roanoke Rapids, as best man. Young H. Allen, Jr., of Rowland and John Barnes of Greensboro, brothers-in-law of the bride, served as ushers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moseley Graham Boyette of Carthage. She made her debut in Raleigh in 1948. She was graduated from St. Mary's Junior College and the University of North Carolina, where she was a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority. She has been a member of the faculty of the Southern Pines public schools since her graduation.

The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Turner Stephenson of Halifax. He was graduated from Virginia Episcopal School, Lynchburg, Va., and the University of North Carolina where he was a member of the Zeta Psi fraternity. He is now associated with the W. B. Lee Tobacco Company.

MRS. W. F. HOLLISTER REVIEWS BOOK CIVIL WAR PERIOD BROUGHT TO LIFE

The Civic Club enjoyed an afternoon with "India Allen" by Elizabeth Boatwright Coker as interpreted by Mrs. William F. Hollister. The program was sponsored by the Thursday Morning Book Club. Mrs. Virgil Page Clark, president of the Civic Club, introduced the speaker.

As usual in Mrs. Hollister's book reviews, the audience was immediately conscious of the background, this time Charleston during the years before and after the Civil War, with a brief stay in the North Carolina mountains. With her understanding and sympathy she made this period with its different impact on each of the characters, vital and dramatic to her listeners.

As the absorbing story was told, the audience also felt, aside from
