Red Cross Adopts New Policies For Blood Donor Plan

Done To Induce More People To Make Donations

Two new policies designed to encourage more people to become blood donors were adopted by Red Cross chapter heads and members of the blood bank committee over the weekend.

Mrs. Audrey Kennedy, executive secretary of the Moore County Chapter of the Red Cross, outlined the new policies, which are effective immediately, as follows:

1. Donors will receive individual credit cards. When presented at either of the two hospitals in this county, the cards will insure the donor of receiving, free of charge, one pint of blood every six months, either for himself or members of his immediate family.

2. Those who do not possess the credit cards when they receive blood from the blood bank, will be expected to secure one donor for each pint given when the bloodmobile makes its next visit.

Mrs. Kennedy, reporting on the initial visit of the bloodmobile, said that, though the entire quota was not raised either in Aberdeen or Southern Pines, it was generally agreed that a pretty good start had been made.

"It always takes a bit of time to get something like this started again," she said. "I believe we'll have more success on the next visit."

The bloodmobile had a quota of 250 pints when it made the first visit, but fell short about 75 pints.

Patty Berg, Woman Golf Pro, Visiting

Patty Berg, considered the nation's top woman golfer, arrived in the Sandhills today for a 10-day stay. She will be at the new Pine Needles club and plans to play every course in the area and conduct several clinics, open to the public.

Miss Berg, three times voted the "Woman Athlete of the Year," was last in this area in 1951 as a contestant in the Sandhill Open, a $3,000 tournament for women professionals which she won by 10 strokes.

This year she has won both the American Open, played in Minneapolis, and the Western Open, played in Erie, Pa.

Tomorrow at 4 p. m. Miss Berg will conduct a half-hour clinic at Mid Pines Club for a hardware-men's convention now in progress. She will also play the course with guests.

Saturday, she will play Pine Needles, again with guests, and will conduct a clinic at the club on Sunday at 1 o'clock.

She moves back to Mid Pines Tuesday. On Wednesday she will play at Pinehurst and conduct a clinic.

Back to Southern Pines on Thursday, she will attend the qualifying rounds of the annual Golf Carousal, and will conduct a clinic at Southern Pines Country Club Friday just prior to the cocktail party for Carousal contestants.

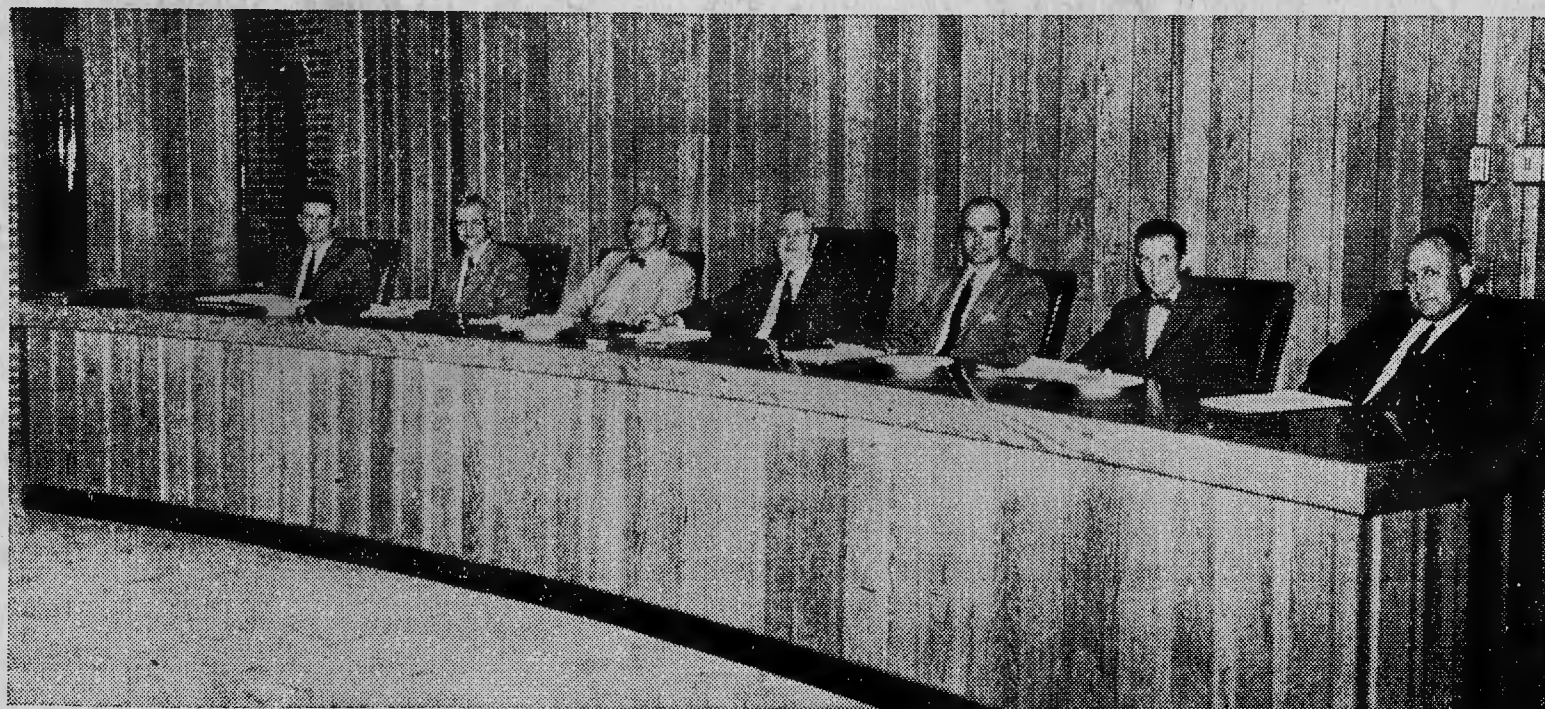

The rest of her schedule is not definite at this time.

Miss Berg, who represents Wilson's Sporting Goods Company, is the all-time leading money winner among the women pros. She has also won more tournaments than any other woman.

She currently plays out of St. Andrews Golf Club in St. Andrews, Ill.

OFFICE CLOSED

The drivers license bureau here will be closed Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, November 17-19. Those wishing to renew licenses or obtain new ones are reminded that the only office open in this area on the mentioned dates is in Sanford.

FIRST MEETING in the Council Chamber of the new town building was held Tuesday night, regular meeting time for the Town Council. The room is paneled and furnished only with the long, curved bench which has individual drawers for each Councilman. The bench will be used as a judge's bench when the Municipal Court begins sessions in January. Shown here, in a

Five From Local Team Make All-Conference Squad

Coach Irie Leonard's Blue Knights were the talk of the Cape Fear Conference at that organization's meeting here Tuesday night: coaches and principals informally conceded that the team was infinitely better than others in the league, then put their feelings into official action by naming five members of the squad to the first string of the conference All-Star squad.

In addition, the Blue Knights had a representative on the second team and two who received honorable mention. Virtually the entire first string landed berths on the All-Star squad.

Everett Cushman was named quarterback of the second team, and Bobby Watkins and Robert Woodruff received honorable mention.

The only other team in the conference to place more than two players on the first team was Fairmont. Named from that school were Leroy Callahan, end; Tommy Lewis, tackle; Archie Harrington, quarterback; and John Bray, halfback.

Red Springs had the other two first stringers, Frank Gattis at guard and David McDonald at halfback.

Aberdeen, newest member of the conference, had three members of the mythical squad: David Ruble was named to the second team fullback slot and Richard Styers was named second team tackle. Lamar Smith received honorable mention.

State Highway Chairman To Speak At Farm Meeting

J. Melville Broughton, chairman of the North Carolina Highway Commission, will address the Moore County Farm Bureau at that organization's annual meeting November 21, it was announced today by T. Clyde Auman of West End, president.

Mr. Broughton will discuss the tobacco program and other topics of interest to farmers.

The meeting will be held in the cafeteria of the Carthage High School and will be open to all members and other farmers and business people of the county who are interested in the work of the Bureau.

Broughton is the son of the late Governor and Senator J. Melville Broughton. At present he is serving as legal advisor and attorney for the North Carolina Farm Bureau and the North Carolina Farm Bureau Insurance Company.

Hotel Auditor Convicted Of Theft Of Funds, Receives Prison Sentence

W. J. O'Flaherty of New York City, charged with the theft of more than $500 from the Hollywood Hotel last March, received a sentence of from 18 to 36 months in prison Monday after being tried in Moore Superior Court.

O'Flaherty, who was the hotel's auditor, had been the object of an intensive search since the theft of the money became known. The total he was said to have stolen was $509. He was taken into custody last week in Newark, N. J., and, after waiving an extradition hearing, was returned here Friday by Deputy Sheriff A. F. Dees.

He was unable to post a $2,000 bond after being given a preliminary hearing and was lodged in jail over the weekend. His trial was held Monday before Judge Hubert Olive.

In another case tried Monday a West Southern Pines man, James E. Ransom, was sentenced to from five to eight years in prison for the robbery of an elderly Negro man as he was watching television.

Ransom, whose nickname is "Dude," was charged with stealing about $300 from Wilson Lockhart. Police arrested him after learning of his spending a large amount of money in Rockingham.

Other cases tried to date include the following: Lester Doby, Carthage, three to five years in prison on forgery charge; Fletcher Hussey, assault with a deadly weapon, six months in prison, suspended on payment of $50 and costs; and James Watson, breaking and entering, costs.

SECOND ROUND OF PLAYOFFS

Blue Knights Play LaGrange At Dunn Friday Night

The Southern Pines Blue Knights, victors by a 14-0 margin over Mount Olive last Friday night in their first round of playoff games for the state Class A championship, meet LaGrange tomorrow (Friday) at Dunn.

The winner of the game will meet the winner of the Edenton-Benvenue game being played tomorrow at Edenton.

Coach Irie Leonard said this week that Dunn was selected as the site of the game after neither of the schools would consent to playing on the other's field.

LaGrange advanced in the playoffs after tying Erwin 6-6, but coming out on top in the total yardage made in the game. This is a new rule in playoffs this year and was instituted to avoid conflicts occasioned by a tie-game.

The Bulldogs are champions of the Coastal Conference and had a 9-1 record for the season. Their

CARAVAN

Anyone wishing to join the car caravan going to Dunn for the football game tomorrow night (Friday) is requested to meet at 3:30 at the recreation area on New York Avenue to the rear of the school.

The caravan is being organized by Suzanne Steed, head cheerleader, assisted by Louis Scheipers, Jr., and Harry Chatfield. Information may be secured from either of the three.

HERE'S HI!

Here's hi, with a roll of the drum for the 45 volunteers who manned the Red Cross Blood Bank week before last here and in Aberdeen.

They were all set and ready on the dot, they took care of everyone with thoughtfulness and speed, they did a great job and were ready to do a greater one, if all the donors who signed up had showed up.

As the quota of donors fills, as surely it will next time, or the next, the team that worked so well last time will be on the job again. That's the spirit that carries through in a task that needs doing: to keep the Moore County Blood Bank filled for Moore County's hospitals in the vital task of saving lives.

Municipal Court Set Up; Begins January 1

Pollock Named Judge; Brogden Is Prosecutor

In action described as a "milestone" in Southern Pines history, the Town Council Tuesday night adopted an ordinance creating a Municipal Recorder's Court.

At the same time the Council appointed R. F. Hoke Pollock as the Recorder, or judge, and E. O. Brogden, as prosecuting attorney. J. Vance Rowe, Jr., was named the Vice-Recorder, or substitute judge. All are attorneys and will serve until the municipal elections next spring.

The court will become effective January 1, with the first term scheduled for January 7, a Wednesday. It will sit each Wednesday after that and on other days as needed. Sessions will be held in the Council Chamber of the new town building.

The court will have jurisdiction in Southern Pines and in an area five miles from the corporate limits in all directions, except it will not have jurisdiction over cases arising within the corporate limits of another town. Its jurisdiction would include both general criminal cases and recovery of penalties imposed by law or by ordinances of the town. A schedule of costs was also adopted, which calls for a minimum of $13.50.

The salary of both the judge and the prosecutor was fixed at $1,800 per year. The substitute judge will be paid the pro rata share of the judge's salary, and that amount will be deducted from the judge's salary.

Adoption of the ordinance establishing the court came after a public hearing attended by only a few people. Those who were there apparently approved the court set-up, which was explained by Town Attorney W. Lamont Brown.

In response to a question from Edward Schneider as to the possibility of the court costing the town more money than it would take in, Mr. Brown said it was difficult to foretell whether that would be the case. It was pointed out by Town Manager Louis Scheipers, Jr., however, that the Institute of Government in Chapel Hill had made a study of similar courts in more than 50 towns in the state and none operated at a loss.

"The idea behind the court," Mr. Brown said, "is, of course, not to make money. Purely and simply, it is being established here for one reason: to bring the court a bit closer and make it more convenient for officers and others concerned to dispose of cases."

Those attending the meeting were reminded that town police drove many thousands of miles last year between Carthage and Southern Pines delivering arrest- (Continued on Page 8)

Council Slates Public Hearing On Zoning Change

A recommendation from the town's Planning Board to change from residential to business zone four lots on the north side of W. Massachusetts Ave., between Broad and Bennett Sts., will be advertised for a public hearing at the Town Council's next regular meeting December 9.

The change was requested Tuesday night by Harold Collins whose attorney, R. F. Hoke Pollock, was present with a map of the block, to explain the request.

Mr. Pollock said that the request includes a plan to extend through the block to Massachusetts Ave. an alley that now runs south from New York Avenue behind the business buildings facing Broad St.

In presenting the request to the council, Town Manager Scheipers said that Mr. Collins plans to develop for business purposes his lot on S. W. Broad St., between Colonial Furniture Co. and the Red Cross office and that he expects to use the Massachusetts Ave. lots for an entrance to the rear of the property and for off-street parking.

The lots covered in the zoning request are the only lots around this block that are not presently zoned for business, Scheipers said.

Beautification Of Parkway To Begin In Near Future

Deadline for bids on landscaping of certain portions of US Highway I bypass, or Parkway as it is officially known, has been set for Monday at noon.

The announcement was made by Town Manager Louis Scheipers, Jr. Tuesday night after the Town Council had heard a report from Mrs. Voit Gilmore, chairman of the Park and Parkway Beautification Committee, describing the work that is planned.

The work, she said, will supplement planting already done that was authorized by the Council two years ago and by a gift of $1,200 to the town.

The $1,200 gift, which has grown to almost $1,300 now, was made by Voit Gilmore at the end of his term as mayor and represents the entire amount of his pay during his term. He requested informally at the time he made the gift that it be used to help (Continued on page 8)

Samuel Kelly of Carthage will head the Negro division of the sale, assisted by organizations and individuals in all Negro communities of the county. The Negro division for many years has had an outstanding record of generosity in the Christmas Seal campaigns.

Community chairmen, who will mail out seals and receive contributions in the sale that begins November 14, were also announced by Mr. Broughton as follows: Aberdeen, the Rev. R. Spear; Cameron, Mrs. Jack Lips, Jr.; Carthage, Mrs. V. Brown; Clayroad Farms, M. H. Matthews; Eagle Springs, Ellen Maurice; Glendon, Richard Dowd; Highfall, Lillian P. ### GALLERY SHOW

Want to know how books are printed? Want to know how pictures are handled, the technique that makes the different colors come out just right? Want to know about galleys and page proofs and how mistakes get corrected? Want to know what happens when author and editor have a difference of opinion?

Want to see some lovely original drawings of Glen Rounds' swamp life book—turtles crowded on an old log, the sleek otter nosing among the lily-pads and jack-in-the-pulpits, young green herons zigzagged on a bare branch? (Incidentally these drawings are for sale.)

If the answer is "yes," or if it isn't and the potential viewer just has an itch to get in the gallery and see what that Rounds is up to now—in any case let him swing in off Broad Street to the Library Gallery. The show there will satisfy his curiosity and he's likely to agree that it's one of the most rewarding the gallery committee has put on.

Town Advertising Committee Gets New Quarters

Ambitious plans for the town's Advertising Advisory Committee were revealed at the meeting of the Town Council Tuesday night and, judging from what was told, a program will soon be in full swing.

The committee, headed by George Pottle, was granted space in the building on the corner of S. Broad Street and E. Pennsylvania Avenue which the town recently purchased from Dr. J. S. Milliken. It will occupy the front two rooms, one of which will be used for reception and the other for storage of records.

Also, he said, the committee planned to hire a full-time secretary to stay in the reception office and answer letters and requests for information from visitors. Another thing planned, he added, is the erection of a sign in the colonial design which will be placed on the lawn of the building.

The Council, already requested by several agencies to make room for them in the building,
