

DISABLED VETERANS from the VA Hospital in Fayetteville were royally entertained here last Friday by members of the John Y. Boyd VFW post and the auxiliary. All told, there were 36 of the oldtimers who arrived here shortly after 2 p.m. on a bus, one of a series of outings made available to them by VFW posts in several towns in North Carolina. The veterans, part of whom are shown above with attendants, were greeted by Thom McKenzie, second from left, who is the post commander, Mrs. Eleanor Irwin, auxiliary president, and Pauline Crain, district president. A buddy poppy was given each veteran by auxiliary members who were assisted by Mrs. Ralph Kleinspehn and Mrs. Kissinger. After the party Mrs. John Stephenson and Miss Crain took cake to Moore Memorial Hospital where it was distributed to patients with compliments of the post and auxiliary. (Pilot photo) her signature and acquiescence to papers and matters not to her best interest and same against wishes of her friends and relatives."

Mrs. Louise Jordan of Jacksonville, Fla., was appointed the next friend of Mrs. Busbee several weeks ago by Kennedy. That appointment, he said, was only for the purposes of a suit then pending.

An injunction had been issued against the Jacques and Juliana Busbee's Jugtown, Inc., by Superior Court Judge Reid Phillips of Pittsboro to restrain that firm from operating the famed pottery. John Mare of Southern Pines is one of the principal shareholders of the organization, with Mrs. Busbee another. W. Lamont Brown of Southern Pines, an attorney for Mr. Mare, was also listed as an incorporator.

BUDGET

The poor fund this year contains an appropriation of $27,000, of which $15,000 will be used to renovate the county home for eventual leasing to private concerns for use as a boarding home, and $12,000 for the "outside poor" fund.

The budget is based on a property valuation of $47,000,000. The tax rate remained at $1.35 per $100 property valuation. The Commissioners, in their resolution, noted that they were anticipating a rate of collection of 87 1/2 percent.

The motion to adopt the budget was made by Tom Monroe of Robbins and seconded by W. S. Taylor of Aberdeen.

Dr. McMillan At Medical Advisory Commission Meet

Dr. Robert McMillan of Southern Pines attended a meeting of the Medical Advisory Commission of the North Carolina Board of Hospitals Control at Broughton (formerly State) Hospital in Morganton last Thursday and Friday.

Dr. McMillan is one of 15 members of the commission appointed by Governor Hodges last year at the request of the Hospitals Board. The commission, along with the staffs of various hospitals under the Board's supervision, advise the board on various medical matters, including new drugs and procedures.

The commission meets quarterly.

Accompanying Dr. McMillan to the meeting in Morganton was John Ruggles, a member of the Board since 1949.

Ross Urges Water Conservation At Wildlife Meeting

Speaking before the Moore County Wildlife Club at the group's July meeting, held at the Howard Johnson Restaurant, George R. Ross of Jackson Springs, told the members that Moore County and the Sandhill section have a great stake in soil conservation and development practices.

Ross, former Director of the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development, emphasized the value of water in the development of any community or area. He said that sandy land held more water than other type soil and that there was an abundance of water in the Sandhills.

"Conserve water and you improve the conditions for wildlife," he said.

He said that there was a great potential for hunting and fishing in the Sandhills. In fact, he added, hunting and fishing were attractions before golf became so important here.

Albert Tufts, president of the Wildlife Club, presided at the meeting, with H. Clifton Blue of Aberdeen introducing the speaker. It was also announced the next meeting would be September 1, and the speaker will be Jack Dermid, assistant manager of Wildlife in North Carolina, and an outstanding photographer of wildlife.

The place of the meeting will be announced later. Following a custom adopted a few years ago, the club does not have an August meeting, as a majority of the members are away on vacation at that time.

Theft Of Outboard Motor Solved By Sheriff's Office

An outboard motor valued at close to $700 and stolen from Paul Medlin of the White Hill community has been recovered in Brunswick County, according to Sheriff Wendell B. Kelly.

Medlin reported the theft about two weeks ago. Following an investigation Sheriff Kelly said he had learned that the motor was sold to a man in Brunswick County for $75 and has since been recovered and turned over to the insurance company.

Sheriff Kelly also reported that two cars were stolen from Aberdeen last week, and one of them has been recovered at Fort Bragg. The other, a 1959 model Chevrolet belonging to Allen McLean, has not been found.

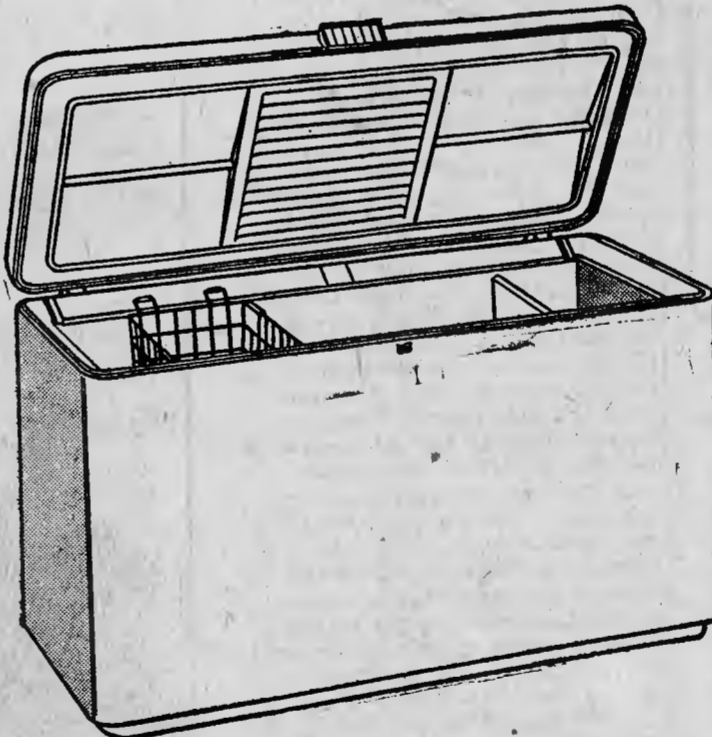

THE OK BOWL, a new 10-alley bowling lane that was opened here Monday, got off to an auspicious beginning. Mayor Robert Ewing, shown in photo above, rolled the first bowl down the lanes and had a strike. Others waiting to get on the alleys are shown in background. Manager George Garde reports that business to date has been brisk. (Humphrey photo)
