Anderson Tract Picked For Camp To Aid Crippled

70 Acres Lie Near Town; Officials To Visit Here Sunday

The North Carolina Society for Crippled Children and Adults has acquired the property of Mr. and Mrs. Winston H. Anderson, north of the Knollwood section, as a site for the camp it is planning to build here.

The announcement came from Mrs. Graham Culbreth, chairman of the local committee. Mrs. Culbreth said that the executive committee and the medical advisory committee of the society and Albin Pikutis, executive secretary, will be here Sunday to walk over the property and talk over possible building sites.

The tract, comprising 70 acres, is partly wooded, partly farmland. It lies to the north of and adjoining the Longcope and Dent farms, and was formerly part of the Ernest Aiken estate. There are several buildings already on the place, a pond, and some fine plantings of fruit trees.

The former owners, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, have never actually lived on their property but have used it for a summer camping place, coming here for a couple of months for the past twelve years. Mrs. Culbreth stressed their generosity in the recent negotiations with the board, in withholding the property from others until the Society could make its decision and in various most generous terms of payment.

Members of the local committee including Mrs. Culbreth, Voit Gilmore and Norris Hodgkins, Jr., as well as a few others are expected to meet with the society officials this Sunday, following which, a fully detailed release of future plans will, it is reported, be issued.

Plans Being Made To Aid Needy At Christmas Time

By MRS. WALTER B. COLE
Superintendent, Moore County Welfare Department

The Moore County Welfare Department is beginning to get together its list of needy families to be remembered at Christmas.

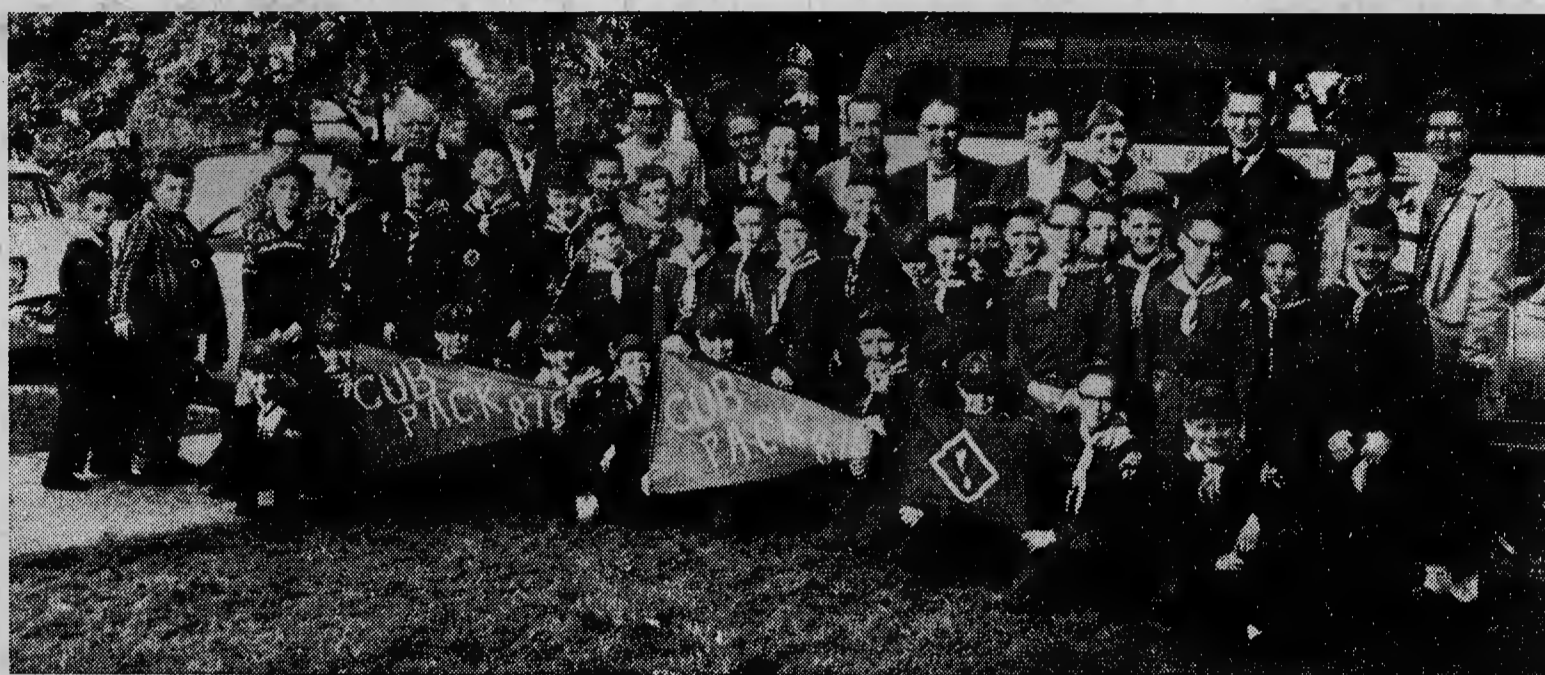

There are children in their own homes where the father is earning approximately $20 a week and there are seven or eight children to be cared for. There are children in broken homes where small, inadequate public assistance grants will not provide for any extras. There are children in institutions, state hospitals, children's training schools and children's homes. There are children in boarding homes away from their own families temporarily until other plans can be made.

Jugtown Hearing May Be Delayed

After the term of Moore County Superior Court for the trial of criminal cases opened in Carthage Monday, Judge F. Donald Phillips, presiding, said that three motions in civil suits, which had been calendared for Monday, would not be heard until all criminal cases had been disposed of.

As here are some 75 criminal cases on this week's docket, the ruling made it unlikely that the civil motions would be heard. One of the motions was in the long Jugtown pottery controversy, in which it would be decided whether a temporary restraining order on operation of the pottery by the owners, Jacques and Juliana Busbee's Jugtown, Inc., should become permanent.

John Mare is a principal stock holder in the corporation. Seeking the restraining order was Jugtown, Inc., another corporation backed by a number of members of art and literary circles in Raleigh and Greensboro.

OFF TO THE GAME!—This happy group lined up for a photo just before leaving in the school activities bus (driven by Supt. Luther A. Adams) for Chapel Hill to see the Carolina-Virginia football game last Saturday. These Cub Scouts of Pack 76, which is sponsored by the Church of Wide Fellowship, won the trip as an achievement and membership award. Adults standing, left to right, behind the boys—parents, den mothers and other officials—are Mrs. Joe Kimball, Frank P. Smith, Bob Henderson, Joe Kimball, Dwight Hoskins, Mrs. Frank P. Smith, Supt. Adams, J. R. Howe, Cubmaster, who was in the photo but could not make the trip, Mrs. Evelyn Grootman, Frank Wilson, Mrs. Mal-

Colonel Madigan Appointed Moore Director Of CD

Col. Donald Madigan of Southern Pines will succeed Admiral Felix Baker as Moore County's Civil Defense director.

The appointment was made by the board of county commissioners in a special meeting at Carthage Wednesday.

Col. Madigan has for some years been the Southern Pines CD head, but has resigned this post. He said today he will accept the county position only when a new Southern Pines director is appointed and that he expects to work closely with his successor.

Admiral Baker told the commissioners at their November 2 meeting he did not think his health was good enough for him to continue as director. A formal resolution was directed, expressing the board's appreciation for his services. Admiral Baker, retired Navy officer, lives on the old Leavitt's Lake property near Eastwood.

Colonel Madigan, a retired Army officer, has been director of Civil Defense in Southern Pines since 1947 when he set up one of the first community Civil Defense organizations in North Carolina.

He commanded the artillery of the 503rd Combat Team (Parachute) in the Pacific during (Continued on Page 8)

Supervisors In Conference Here

Public school supervisors from throughout North Carolina were registering early this afternoon for their annual three-day meeting here. Theme of the conference is "Newer Emphases in Education in North Carolina." Headquarters is at the Holly-wood Hotel, with members of the group also staying at the Southland and the Jefferson Inn. General sessions will be held in Weaver Auditorium.

Blood Collections Set For Aberdeen, Southern Pines; County Has 'Deficit'

Moore County, in which use of blood by hospitals is running ahead of collections, will have an opportunity to balance up the score when the Red Cross bloodmobile from Charlotte visits Aberdeen on Monday, November 30 and Southern Pines on Tuesday, December 1.

In Aberdeen, the place of collection will be the Baptist church and the hours 12 noon to 6 p. m. For the Southern Pines stop, the bloodmobile will be at the National Guard Armory on Morgan Road, 11 a. m. to 5 p. m., County Deficit Noted.

The executive committee of the Red Cross Blood Program in North Carolina has advised John Buchholz of Southern Pines, Moore County chairman of the Blood Bank, that at the present time Moore County has a deficit of 72 pints.

Usage in Moore County during recent weeks has amounted to 426 pints, whereas the collection for the same period was 354 pints. "It is extremely important, therefore," Mr. Buchholz said, "that when blood collections are made at Aberdeen on November 30 and at Southern Pines on December 1 at least 300 pints of blood, an average of 150 at each place, be collected in order for Moore County to get back to where it will no longer be relying upon other counties for support of its withdrawals from the State Blood Bank." Armed Robbery Staged By Pair In Stolen Auto

The Moore County sheriff's department is investigating a bold armed robbery of the Phillips 66 station, on US 1 between Southern Pines and Aberdeen, early Tuesday morning.

Cleveland Beals, 25, of Vass, night attendant at the station, told Deputies J. A. Lawrence and H. H. Grimm that he had been held up by two unmasked white men, who took some $30 to $40 from the cash register.

Beals said the men, described as middle-aged, drove up in a blue 1959 Ford and asked to buy a soft drink; and that he pointed out the drink machine, and turned to go back into the station. He said they followed him inside, and one held a single-barrel shotgun on him while the other indicated the cash register, informing him, "This is a holdup, son—open up that thing."

It was learned from the sheriff's department Wednesday that the license tag number of the car, which Beals had taken, when (Continued on page 8)

PARENT-TEACHER GAMES

Parents and teachers will compete in men's and women's basketball games at the East Southern Pines school gym Tuesday night, November 24, at 8 p. m., for benefit of the Junior-Senior dance fund. Women who want to play should notify Mrs. Ray McDonald at town hall; the men, Joel Stutts.

Students Getting Best Holiday Deal

Students in the Southern Pines schools get the best deal in the way of vacations next week.

While most stores and offices will be closed for Thanksgiving Day (Thursday) only, the students will have a holiday from after school Wednesday until they go back the following Monday morning.

But Supt. Luther A. Adams emphasized that it will be a full day of school Wednesday—no getting out early.

The Citizens Bank and Trust Co., town offices, the Library and the courthouse in Carthage will be closed for Thanksgiving. The post office will follow its holiday schedule of closed windows all day, no home delivery of mail but the usual processing of mail at the post office.

Senator Jordan Speaks Tonight

Sen. B. Everett Jordan will be guest speaker tonight at the annual recognition dinner of the Moore District Boy Scout organization. The program, with "pot luck" supper, begins at 6:30 p. m. at the National Guard armory.

New district officers will be installed. More than 700 persons, adult Scouters and their families, are expected.

Churches Join In Service

The Rev. Robert Mooney, pastor of the Southern Pines Methodist Church, will give the address at the annual Community Thanksgiving Service in which all local Protestant churches join. Ministers of other churches will take part in the service.

The service will be held at the Church of Wide Fellowship (Congregational Christian) at 8 p. m., Wednesday, November 25. The offering will go to "Share Your Surplus," an interdenominational overseas relief agency.

A special Thanksgiving service will be held at 11 a. m. Thanksgiving Day at the First Church of Christ Scientist on New Hampshire Ave. The public is invited.

Opening Meeting Of Hunt Set For Thanksgiving Day

To all riders to hounds and neighbors who like to watch, the call goes out this week: "Thanksgiving Day will be the Opening Meet day of the Moore County Hounds."

Hounds will meet at the Mile-away Farm kennels in Manly at 10 a. m., to follow a drag laid over the surrounding farmlands and woods.

Handling the pack as usual will be the master, W. O. Moss, with Mrs. Moss as first whip. Also whipping this year will be Miss Sandy Glynn of Greens Farms, Conn. Miss Glynn has spent three winters with the Mosses and whipped in unofficially last year. This year she will turn out in pink as a fully qualified member of the staff.

The Master reports that hounds are in good form and ready to go. As evidence he cites today's run, the first of the season, when the pack jumped a big fox in the covert back of the Webb place and ran him to the railroad crossing.

Said Mrs. Moss: "If the four couples of puppies we had out (Continued on page 8)

Carthage To Play For State 8-Man Football Crown

The Carthage High School 8-man football team will play for the state championship in its class November 27.

The Moore County boys clinched the Western District championship here Friday night with a 26-13 victory over Celeste Henkel, running up a 20-0 lead in the first half before Celeste Henkel scored.

Bath or Hallsboro are playing Friday night of this week to determine the Eastern champion that will meet Carthage.

PILOT TO PUBLISH NEXT WEDNESDAY

The Pilot will publish on Wednesday of next week because of the Thanksgiving holiday on Thursday.

Correspondents are asked to get their news in by Monday. Advertisers are asked to have their copy in at least a day in advance of their usual schedule. Deadline for news and classified advertising will be 10:30 a. m. Wednesday.

Kiwanis Launches Drive For Funds To Help Students

Members of the Sandhills Kiwanis Club, who have contributed more than 4,000 hours of benevolent and religious work thus far in 1959, this week announced the largest social service project in the Club's history. The Sandhills Kiwanis Educational Foundation, Inc., has been established to "lend financial support to worthy boys and girls for the purpose of pursuing educational courses."

According to R. F. Hoke Pollock, Kiwanis president, a campaign will begin throughout the county this week to solicit through newspapers funds to make possible educational loans to Moore County students. The Kiwanis Foundation will succeed The Moore County Educational Foundation which was established in 1930 for the same purpose.

Loans will be available for college, university and professional training and applications will be made to the foundation's officers.

The officers and members of the new foundation are John M. Howarth, president; Dr. E. M. Medlin, vice-president; Paul Dana, secretary; Thomas T. Hayes, Jr., treasurer; E. T. McKeithen and Paul VonCanon.

The fund from which the student loans will be made will be raised by Kiwanians through the newspaper solicitation and by the sale of "all-purpose cloths" in Aberdeen, Pinehurst and Southern Pines on November 21 and 28.

Hodgkins Given Banking Honor

The appointment of Norris L. Hodgkins, Jr., as "County Key Banker" for Moore County during the next 12 months was announced this week by North Carolina Bankers Association President G. Harold Myrick of Lincolnton. Mr. Hodgkins is executive vice president of The Citizens Bank and Trust Company of Southern Pines.

The 100 Key Bankers work as a statewide committee to promote the numerous farm activities sponsored by the bankers of North Carolina. This program has won a national award for the Tar Heel bankers for 15 straight years.

County Library To Open Fridays

Beginning next week the Moore County Library will be open to the public use two days a week, Monday and Friday, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Since the library moved to Carthage in January of this year, it has only been open on Mondays. It is the hope of the Library board and staff that opening the library on Fridays, also, will make it possible for more people in the county to take advantage of the Library's services.

The Library board also announces that, beginning Monday, December 7, a fine of two cents per day will be charged for all books not returned on the date they are due. Any overdue books returned to the library before that date will be accepted without penalty.

Cards are going out today from town hall to 1,679 households in the Southern Pines school district to sample public opinion on whether the district school board should be appointed or elected.

The poll was authorized by the town council some time ago when councilmen reported requests from citizens that such a check on opinion be made. Council members themselves said they would be interested to see how residents of the district felt about the matter.

The five-member school board is now appointed by the town council. Each "ballot" sent out asks three questions: the number of eligible voters in the household; the number who favor appointing the board; and the number who favor electing the board. The head of the household must sign the card to be returned.

Town Manager Louis Scheipers, Jr., said that "eligible voter" as used on the card means any person 21 years of age or over. Such a person need not now be registered to vote in any town, county or other election.

The cards to be sent back are addressed and postage-paid.

Mr. Scheipers said the mailing list was drawn from the regular Southern Pines water account list, from a registration book of voters in a school bond election and from the telephone directory. The school district includes territory outside the town limits.

Extra cards have been printed and anyone living in the school district and not receiving a card within the next few days can obtain one at the town hall.

It is not within the power of the town council to change the system of selecting the school board.

If the system were to be changed, an amendment to the town charter would have to be authorized by the General Assembly which will not meet until 1961.

The poll, therefore, town officials pointed out, is not being conducted with the possibility of any immediate action one way or another.

The larger the vote, the more accurate the poll will be, it was pointed out.

Carousel Begins With 170 Entries, Cloudless Skies

With the temperature rising today under cloudless skies, after a two-day cold snap, the Jay-sees' Golf Carousel began with a record field of 170-odd entries.

Golfers who come from Canada to Florida and from the Mid-Western States were qualifying today. Medalist trophies in both the men's and mixed divisions will be presented at a cocktail party tonight at the Pine Needles Country Club.

The party opens a round of social activities, including a dance at the armory Saturday night, that is part of the tournament "package."

Contestants will be playing over all three local courses, Mid Pines, Pine Needles and Southern Pines Country Club.

Trophies will be presented Sunday afternoon. Norris Hodgkins, Jr., Carousell chairman for the sponsoring Junior Chamber of Commerce, said today the tournament appears to be the biggest and best in the several years of its existence.

The Saturday night dance is open to the public. Ed Turbeville and orchestra, from Myrtle Beach, S. C., will play. George Morrison at Broad Street Pharmacy is ticket chairman.
