Action Postponed By Commissioners On More Funds For Water Line Here

Members of the Moore County Development committee, accompanied by Southern Pines Mayor Robert S. Ewing, former chairman of the committee, asked the county commissioners Tuesday for $2,050 to finish paying the costs of piping water to the new Trimble, Inc., plant.

The Town of Southern Pines has already paid $16,000 to lay the pipe to the city limits, and the county has paid $7,500 to carry it from there to the plant site.

But it cost more than that, said J. F. Steed of Robbins, who served as spokesman for the group. Reasons the bill exceeded estimates: in anticipation of additional industry and for development of that section, a 12-inch line instead of a six-inch line was laid—and it was carried all the way across the Trimble property. Also, fire insurance protection required installation of a hydrant at the property's edge.

The Trimble company paid for the pipeline extension and a tap for the plant and placed its own hydrants near the building, it was stated.

While approving the changes in principle, the commissioners said no additional amount had been budgeted, and they would have to postpone action on the request.

The $275,000 Trimble plant is nearly completed on a site off NC 2, just north of Southern Pines. An October opening is hoped for.

Tuesday's delegation was composed of Steed, Mayor Ewing, Eutice Mills of Pinebluff, Billy

Johnson of West End, and June Blue and Norris L. Hodgkins, Jr., of Southern Pines.
