

High School Students To See Atomic Energy Exhibit At Assembly Program

East Southern Pines High School students will have the opportunity tomorrow (Friday) of getting acquainted with the wonders of our present age at a special assembly program. Featured on the program will be "This Atomic World," a traveling atomic-energy exhibit of the US Atomic Energy Commission.

The exhibit will be sent to Southern Pines from the Museum Division of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, which manages the exhibit, as well as the American Museum of Atomic Energy in Oak Ridge, Tennessee, for the Commission.

"This Atomic World" is one of several traveling exhibits which the Commission has made available to towns and cities all over the United States. It is designed to meet the needs of principals, science teachers, and civic leaders in stimulating a deeper interest in the peacetime uses of atomic energy.

In Friday's program, a staff member of the Museum Division will take the audience on an excursion into the atomic age. Utilizing exhibits and demonstration equipment, the demonstrator will explain in simple language the fundamentals of atomic energy and how it compares with other types of energy; how atomic energy is released through radiation and fission; and how atomic energy is used in agriculture, medicine, industry, and other fields.

Illustrative charts, panels, and equipment will play important roles in the demonstration. One of the outstanding attractions of "This Atomic World" will be a demonstration model of the Van de Graaff electrostatic generator. This device, which generates 250,000 volts of static electricity, will be used to explain how large models are used in physics laboratories to study atomic structure.

The following were presented by their parents for infant baptism at the Sunday morning worship service at the Methodist Church: Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul VonCanon; Janeice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard VonCanon and James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard VonCanon. Linda Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Lewis was received into the membership of the Church. The choir sang an anthem, "The Holy City," with Leonard VonCanon, Mrs. Decatur Richardson and Mrs. Paul VonCanon having solo parts. Mrs. W. A. Johnson, Jr. is director and Dorothy VonCanon served as accompanist.

Commemorating Maundy Thursday the Methodists observed the Last Supper that evening. It was an impressive service using the table with 12 places, the unleavened bread and the cup. The two chairs, one draped in white for Jesus and the other in black for Judas were not used so 10 were served at a time.

Billy Jackson spoke to Miss Bert McCrummen's Junior and Senior History classes at the school Monday morning. A political science major at the graduate school of the University of North Carolina, Billy spoke on the "Challenge to the students on Foreign Affairs" placing emphasis on getting along with other countries.

The Circles of the Presbyterian Church will not meet Monday evening but will give way to the leadership training school in Carthage which all women are urged to attend.

The flower arrangement was placed in the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning in memory of the late Elder C. W. Ritter by his family. The choir sang the anthem, "They Have Taken Away My Lord," with Mrs. Carl Ritter and Clifton Munn having solo parts.

The smaller children of the Presbyterian Church enjoyed an egg hunt at the Church Saturday afternoon. Miss Tressie Auman directed games in the Recreation Hall of the Church after which the children were divided into school and pre-school groupings for the egg hunt on the church lawn. Prizes were given to Brenda Dunn and to Van Cole who found the two golden eggs. The serving-table was decorated with Easter baskets and eggs and the 50 guests were given candy eggs, cookies and punch. Mrs. Tommy McNeil was in charge of the hunt, assisted by Mrs. Roy Carter and Mrs. Everett Cole.

The young people of the Eagle Springs - Bensalem Presbyterian Churches gave an Easter pageant Sunday evening. The music was given by the Bensalem choir with solo numbers by Mrs. J. L. Williams and Mrs. E. K. Freeman. Roy Williams, Jr., was narrator for the pageant which was directed by Mrs. Herbert Bost who also was organist. The cast included James Jones, Tommy Lewis, Sarah Bost, Lou Ellen Hall, Mary Freeman, Judy Williams, Nancy Williams, Glenda Hobbs, and Carolyn Williams. An impressive pantomime "The Old Rugged Cross," was given by Linda Williams and Juanita Bost. Laura Belle Buzard gave a reading and the Rev. Paul Buzard had the Scripture.

Little Tommy Black who was injured in an automobile wreck Friday morning has returned home from Chapel Hill hospital and is recuperating nicely.

Mrs. Spencer Rose, the former Miss Julia VonCanon of West End, was pictured in a recent edition of the Sanford Herald with her two adopted sons. The two Korean children were adopted by M/Sgt. and Mrs. Rose while he was stationed in Japan and the picture was taken while the family was visiting Julia's mother, Mrs. Forrest VonCanon of Sanford. The children were adopted through the auspices of the International Social Service organization with the parents first reading of the Service in an English newspaper published in Japan. The Roses flew to Korea to pick up their two children on both occasions. M/Sgt. Rose, a New York native, is now stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga., with only 6 more years left before retiring. After that he wants to get about 20 acres of good land, somewhere where the boys can get a dog and run around a little bit. (We would extend a hearty welcome to Julia and her fine family to settle right here in West End, anyway the latch string hangs on the outside!)

The American Legion sponsored the Easter sunrise service with Miss Bert McCrummen presenting the program with young people from the three West End Churches participating. The Legionnaires served coffee and doughnuts afterwards.
