Town Council Will Consider Police Matter

Request For Negro Officers Will Come Up Tuesday Night

The controversial question of Negro policemen is expected to come up again at the regular meeting of the Town Council Tuesday, October 13, at 8 p. m. in the town hall.

The docket will also include: Further discussion of a proposed vagrancy ordinance to which an objection was entered at the last meeting by Councilman Felton Capel of West Southern Pines.

A hearing on a re-zoning request and subdivision approval for a portion of the W. P. Davis property, off Crestview Road.

A zoning hearing on a proposal to change to a business zone a 200-foot frontage on Bennett St., between New York and Massachusetts Aves.

Hearings on curb and gutter proposals on W. Vermont and E. Ohio Aves.

At the September meeting, Councilman Capel asked that members of the council clarify the position they had taken on the Negro policeman question at the August meeting, whose minutes, he said, did not show in sufficient detail how individual members of the council then felt about the matter.

At the August meeting, Mayor R. S. Ewing had told a West Southern Pines Civic Club group, who were asking for one or more Negro policemen, that the council would leave the decision to the city manager and the chief of police.

After the proposed vagrancy ordinance was read at the September meeting, Councilman Capel said that he did not think it could be administered fairly as written and that there was a danger that innocent persons would be arrested.

Collection Of Clothing Slated

The "clothing closet" collection of the Southern Pines Junior Women's Club will be made from 7 to 10 p. m., Thursday, October 15, it was announced this week by Mrs. Douglas Kelly, chairman of the club's welfare and youth committee.

Anyone having clothing to give is asked to place it on his front porch and turn the porch light on. Club members plan to tour the town in cars and pick up the clothing.

Items donated are kept in stock by the club to be drawn on by the county welfare department when clothing is required for needy families. Therefore clothing of all types and for all ages is acceptable.

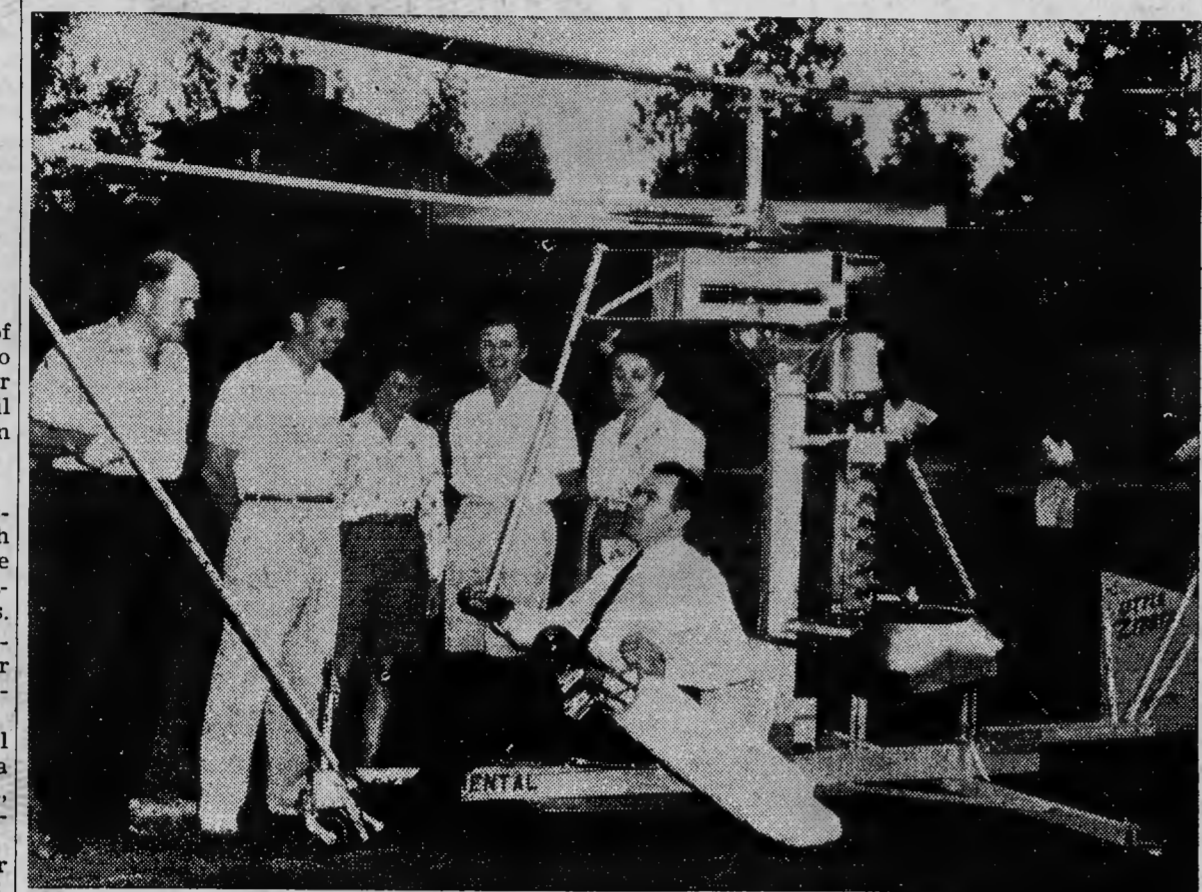

Serving with Mrs. Kelly on the committee are Mrs. Stanley Austin, Mrs. W. J. Graham, Jr., and Mrs. Maynard Mangum. Members of the committee will pick up clothing at other times from anyone unable to put it out for collection October 15.

GILMORE DESCRIBES TRIP

On World's Fastest Nuclear Sub

Voit Gilmore here reports on a journey aboard USS Skipjack, world's fastest nuclear submarine, including five hours of underwater operations at heretofore unattained depths and speeds. He made the one-day cruise out of New London, Conn., last Thursday. A resident of Southern Pines and member of the N. C. Board of Conservation and Development, Mr. Gilmore has previously written newspaper reports on his trips to both the Arctic and Antarctic and on a supersonic jet flight across North Carolina.

By VOIT GILMORE
The world's swiftest, deadliest nuclear submarine is plunging toward the bottom of the Atlantic—so steeply that we lunge forward and grab steel safety rails. Our dive angle exceeds 30 degrees, as steep as a ski run. Count

Invention Seen At Aero Club Convention

Here's a close look at the "Little Zipster" one-man helicopter, with its inventor and manufacturer, Igor Bensen of Raleigh, at the controls. The golf bag? Mr. Bensen says you can zip around a golf course in the Zipster and demonstrated how it could be done at the Pine Needles course as part of the program of the Carolina Aero Club meeting here over the weekend. Looking on with interest in the picture are, left to right: Mayor R. S. Ewing who was on hand to welcome the flyers Saturday; Warren Bell of Pine Needles Lodge; and Country Club which was the convention headquarters; Miss Page Shamburger of Aberdeen and Fort Worth, Texas, who was in charge of the program and arrangements; Mrs. Peggy Kirk Bell; and Mrs. Bensen. The Little Zipster is powered by an outboard motor. Its appearance here was its first public demonstration. Miss Shamburger is also a member of the "Ninety-Nines," an organization of women pilots who were here along with members of the Aero Club. Others on the arrangements committee were Mr. Bell; L. C. (Buck) McKenzie, manager of the Southern Pines-Pinehurst Airport; and Charles J. McDonald, Jr. Pilots flew in for the meeting from over North and South Carolina. ## Official Shown Traffic Problem On S. W. Broad St.

The problem of the dangerous intersection at the south end of S. W. Broad St. was brought to the attention of the State Highway Commission this week during the visit of the full commission to Moore County.

Town officials and representatives of the Moore County Historical Association conferred Monday morning with W. F. Babcock, director of highways, who examined the situation at the intersection.

Display of the historic Shaw House, at this corner, which is owned and maintained by the Historical Association, is one of the major considerations, along with safety, in the proposal to remodel the intersection.

Conferring with Mr. Babcock were Mayor R. S. Ewing, Town Manager Louis Scheipers, Jr., F. F. (Bud) Rainey, tax collector; Mrs. James Boyd, a member of the board of directors of the Historical Association, and Norris Hodgkins, Jr., treasurer of the Association.

Missing Child's Body Found

The body of five-year-old David Raleigh, missing since June, has been found.

The child was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Raleigh of Fayetteville, N. Y. Mrs. Raleigh is the former Lucille Grover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Grover of Southern Pines.

The boy disappeared on June 13 from the area of a summer cottage where the Raleigh family was vacationing at Lake Winisook, near Big Indian, in New York State's Catskill mountains. The family lives at Fayetteville, a suburb of Syracuse, N. Y. Mr. Raleigh has an insurance business in Syracuse.

Funeral services for David were conducted at the Presbyterian Church in Fayetteville on Tuesday.

The Raleighs have two other children, Susan, 10, and Bill, who will be eight this month.

According to information reaching the grandparents here, (Continued on page 8)

Wildlife Club Host To State Meeting

Members of the Moore County Wildlife Club described this week as highly successful the annual convention of the North Carolina Wildlife Federation which brought about 200 persons to the Holly Inn at Pinehurst Friday and Saturday.

Many members of the club were present to welcome the visitors and attend various sessions of the two-day meeting.

Dr. George Heinitsch of Southern Pines was the general convention chairman. Other members of the Moore County Club playing prominent parts in the event were: the president, Albert Tufts of Pinehurst; Neill McKay of Southern Pines, registration chairman; and Gen. R. B. Hill of Southern Pines, entertainment chairman.

Mrs. R. B. Hill was in charge of a ladies' entertainment program that included watching a parachute drop on the Fort Bragg military reservation.

Rep. H. Clifton Blue of Aberdeen, a member of the Moore County Wildlife Club, was toastmaster at the Friday night banquet.

Attending the convention were members of the N. C. Wildlife Resources Commission, National and State Wildlife Federation representatives, game protectors and officers and members of many of the 48 Wildlife Clubs in North Carolina. Many of the delegates brought their wives. The Moore County club has a

PTA Will Hear Discussion Of Consolidation

County Education Board Member To Describe Proposals

The thinking of the Moore County board of education on high school consolidations will be expressed before the East Southern Pines Parent-Teacher Association at its October meeting Monday night.

The meeting will begin at 8 p. m. in Weaver Auditorium.

C. S. (Buster) Patch, Jr., PTA president, said this week that Jere McKeithen of Aberdeen, a member of the county board of education, will speak on the subject. Mr. Patch stressed that the program does not mean the PTA is endorsing consolidation but only that members of the local organization will be able to learn how the county board of education is approaching the subject at this time.

Mr. Patch said that, after the program, parents will be invited to visit their children's classrooms where teachers will be present to talk with them.

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria in the basement of the auditorium after the meeting.

Mr. McKeithen, Aberdeen businessman, is a member of the board that administers schools of the county system which includes those at Southern Pines and Pinehurst which have their own (Continued on page 8)

MEMORIAL FUND

A fund to provide a scholarship to Princeton University has been established in memory of David Raleigh.

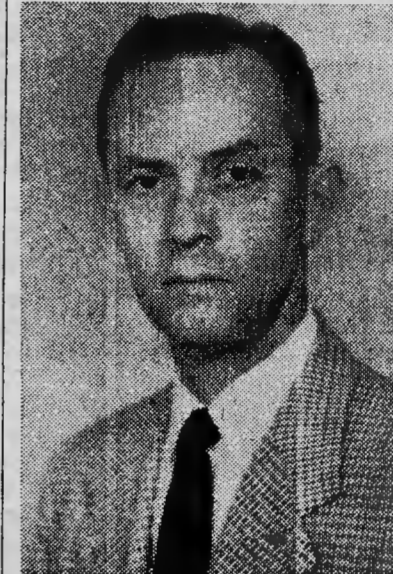

Donations to the fund will be held in trust until the year that David would have entered the University, had he lived until that time.

David's father, Stuart Raleigh, is a graduate of Princeton, as was his grandfather. Contributions to the fund may be sent to the father at Fayetteville, N. Y.

The fund was established after consultation with authorities at Princeton.

Southern Seniors Will Play Here Next Week

Tournaments Scheduled On Local Courses

MR. SMITH

Frank M. Smith Joins Scott In Realty Business

Joseph I. Scott of the Scott Insurance Agency announced this week the association of Francis ("Frank") M. Smith with his organization. Mr. Smith, recently retired from the Army, will work in real estate.

Mr. Smith retired from the Army as a lieutenant colonel in July and he and his family have lived here since that time. From January, 1952, until August, 1954, while the Air-Ground School was located in Southern Pines, he was an Army instructor in the school.

Other assignments during his military career included those of an infantry company commander during World War II and of a battalion commander in Korea in 1950-'51.

In addition to various other troop and staff assignments, Mr. Smith served as a military ad- (Continued on page 8)

License Exam

Offices To Be Closed 4 Days

D. A. Clark of Route 2, Cameron, driver's license examiner for Southern Pines, Aberdeen and Pinehurst, said that his office in Southern Pines and Aberdeen would be closed next week because he will be attending a school for license examiners at the Institute of Government in Chapel Hill.

His regular schedule puts him each week at Aberdeen Monday and Tuesday and at Southern Pines Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. Clark said he would be able to meet the public as usual at Pinehurst on Friday.

The examiner serving Carthage will also be at the school, Mr. Clark said. Sanford or Fayetteville will be the nearest offices open, Monday through Thursday of next week.

WELFARE DRAWS ATTENTION

Blue, Currie Deplore New Cuts

State-wide concern about proposed cuts in welfare payments to the aged and to the permanently and totally disabled was focused this week on Moore County, as Rep. H. Clifton Blue of Aberdeen suggested a special session of the General Assembly to deal with the problem, if no other solution can be found, and Sen. Wilbur Currie of Carthage, who fought for additional welfare funds during the General Assembly last Spring, backed Mr. Blue's position and called the welfare fund shortage a "terrible mistake."

The Welfare cuts broke into the news recently when the State Advisory Budget Commission reduced the share of welfare payments provided by the state.

Effect of the action was to make it necessary to lower Old Age Assistance payments by five per cent, effective in January, and payments to the disabled, also by five per cent, effective in November.

Last week, Mrs. Walter B. Cole, superintendent of the Moore County Welfare Department, said that she anticipated suffering in Moore County this winter among welfare recipients, unless additional funds can be provided from some other source.

Senator Currie told a reporter this week: "It is unthinkable that the state's aged and handicapped, the poor unfortunate, should lose a few dollars when many other appropriations were increased, when early revenue returns show the state is well able to afford better, and when North Carolina's welfare grants already were the lowest in the nation."

The Women's Southern Seniors will hold their tournament Thursday and Friday at Southern Pines with a putting contest to follow Thursday's first round.

The all-member annual cocktail party is scheduled for 6 to 7:30 p. m. Thursday with a banquet to follow at 7:45 at Mid-Pines.

Prizes for winners in both the men's and women's organizations and for the ladies' putting contest, will be awarded immediately following conclusion of play in Friday's finals.

150 Expected, VFW District Meeting Sunday

John Boyd Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Auxiliary will be host Sunday to VFW and Auxiliary members from posts over the organization's 9th district.

About 150 persons are expected for a meeting and dinner to be held at the National Guard armory on Morganton Road.

Thom McKenzie, commander of the local post, will open the meeting at 2 p. m., turning the chair over to David Adeimy of Hamlet, district commander. Registration will begin at noon. "Membership" will be the theme of the meeting.

Featured speaker will be Dr. Charles English of Wilmington, VFW Department (State) surgeon.

Dinner will follow the meeting. (See women's pages of today's Pilot for announcement of the Auxiliary's part in the meeting).

STILL MISSING

Mrs. Lily Burns of the Robbins Crossroads community, who disappeared Monday of last week, had not been found today.
