MISS DORIS HARRIET DAVIS IS BRIDE OF LOUIS ERWIN CLARK OF GREENVILLE

A reception at Carthage Community House followed the marriage of Miss Doris Harriet Davis to Louis Erwin Clark, which took place in the Carthage Methodist Church Saturday, September 17, with the Rev. Harvey L. Davis of Elizabethtown, uncle of the bride, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis of Carthage and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Clark of Greenville.

Music was presented by Mrs. Colin G. Spencer, Jr., organist, and Mrs. LaVerne Womack, soloist.

Miss Annette Davis, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mrs. C. Robert Neilson of Kinston was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Rose Miller and Miss Peggy Bell of Greensboro. Miss Lauren Patti was junior bridesmaid and Doris Patti was flower girl.

The attendants wore desert rose lace and satin gowns with satin cummerbund, and matching picture hats. They carried bronze chrysanthemums.

The bride wore a dupioni silk gown with alencon lace bertha embroidered in seed pearls. The bouffant skirt extended into a sweep train and her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a pillbox headdress of alencon lace and seed pearls. She carried lace chrysanthemums, centered with white orchids.

Mr. Clark was best man for his son and the ushers were Lt. C. Dwight Garrett of Camp Lejeune, Jack Stoughton of Raleigh, C. Robert Neilson of Kinston, John G. Clark, Jr., and Clarence B. Tugwell of Greenville.

The mother of the bride wore an imported dior blue wool dress with blue satin accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a blue mist dress of lace over taffeta with matching accessories. Both wore orchids.

The couple are honeymooning in the mountains of North Carolina. They will reside in Greenville.

Mr. Clark attended the University of North Carolina and was graduated from East Carolina College, where he was elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Miss Mary Arrowood Weds University Professor At Linden

Miss Mary Dickson Arrowood became the wife of an assistant professor of geology at Johns Hopkins University Saturday.

The marriage of Miss Arrowood and Clifford A. Hopson was in Sardis Presbyterian Church at Linden.

The bride's father, the Rev. Robert S. Arrowood officiated.

Miss Katherine Arrowood was her sister's only attendant. Best man was the bride's brother, Robert S. Arrowood Jr. Ushers included Dr. Robert M. McMillan of Southern Pines, cousin of the bride, Carlyle Williams, Wayne Collier and George Elliott, all of Linden.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Arrowood of Linden. A graduate of Woman's College, she has been associated with Central Young Woman's Christian Association, Baltimore, Md., two years.

Mr. Hopson is the son of Mrs. Eric E. Hopson of Mill Valley, Calif., and the late Mr. Hopson.

He received a B. S. degree from Stanford University and a M. S. degree from the University of Washington. A candidate for a Ph. D. degree at Johns Hopkins University, he is a member of Sigma Gamma Epsilon and Phi Beta Kappa.

Going with Dr. McMillan to attend the wedding were Mrs. McMillan and their two daughters, Julia and Mary and Miss Callie Battley of Pinehurst.

MAYOR VOIT GILMORE SPEAKS TO CHURCH GROUP; RECEPTION FOR FACULTY HELD

Mayor Voit Gilmore spoke on the history of religious education in North Carolina at Monday night's meeting of Brownson Memorial Presbyterian Women of the Church, held in the church with Mrs. George Heintz, president, conducting the business session.

Mrs. Avery Evans, Christian Education chairman, was in charge of the program and introduced the speaker.

Mr. Gilmore traced the growth of religious education through the years and discussed the merger of three Presbyterian colleges—Peace Junior at Raleigh, Presbyterian Junior at Maxton, and Flora Macdonald at Red Springs—which was approved by the Synod of North Carolina at its meeting in July.

At the close of the meeting, members and guests went to the Fellowship Hall, where a reception honoring the Southern Pines School faculty was held.

The refreshment table, covered with a white linen cloth, held a centerpiece of spider lilies, Chinese holly and pine, flanked by candles. Mrs. Hal Adams and Mrs. James Pleasants poured punch, which was served with party sandwiches, cookies, nuts and mints.

Mrs. A. L. Burney, Mrs. Claude Reams, Mrs. J. F. Williams, and Mrs. W. O. Spence comprised the reception committee.

B&P W Clubs Observe Business Women's Week

The 28th annual National Business Women's Week begins Sunday, September 25, with a special message from President Dwight D. Eisenhower in which he states:

"Please extend my greetings to the members of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs on the observance of National Business Women's Week.

"I congratulate all of you on the record of public spirited undertakings which your organization has built up since its inception, and on your slogan for this year, 'Aim High.' You have my sincere good wishes for future accomplishments."

This year, the object of Business Women's Week is to demonstrate women's contribution to the community as producers, consumers, tax payers and citizens, and develop interest in each community in offering conditions in which its women citizens can achieve fuller recognition and greater enjoyment of public responsibilities.

The highlight of this year's observance for the members of the Sandhill B & P. W. Club will be a program beamed directly at the Federation itself, Tuesday, September 27. A covered dish supper will be served at 7:15 p.m., in the home of Mrs. Mamie Swaringen of Pinehurst.
