Blue Knights Will Probably Meet Mt. Olive In Playoff

New Conference Champions Go To Charlotte Friday

The Blue Knights of Southern Pines, winners of the Cape Fear Conference, will play either Mt. Olive or North Duplin High School in opening rounds of Class A playoffs November 7, according to Coach Irie Leonard.

Site of the game has not been selected yet and will be determined by a flip of the coin Monday of next week. Leonard said the game would probably be held either here or at the field of the opposing team, though he did not discount the possibility of playing on a neutral field.

The Knights won the conference title Friday night by defeating Aberdeen 26-0, a victory that gave them six conference victories and no defeats. The game marked the sixth one straight in which the Knights have held their opponents scoreless while racking up a total of 161 points.

The next game on the schedule is tomorrow (Friday) night when the team travels to Charlotte for a non-conference encounter. The final game with Sanford, which had been scheduled for November 7, was canceled when the Knights won the right to compete in State Class A playoffs.

Mt. Olive will probably be the team the Knights will face. They've already tied for the East Central Conference and even if they lose to North Duplin, chances are they'll be picked to play Southern Pines. Warsaw, the second ranking team, was defeated earlier in the season by Mt. Olive and is, for that reason, given little chance of being considered.

Other conferences in the eastern division Class A teams are Albemarle, already won by Edenton; Coastal, in which LaGrange is leading; Mid Central, won by Erwin; Tar-Randolph, won by Weldon; Tidewater, won by Camden; and Wake County-Edgecombe.

Vass Native Held On Fraud Charges By Federal Agency

Cole Edward Wilson, 24-year-old native of Vass, was picked up in Chicago last week by the Federal Bureau of Investigation on charges of fraud.

Wilson was charged with placing telephone calls to two different Guilford County men several days earlier, in each instance requesting money for sons of the men. He claimed the boys had been in accidents.

The two men were identified by the FBI as Lee H. Ingle, superintendent of Guilford County Prison Camp No. 1, and E. L. Henley, a member of a work maintenance detail there at one time and now an employee of the county schools maintenance department.

Both, the agency said, became acquainted with Wilson when he served time in prison in Guilford County.

The arrest was made because Ingle received a telephone call from Chicago requesting that $86 be sent there to pay a fine for his son, whom the caller allegedly said had been in an accident. Ingle, it was reported, checked the name of the hospital given him by the Chicago informant

DIE FLEDERMAUS, a sparkling comedy with music by Johann Strauss, will be presented by the National Grass Roots Opera here next week as the first of four programs of the Sandhills Music Association for the season. The above photo shows a scene from the second act as Gabriel Eisenstein is completely charmed by his wife whom he does not recognize because of her disguise as a Hungarian countess.

'Die Fledermaus' To Be Presented By Music Association Tuesday Night

Opening the concert season of the Sandhills Music Association, the National Grass Roots Opera Company will present "Die Fledermaus," Johann Strauss' gay operetta, at Weaver Auditorium, Tuesday evening, November 4, at 8:30 p. m.

Republicans Plan Rally Tonight At Courthouse

Republicans will gather in the courthouse in Carthage tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock to hear their candidates and invited speakers.

Chairman Robert S. Ewing of Southern Pines who is seeking election as this county's representative to the General Assembly, said this morning that Mrs. Louis G. Rogers of Charlotte, national committeewoman, will be the principal speaker. Also on the program will be A. I. Ferree of Asheboro, well-known party wheelhorse.

Ewing will preside over the meeting, to which he has invited the general public. All candidates will be introduced, he said, and those desiring to speak will be accorded the time.

Carousel Entries Now 48; Only 3 Weeks To Sign Up

Some four dozen golfers, several of them scratch handicappers, have entered the Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored 5th annual Golf Carousel, according to Bill Hamilton, tournament director, and an eventual field of 200 is expected.

If the 200 figure is reached it will be the biggest one since the tournament was inaugurated.

Hamilton said that entries had been received from Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, the North-South Amateur champion and his partner, Art Ruffin. Others have been received from Fred

Girl Scout Fund Drive Underway; Program Explained

Seek $2,500 Here To Help With County Budget

Monday was the big day for Girl Scouts in Southern Pines as 16 men and women assembled for a kickoff luncheon for the yearly fund drive, now underway.

Similar luncheons have been held elsewhere in the Central Carolina Council in order to impress the workers and solicitors with the needs for financial success.

Mrs. Sherwood Brockwell, who is Southern Pines chairman of the drive, explained to those assembled the field work that had gone into the formulation of plans for the drive, and Miss Cathryn Creasman, executive director, gave an overall picture of the 1959 budget.

Unlike the budget of the previous two years, she pointed out, funds this year must provide for sending eight elected senior scouts from the district to the Girl Scout Round-up in Colorado next summer. There will be about 7,500 other Scouts and leaders at the meeting, she said, and the Central Carolina Council should be represented. The chances of an elected senior scout from this area attending the meeting are excellent, she added.

The budget for the Council is $17,879. In Southern Pines a total of $2,500 will be sought.

Gallery Committee Plans Art Shows For Coming Year

Six members of the newly-formed Gallery Committee met at the town library Wednesday to draw up plans for the coming season.

Those present included Mrs. C. A. Smith and Mrs. Alwin Foley, both former chairmen, Mrs. Frank Cooper, John Faulk, Don Moore and Mrs. James Boyd. Mrs. Boyd assumed the chairmanship this year in accordance with the new town rule which specifies that chairmen of committees must be members of the Library Commission.

Unable to be present Wednesday were three other committeemembers: Miss Harriet Barnum, Mrs. Emmanuel Sontag, and Mrs. Stanley Austin.

Meeting with the committee were the librarian and her assistant.

Light Vote Forecast In Tuesday's Election; 15,000 Are Registered

AT DEMOCRATIC RALLY MONDAY

Kitchin Knocks Administration For Hurting Farmer, Damaging Economy

Congressman A. Paul Kitchin of Wadesboro, the only real heavyweight Democrat politico to come into this county during the current campaign, fired up some 75 loyal party members Monday night as he piled into the Republicans for everything from bungling foreign policy to creating a bankrupt economy.

The Congressman, speaking in a light vein at first but rising to a fighting pitch as he went on, was described by one person in attendance as having delivered "the hottest talk I've ever seen him give and certainly one of the best I've heard this year."

"Hot" it was: Kitchin managed to get in licks at the Republicans for what he described as a "giant give-away" program in foreign policy, at Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson for "running small farmers off their places" and turning them over to big farming interests, and at the Administration's leaders for piling up the biggest debt the country has ever known.

"They're the only people in the world," he said "who can inflate the dollar, produce a false economy, and bring the nation to the brink of bankruptcy and still brag about how well off the country is."

Mr. Kitchin, who had been introduced by W. Lamont Brown, chairman of the county's Democratic Executive Committee, recalled that President Eisenhower carried Moore County and the 8th District in the last presidential election.

"Don't take anything for granted this year," he cautioned his listeners. "The Republicans are out working and even without the magic of the Eisenhower name, they're still not going to be easy to beat."

He forecast a sweeping victory for Democrats however, and urged his audience to turn out in heavy numbers to vote. "Especially you women," he added.

He lashed out at what he described as "two sets of brothers running this country with the assistance of a man who follows them and carries out their orders merely for self advancement."

The people he was referring to, he explained, were President Eisenhower and his brother, Milton, and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and his brother, Allen, who heads the Central Intelligence Agency. Vice-President

Voters To Pick 35 For Office; Candidates Named

A vote of less than 7,000, less than half the number of those qualified, has been predicted for Tuesday's General Elections.

Voters will be selecting a total of 35 officials, including a United States Senator, a Congressman, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, two Associate Justices, and Attorney General on the state level, Superior Court Judges and a District Solicitor, and closer to home, two State Senators, a member of the State House of Representatives, and the usual county offices: Clerk of Court, Register of Deeds, Judge of Recorder's Court, Solicitor of Recorder's Court, Sheriff, county surveyor, coroner and five county commissioners.

In addition, voters will also be asked to vote on a Constitutional Amendment to determine whether the jurisdiction of Justice of the Peace shall be increased.

The prediction of a light turnout in Moore County was based on the fact that new registration was small and the absence of either a Presidential or gubernatorial campaign.

A total of 15,256 people are registered, 12,310 of them Democrats. Republicans have 3,738 and 697 are listed as independents.

Hottest race in the county is expected to be between Democrat H. Clifton Blue of Aberdeen, who has served 10 years in the State Legislature, and Robert S. Ewing of Southern Pines, the Republican candidate, who is making his first bid for the job. Both are newspaper publishers. Ewing is the head of the Republican party in the county and Blue is one of the top powers in the Democratic party.

Elsewhere there seemed to be little doubt that the Democrats would go back into office and for that matter, there are few who will give Ewing a chance, though those same people think he will score more heavily against Blue than any person has ever been able to do.

Democrats
Here are the candidates on the Democratic ticket:
For the 13th District Solicitor, M. G. Boyette, unopposed.
State Senator, 12th District: Wilbur H. Currie and Robert R. Morgan. The district elects two senators.

Library Gallery To Observe Children's Book Week

Children's Book Week will be celebrated at the town library next week.

The big room will be gay with a display of the new children's books lately acquired, while well-worn treasured volumes among perennial favorites will be there, too, to remind grown-ups of happy times and bring new delight to the young fry.

In the gallery, a show, put on by the local artist and writer, Glen Rounds, will emphasize the message of this occasion when the nation honors those who write books and publish them, especially books for children.

The new gallery exhibit will replace the showing of etchings by Louis Orr now on view. This artist's renderings of North Carolina scenes, notably buildings of colonial times, are attracting much attention.

Correcting an error in last week's Pilot, it is the etching collection and not the artist that comes from Fayetteville. This is a loan collection from the Fayetteville Library. Mr. Orr, it is understood, spends much of his time in Paris.
