MR. AND MRS. GARTY CELEBRATE 35th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY AT OPEN HOUSE

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Garty celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary by holding open house at their East Massachusetts Avenue home last Friday from 3 to 5 p. m. and from 8 to 12 midnight.

A color note of coral and white was used in floral decorations in the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Garty, their daughter, Mrs. Robert Balboni, and son, Jack Garty, greeted the guests and their grandsons, Neal and Bobby Balboni, and Miss Jeannie Irvin had charge of the guest book.

The dining table, covered with a lace cloth, held a handsome centerpiece of carnations in coral and white, flanked by white candles in silver candelabra. Mrs. Manuel Perry, Miss Pauline Crain and Mrs. James Irvin served.

The couple received many lovely flowers and other gifts.

Mrs. Garty, the former Jennie Ashley of Fair Haven, Mass., and Mr. Garty, of New Bedford, Mass., were married in Glen Cove, Long Island. As newlyweds they came to Southern Pines to live, and have made this their home ever since except for a period of about 10 years when they went back to their native state.

During all the years Mr. Garty has operated a wholesale produce business here, in which his son and son-in-law are now associated with him. The couple has only two children and two grandchildren, who assisted them in entertaining.

MRS. FRANCK OF DURHAM SPEAKS TO LOCAL GROUP ON FRAGRANCE GARDEN

The Southern Pines Garden Club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. C. Stevens on Highland Road. The 12 members present welcomed three new members: Mrs. Robert C. Fisher, Mrs. R. F. Hoke Pollock and Mrs. Frank M. Smith, and two visitors, Mrs. Leigh Liggett, guest of Mrs. Audrey Kennedy, and Mrs. Martha Franck of Durham, who was present as guest speaker.

During the business session there was a discussion of and decision to make further efforts to save the magnolia trees at the Texaco station.

Mrs. R. M. McMillan introduced the first garden club in Durham, also the Garden Center there, which she still manages. She has held local and state garden club offices, including that of vice president of the state organization, and is much sought after for garden advice and as a judge of flower arrangements. She has written newspaper and magazine articles on gardening.

Her talk to the local gardeners was on a garden therapy project at Butler; a "Fragrance Garden" comprising an acre in front of the Rehabilitation Center for the newly-made blind there. It was conceived by Mrs. Franck and is being developed under her guidance with the financial help of civic organizations, friends and garden clubs.

Mrs. Franck showed her plan for the garden, which has been accepted by N. C. State College. The plan calls for shade trees, brick encased flower beds three feet high, a double fountain in the back with a bust of Helen Keller between, gravel walks, areas of grass, benches, et cetera.

This school takes only the newly-made blind, and authorities say that the odor of shrubs and flowers and the splashing of water greatly aid in their rehabilitation to a new life.

The local women were extremely interested in her talk and enthusiastic about the Fragrance Garden plan.

Baptist Girls Hold Mission Study Classes

The Girls Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church met Monday at the church for mission study classes and each of the two groups was served supper by a committee composed of Mrs. C. D. May, Mrs. Fred Woodruff, Mrs. Tom Speer, Mrs. David Gamble and Mrs. Eugene Norton.

The nine and 10 year olds met from 4 to 7 p. m. and their book was "Ten Bright Eyes," a series of five delightful stories.

Mrs. Paul Boroughs presented the first story using a homemade TV, which emphasized the importance of the work of publishers in the mission field. A highlight of the story was a game played by a Filipino boy and his friends. "A New Heart" was the second story and it was illustrated by a large heart. Pairs of smaller hearts of different sizes were matched by the girls to reveal facts about Paraguay.

Mrs. Tom Howerton reviewed the other three stories, one about a Japanese girl from a Buddhist family and her experiences in a Baptist school; another, "The Christmas Gift," in which a decorated Christmas package was used to reveal God's gifts of love, joy, hope and salvation. This story dealt with the Near East, "The Good News that Missionaries Preach" dealt with Nigeria. Interest was added with curios, pictures and maps of the countries studied.

The sub-teen GA's held their study from 5 to 8 p. m. with Mrs. C. A. McLaughlin and Mrs. Norman Caudle presenting the textbook "Appointment for Andy." A comparison of the preparation of a rookie in baseball and a missionary volunteer caught the interest of the girls.

A small ball field was on display and an orientation meeting for missionaries with dolls representing various nations around a conference table gave a vivid contrast, yet helped the girls to make a comparison.

A world globe was used as the girls studied around the world and the many types of vocations open to missionaries, those most frequently mentioned being preachers, teachers, publishers and medical workers.

The closing chapter, "Everyone a Missionary," brought home the fact that each one can be a missionary in her own vocation. A hymn of consecration, "Take My Life and Let It Be," was used in closing.

Jeannie Butler returned to her home on Midland Road Monday from Moore Memorial Hospital, where she underwent an appendectomy last week.

"NIGHT IN THE ISLANDS" dinner dance at the Pinehurst Country Club Friday night to benefit the Moore Memorial Hospital Auxiliary brought in well over $4,000 and provided a gala evening for a large gathering. The theme was strictly Hawaiian, with "Hula Dancers" and "Pearl Harbor Sailors," who in everyday life are residents of Southern Pines and Pinehurst.

Deadwyler, Peter Tufts, Sally Cushman, Dr. Dewey Gadd, and Linda Owens, and, in the foreground, James Gilbert.

Murals of Diamond Head, Hawaiian God, and cut-outs of tropical fish painted various colors by committee members of the Auxiliary from Aberdeen, Southern Pines and Pinehurst created a real Hawaiian atmosphere.
