

Teachers Named For County Units

Moore School Faculties Listed

Faculty members of schools in the Moore County system—which include all schools in the county except those in the Southern Pines and Pinehurst city administrative units—are announced as follows by Supt. H. Lee Thomas of Carthage.

The list includes several additions and changes made just prior to the opening of the county schools today.

Early this week, no replacement had been secured for W. B. Hill, former agriculture teacher at Carthage High School, who resigned recently to become Moore County supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration. Several applications had been received for the post, however.

Here is the list of teachers, subject to some changes in assignments, according to school registrations:
