Jerry Healy, Jr., is returning tonight from his first big adventure—a trip alone by train to visit his godmother, Mrs. Carol Thurm, at Palm Beach, Fla., for a week. Mr. and Mrs. Healy will drive to Hamlet to meet their son.

Mrs. Lillian Miles Raymond has returned home and to her position at Patch's Department Store after being away three weeks. She drove to Buffalo, N. Y., then into Canada and back to Buffalo on a vacation trip before flying to New York to join Mrs. Harriet Lewis, another employee of Patch's. They spent a week there, buying new merchandise for the store, after which Mrs. Lewis returned home and Mrs. Miles went back to Buffalo to complete her visit in the home of her son and his family.

Roy Grinnell and son Peter are leaving tonight for Little Compton, N. Y., to visit relatives for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle D. McDonald, Jr., of Chapel Hill visited his parents last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Patch and son Richard spent last week vacationing at Kure Beach.

Temple Grinnell, a rising senior at The Citadel, Charleston, S. C., has gone to Fort Benning, Ga., for six weeks of military training.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Honeycutt and son, Skip, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. David Gillis in Mount Olive. Their daughters, Janie and Kay, who had been with their aunt, Mrs. Gillis, for a 10-day visit, came home with them, accompanied by Barbara Gillis, who is their guest for a while.

Mrs. Roy Kelly entered Moore County Hospital last Thursday night. She is reported to be much improved, and hoping to be discharged soon.

Harold Collins, Jr., is now associated with the Collins Store in Rockingham and is commuting. Here to visit Gen. and Mrs. R. B. Hill today and tomorrow are Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wells and granddaughter, Tossie Wells, of Buena Vista, Ga.

After spending last weekend here with their son-in-law and daughter, Lt. and Mrs. William J. Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Fox left Monday to visit Dr. J. F. Fox in Bluefield, Va. They will return to Southern Pines to complete their visit here before going to their home in New Canaan, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Butler spent last weekend with their son Dan, who is attending Ridgecrest Camp for Boys at Ridgecrest. He will be there for two more weeks.

Miss Gail Given, 14-year-old daughter of Mrs. Borden Given and granddaughter of Col. and Mrs. Calvin H. Burkehead, has gone to Orleans, France, to spend the summer with her father. Col. William J. Given, who is in command of a Signal Corps supply base there. She traveled in company with other Army dependents, supervised by Army personnel. Gail left Southern Pines Sunday, June 19, and stayed in New York until Wednesday, when she left by plane for Paris, arriving Thursday. She will return in time for the opening of school.

Gen. and Mrs. R. B. Hill will be guests of their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Long, Jr., and family in Wilmington over the July 4th holiday.

Processors usually will not pay top prices for poorly-feathered chickens.

MR. AND MRS. DONALD RAY BREWER CEREMONY AT BAPTIST PARSONAGE HERE UNITES MISS THOMAS AND MR. BREWER

In a private ceremony attended by members of the families and only a few close friends, Miss Barbara Jane Thomas and Donald Ray Brewer exchanged wedding vows at the Baptist parsonage in Southern Pines at 10 a.m. Wednesday, June 22. The Rev. David Hoke Coon officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Thomas of Southern Pines and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Brewer of Vass.

For the ceremony the bride wore a two-piece baby blue suit with pink accessories and a small pink hat with veiling. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

A small reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where summer flowers were used as decorations. The table, covered with a linen cloth, held a center-

The executive committee's decision will be placed before the full PGA at its annual convention in Atlantic City, N. J., in December where final ratification would or would not be placed on choice of a new headquarters site.

It was estimated Tuesday by persons who had been in the Chicago PGA offices that the office probably consists of 15 to 20 persons of whom possibly one-third might be expected to move to this area. Real estate men said they would not anticipate difficulties in obtaining suitable housing for them. Remainder of the persons in the office presumably would be employed locally.

The Professional Golfers Association is composed of all qualified professionals in the nation. It publishes a magazine, conducts one of the nation's outstanding golf tournaments, sets the standards for professional golfers, decides professional and amateur status questions and performs other functions of a related nature.

TRAFFIC SAFETY

Concentration on the campaign this week-end is occasioned by the traditionally dangerous July 4 period, but General Hill, in cooperation with law enforcement officers, plans to keep pushing on the campaign throughout the summer. Additional quantities of publicity material are expected later, he said, explaining that the nation-wide demand had cut down the amount any one area or town could receive.

"Impact" Cooperating At the USAF Air-Ground Operations School this week, Major Jack L. Giannini, a member of the "Operation Impact" committee, said that this annual traffic safety campaign sponsored here by USAFAGOS is cooperating with the Slow Down and Live Drive.

Speaking in the absence of Major Tom M. Nicholson, chairman of the committee, Major Giannini said that plans this year do not call for a teen-age "roadeo," as has been conducted in previous years, or for distribution of Operation Impact safety pledge stars to car owners at some downtown location.

Mr. Brewer is a 1955 graduate of Vass-Lakeview High School, where he was active in the athletic program.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Florida the couple will reside temporarily with the bride's parents.

SANDHILLS

Healy and George D. Leonard, Jr., representing real estate interests; Miss Alice Baxter, Chamber of Commerce secretary, and Mrs. Valerie Nicholson, C. of C. publicity chairman; Harold Collins, department store executive and local golfer, and Cad Benedict, Pilot news editor. Harry K. Smyth, Chamber of Commerce, president, was unable to attend.

Mayor Gilmore said he had word from Richard Tufts of Pinehurst, Inc., that the project to present the merits of Southern Pines and the Sandhills as PGA headquarters had his full cooperation.

Excessive cost of operating the headquarters office in Chicago—where it is reported the organization is paying nearly $8,000 per year rent for 1,989 sq. ft. of floor space—was named by Moffitt, said Gilmore, as the number one reason for wanting to move. It was also reported that sentiment favors moving to a much smaller community to cut costs and for other reasons. Gilmore said he pointed out to Moffitt in a telephone conversation Tuesday that moving to any good sized city would bring up similar problems.

Communities mentioned as under consideration for PGA headquarters, or as seeking the office, are Florence, S. C., Greensboro, Davton, Ohio, and Denver, Colo. Gilmore quoted Moffitt as saying that the office needs at least 50 per cent more floor space than it has now. A long list of specific questions about facilities here was submitted. Answers to these questions are now being prepared through cooperation of committee members, coordinated by the Chamber of Commerce.

The golfing background of the Sandhills, the all-year golf climate and the proximity of outstanding courses were cited by Gilmore as offering a prime inducement to the PGA officials to locate here.

The Sandhills group plans to send a delegation to Detroit where the annual PGA tournament will be played at the Meadowbrook Country Club, July 20-27, during which period the organization's executive committee will take up the matter of moving the Chicago headquarters and tentatively pick a new site.

Plans were made Tuesday to arm the local group with full information about the attractions of Southern Pines and the Sandhills.

Mr. and Mrs. Graves Attend Charlotte Meet

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Graves of Graves Mutual Insurance Co., attended an FIA and VA meeting on Wednesday of last week at the Barringer Hotel in Charlotte. They remained overnight, returning to Southern Pines Thursday.

Mrs. John Foster And Mrs. May Share Honors At Party

Mrs. John G. Foster who left Wednesday for Sumter, S. C., because of her husband, Colonel Foster's, assignment to Shaw AFB, shared honors with Mrs. Bedford May on Tuesday morning of last week when Mrs. William J. Ryan entertained 16 guests at a Coca-Cola party as a farewell courtesy. Mrs. May is joining her husband at Maxwell AFB. Both honorees were presented gifts by Mrs. Ryan.

B&PW Club Hears Pep Talk And Convention Reports

The Sandhills Business and Professional Women's Club met Tuesday evening at the Methodist Church in Aberdeen.

Evelyn Pleasants, incoming president, gave a pep talk in which she urged members to work together for progress in this year's national program: "Keys of Progress." She also urged all committee chairmen to keep complete and accurate records of all committee activities during the ensuing year.

Convention reports were given by Genevieve Moore, Nancve McLellan, Eliza Collins, Lucille Minshew, and Alice Baxter, covering constructive ideas obtained at meetings and highlights of the event. Miss Collins gave an excellent report on the progress of the "State Home Retirement" project.

Plans are being made for a picnic meeting next month.

Mrs. McDonald Gives Convention Report At Meeting Of Does

Drove 42, BPO Does, which has cut its meetings down to one a month for June, July and August, held the June meeting on the third Tuesday night. The time was devoted to an interesting report of the Grand Lodge Convention held in Kansas City, Mo., June 11-14, given by Mildred McDonald who, with President Annabelle Wathen, represented the Drove. Mrs. McDonald served as color bearer to Supreme President Roxie Simpson at the convention.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Wathen, who has gone north for the summer, Polly Everett, senior counselor, is serving as president.

Bill Jamison Is Feted At Supper On 12th Birthday

Bill Jamison, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Jamison, Jr., of Knollwood, was given a surprise on his 12th birthday when Emmaday Collins, assisted by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Collins, entertained at a supper party for 12 boys and girls Saturday evening. There was a decorated birthday cake, and the honor guest was presented gifts. Later the group went to Aberdeen, where they enjoyed playing on the miniature golf course in the lakeside park.

New Heir-rivals

ALFRED LINDSAY KLINGSCHMIDT Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klingensmidt of Vass are the parents of a son, Alfred Lindsay, born at Moore County Hospital June 24 weighing eight pounds, three ounces. They have a little daughter, Carol.

INS AND OUTS

Miss Gertrude V. Little, who for about eight weeks has been a patient at Moore County Hospital where she underwent major surgery, is getting along well and expects to come home within a few days.

Richard N. Hassell arrived Friday night from East Paterson, N. J., to join his wife and son, Tommy, for the final 10 days of their stay with Mrs. Hassell's mother, Mrs. E. M. Poate. They plan to leave Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. McL. Freeman, their son Mackie and daughter Ann, of Limestone, Maine, were guests of Mr. Freeman's aunt, Mrs. M. David McCallum, and Mr. McCallum the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted I. Irvin and daughters, Dorothy and Margaret, accompanied his mother, Mrs. May M. Irvin, to her home here from Belle Glade, Fla., where she had been their guest for two months. After remaining here from Wednesday until last Monday, the Irvin family left for Arizona to spend the remainder of the summer. While in Florida Mrs. Irvin had the thrill of watching her 16-year-old granddaughter, who has been taking flying lessons, make her first solo flight at the Belle Glade airport.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Butcher of Jacobus, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Zeller and children, Vic and Franklin, Jr., of New Freedom, Pa., are guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Cameron.

All officers, airmen and civilians at the school are undergoing driving tests, he said, and they will see safety films and hear guest speakers on traffic safety, during the Operation Impact campaign.

In relation to civilians in general, he said, Operation Impact at USAFAGOS is cooperating with the Slow Down and Live campaign and is concentrating on that function this year. Personnel of the school this week or on other occasions will assist officers in handing out safety information, if their services are needed.
