Brochure Marks Moore Hospital's 30th Anniversary

Institution Opened November 25, 1929; Progress Reviewed

About 2,400 copies of a 20-page, illustrated brochure, "Three Decades of Progress-Growth-Service," were mailed out this week to residents of this area, marking the 30th anniversary of the opening of Moore Memorial Hospital (then Moore County Hospital) November 25, 1929.

A report of exceptional response in the "Neighbor Aid" fund campaign recently begun by the hospital in connection with its 30th anniversary was made this week.

Some $4,000 had been contributed early this week, in addition to some gifts of securities from which the income is to be used for the special fund.

Neighbor Aid contributions will be used to help defray medical expenses of patients unable to meet regular or exceptionally high hospital bills—not only charity patients but persons with little income who otherwise would be unable to pay bills for hospital care.

The "Three Decades" brochure expresses appreciation for all past generosity to the hospital and solicits continued financial support from the people of this area. A form is provided at the end of the brochure for earmarking contributions to the Neighbor Aid Fund, the Plant Fund or the Endowment Fund, all of which are explained in the booklet. There is also a form to be signed by persons wishing to make a bequest to the hospital. The handsome brochure is illustrated with photographs by John Hemmer, showing stages in the growth of the building—whose capacity has risen from 33 to 120 patients—present and past officers and directors, medical and department staffs and scenes in the building.

Total operating expenses in the first full year of operation were $53,215.53, as compared with $26,956 for the last fiscal year.

Kiwanis Honors Hospital's '30th'

At its luncheon meeting Wednesday, at the Pine Needles Country Club, the Sandhills Kiwanis Club recognized the 30th anniversary of the opening of Moore Memorial Hospital. Paul Dana of Pinehurst was the program chairman.

Present for the occasion were staff physicians, present and past administrators, hospital department heads, present and past presidents and officers of the Auxiliary, officers and directors and friends of the institution.

R. F. Hoke Pollock, club president presided. Guests were introduced by Mr. Dana who is secretary and treasurer of the hospital.

Luther A. Adams, superintendent of Southern Pines schools, was inducted as a member of the club.

"All-purpose cloths" will be sold for the second Saturday on November 28 in Southern Pines, Pinehurst and Aberdeen, for benefit of the Sandhills Kiwanis Educational Foundation, a student loan fund announced last week by the club.

The cloths will be sold in front of the post office and the bank here, in front of the bank in Pinehurst and on the streets in the Aberdeen business section.

NEW STORE MANAGER

Meeting Tuesday night, the Moore County Alcoholic Beverage Control Board appointed Morris Arnold manager of the Southern Pines ABC store, succeeding the late Curtis Everette. Mr. Arnold was formerly assistant manager. Mark L. (Mike) Whitesell was named assistant manager.

The appointments were announced today by L. J. Hinson, county ABC manager.

ACTION! — There's plenty of action in this unusual hunting scene caught by Photographer Emerson Humphrey, as W. O. Moss, joint master of the Moore County Hounds, takes his horse over a jump with the hounds racing nearby, in a scene that is likely to be duplicated during the opening hunt meeting here on Thanksgiving Day. Mr. Moss handles the pack, with Mrs.

Moss as first whip. After the opening meeting, the Moore County Hounds will go out each Tuesday and Thursday morning. The Thanksgiving Hunt begins at 10 a.m. A hunt breakfast will be given for participants by Mrs. Warner Atkins and Mrs. Eleanor O'Neill, at the Mosses' Mileaway Farm.

GYMKHANA SUNDAY

The Carolina Hotel ring at Pinehurst will be the scene Sunday for the pet show and gymkhana staged annually after Thanksgiving. The events are open to the public free of charge.

Pet show classes are: best of show, funniest and most unusual. Gymkhana classes include beginner, intermediate and advanced horsemanship, musical stunts and egg and spoon race.

Troy W. Garner Killed In Wreck

Tuesday Morning

Troy W. Garner, 32, of Robbins became Moore County's thirteenth traffic fatality Tuesday morning when the automobile he was driving went out of control during a drizzling rain and struck a gasoline truck, three quarters of a mile north of Robbins on NC 705, almost in front of C. H. Garner's store.

Noah H. Key of Route 1, Robbins, driver of the truck—owned by Johnny Burns Oil Company of Southern Pines—told Cpl. J. A. McCollman of the State Highway Patrol and Moore County Coroner Ralph G. Steed that he saw the Garner vehicle, a 1956 four-door Plymouth hardtop, coming and that the driver apparently lost control, as the car left the road on the right, skidded back onto the highway, turning sideways and headed into his lane of traffic, still traveling sideways. Key said he began blowing his horn and was turning into the Garner store driveway when the car struck his truck just past the driver's seat.

The gasoline truck, fully loaded with gasoline and kerosene, made at least one complete turn, landing upright near the store entrance. The Garner car landed about 200 feet up the road after being crushed by the truck. Both vehicles were rated a total loss. Steed said Garner, who was thrown from the wreckage, died (Continued on page 8)

Perkinson Installed Scout Chairman; 7 Honored For Outstanding Service

The biggest and most enthusiastic "Recognition Dinner" in the history of the Moore Boy Scout District jammed the National Guard Armory last Thursday night.

Some 800 adult Scouters, their wives and guests filled the big room for a "potluck" meal and heard reports of progress made during the past year and a program of speeches, honors and awards.

Joe E. Sandlin of Southern Pines, concluding his second term as district chairman, revealed figures showing all goals for the year have been surpassed. With 1,050 boys now registered in Moors in 60 units, new goals were set for 1960 of 1,250 boys and 70 units.

Unusual progress won for Moore the President's Cup in the Oconeechee Council for 1958 and may do the same for 1959.

It was a report which, said guest speaker U. S. Senator B. Everett Jordan, was "the finest I ever heard—a wonderful example for Scouting all over the United States."

182 Players Take Part In Successful Golf Carousel

With 182 golfers from 15 states, the District of Columbia and Canada taking part, the Southern Pines Golf Carousel ended a lively, four-day program on Sunday. It was called this week the most successful and enjoyable in the history of the event.

The sponsoring Jaycees, with Norris Hodgkins, Jr., general chairman for the unique tournament that permits golfers to play on three local courses, were pleased with the response. Many of the golfers, they said, had been here before and want to come back again. Everybody, it seemed, had a good time.

Consolation rounds kept the whole crowd playing from Thursday, the qualifying day, until Sunday. Parties and a dance at the armory Saturday night provided social diversion. For the visitors it all came in a package whose value nobody seemed to question.

Play was over all three local courses—Mid Pines, Pine Needles and the Southern Pines Country Club. The Sunday finals and presentation of trophies were at Mid Pines.

An exhibition by Mrs. Peggy Kirk Bell, a professional golfer, was a highlight of the Friday program. Mrs. Bell and her husband, Warren Bell, own and operate the Pine Needles Lodges and Country Club.

The entire membership of the Jaycees worked on the event, starting preparations months ago. Among the chairmen for various phases of the Carousel were Tom Ruggles, entry; Dick Mattocks and George Morrison, dance; Joe Currie, trophies; David Sedberry, invitations; Tom Craven, finance; and Carl Lee, advertising.

Charles Marcum, of Southern Pines, a professional golfer who is associated with a golf equipment company, was tournament director.

Serving on an advisory committee were Warren Bell, Bill Weldon and Carlos Frye.

Galloway And Justa Shoot 10-Under-Par 61 For Victory

A couple of University of North Carolina students—Ed Justa of Rocky Mount and Bob Galloway of Winston-Salem—shot a phenomenal best ball, 10-under-par 61 on the Mid Pines course Sunday to cop the men's division championship trophy in the final round of the Southern Pines Golf Carousel.

Their opponents, Grover Dillon, Jr. and Reid Tower, both of Raleigh, found that playing sub-par golf themselves wasn't enough to win and went under 4 and 3. Justa and Galloway were hot all the way in the Carousel. They were men's division medalists on Thursday with a 68.

Dick Chapman of Pinehurst and Art Ruffin of Wilson, defending champions, were tops in the consolation flight of the men's division, defeating James Collins of Lumberton—formerly of Southern Pines—and Gene Lookabill of Charlotte, 4 and 2.

In the mixed division, for men and women, Charles Eaton of Winchester, Mass., teamed with Mrs. Kip French of New Canaan, Conn., for medalist honors at 74 and for a championship flight victory, 1 up, over Mr. and Mrs. Carl Riskey of Toledo, Ohio.

Consolation winners in the mixed division were Mr. and Mrs. G. Noble Willis of Bristol, Conn., who defeated Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wolfe of Huron, Ohio, 1 up. (Continued on page 8)

Many Students Will Take Part In Guidance Day

About 700 juniors and seniors from 11 Moore County high schools are expected to take part Wednesday, December 2, in the most ambitious and comprehensive Vocational Guidance and College Career Day program ever sponsored by the Sandhills Kiwanis Club. The program is conducted annually by the club at the Southern Pines High School.

R. M. Cushman of Southern Pines, the club's chairman for the event, said that new emphasis is being placed this year on guidance for students planning to enter college.

In addition to more than a dozen persons who will discuss various occupations and professions, representatives of 26 colleges and universities will be present to answer questions about their institutions. Parents are invited to attend this portion of the program with their sons and daughters—the first time that such an opportunity has been given parents in connection with Guidance Day.

Buses will transport students to Southern Pines from other schools in the county. The program will open with a general assembly in Weaver Auditorium at 9:30 a. m., when students will be welcomed and the day's program will get underway. (Continued on page 8) chased site for the State Society's permanent camp and therapy center here.

The 70-acre tract, the former Winston H. Anderson property, is north of Knollwood about a half mile from the town limits.

Mrs. Graham Culbreth, chairman of the local committee that worked with Society officers in acquiring a site in the Sandhills, said that the officials are delighted with the site and enthusiastic about tentative plans for using it.

In a business meeting held at the site, Dr. Edgar T. Thompson, president of the State Society and head of the School of Sociology at Duke University, appointed committees to begin work on various phases of the project.

Local committee members and friends of the Easter Seal Society attending included Mrs. Culbreth, Voit Gilmore, Ward Hill, Dr. Emily Tufts, Dr. Charles Phillips, Mayor Robert S. Ewing, Dr. H. A. Peck, Mr. and Mrs. William John Graham, Rep. H. Clifton Blue and others, some accompanied by members of their families.

Baluss, Jr., of Fayetteville, of the medical advisory committee; C. H. Peeler, Raleigh; C. C. Mulholland, Jr., Durham; J. Preston Wrenn and Elton Borton, Charlotte; Albin Pikutis, executive secretary, and Bernard Passer, therapist, of the Society's headquarters at Chapel Hill; Miss Margaret Moore of Chapel Hill and others.

Mrs. Culbreth said that memorial gifts may be made to the fund for building the camp and that she has already received such gifts. Until further arrangements are made, gifts can be sent to her.

A number of local persons helped with setting up the picnic facilities including two high school seniors, Bill Seymour and Tom Culbreth, who did much of the work of getting tables to the site and setting them up.

Picnic Planned At Alston House

George R. Ross of Jackson Springs, president of the Moore County Historical Society, said today that plans were being made for a picnic at the Alston "House in the Horseshoe" Saturday, November 28, beginning at 1 p.m. "We hope to have a large crowd," said Mr. Ross who stressed that the picnic meeting was not limited to members of the Society. "Just tell the people to come and bring a basket," he said.

Ross said that James E. Harrington, commander of the Moore National Guard Unit, with a detachment from the Guard, would be on hand in uniform to assist in parking. He said that Sheriff W. B. Kelly would have the gates to Governor Williams' tomb unlocked and open from 12 noon to 4 p.m., for those wishing to visit the grave of one of North Carolina's early governors.

Mr. Ross said that no speeches were on the calendar for the meeting which will follow the picnic dinner.

The Alston House where the meeting will be held is owned by the State with the Moore County Historical Society as caretakers, said Mr. Ross. It is located in Deep River township between Carthage and the Chatham County line.
