IT'S CHRISTMAS! The three choirs—Adult, Pioneer (ages 13-15) and Youth (children 9-12) of Brownson Memorial Presbyterian Church join in singing the "Hallelujah Chorus" as the closing number of a White Christmas musical program presented at 5 p. m. on Sunday before Christmas. Each choir sang several anthems. Mrs. Norris L. Hodgkins directs all three choirs, and Mrs. James Long was organist. The Youth Choir meets each Saturday morning for an hour's rehearsal, for which Rosie Chandler is accompanist. —Photo by Humphrey

INFORMAL ENTERTAINING ADDS GAIETY TO HOLIDAY SEASON IN SOUTHERN PINES

Much informal entertaining took place during the holidays, with numerous residents having groups of friends in for fellowship and refreshments. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chatfield entertained at eggnog parties on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leland held open house Christmas night, with around 20 friends coming in, and earlier in the week they entertained the Pilgrim Fellowship of the Church of Wide Fellowship. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hamel, who recently moved into their newly purchased home on South Valley Road, were at home to friends Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Fred McBride was hostess to a few friends at her home on Weymouth Road Tuesday afternoon. Walter F. Harper, Central Division Engineer for Carolina Power and Light Company, was given a surprise by his employees and their wives, who, with Mrs. Harper in on the secret, came in from 6:30 to 7 Christmas Eve. They presented Mr. Harper a steering wheel and compass for his motor boat. A number of friends dropped in during open house hours later in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Miner were hosts to 50 friends at a cocktail party Saturday evening in the Conference Room of the Howard Johnson Motel. Honor guests at the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Thompson of Rochester, N. Y., who are visiting his mother, Mrs. Robert E. Harlow in Pinehurst; and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Uhrbrock, recently married, of Atlanta, Ga., who spent Christmas with his parents, Col. and Mrs. Harold W. Uhrbrock in Southern Pines.

The Mangums Hold Open House For Students, Officers

Entertaining Sunday night after the annual Student Night program at the First Baptist Church, the Rev. and Mrs. Maynard H. Mangum were hosts at a holiday open house at the pastorium on South Ashe Street. Cookies, cake and punch were served from the refreshment table in the dining room which was arranged with a red cloth with a silvered centerpiece flanked by crystal candelabra holding red tapers. The other rooms were attractive with Christmas greenery, berries, and a large lighted tree. Approximately 25 college and senior high students called. On Monday from 8 to 10 p. m., the Mangums again entertained at an open house for the deacons, members of the finance and nominating committees and their wives. Approximately 30 guests called during the evening.

Linda Robson In Chapel Program

In typing the names last week of Mrs. Howard Broughton's third grade pupils who presented a Christmas chapel program, one name was inadvertently omitted by us—that of Linda Robson, Linda as an Arabian Doll was presented in an Arabian dance. Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Robson.

Does Entertain Husbands At Christmas Party

Members of Drove 42, BPO Does, entertained their husbands at their annual Christmas party at the Southern Pines Country Club, which was festive with decorations arranged by Mrs. Morris Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson also served as emcee for the program and entertainment features. The group sang carols and Mrs. Bryan Poe read the well loved "Yes, Virginia, There is a Santa Claus." The husbands were presented gifts by their wives, and Does exchanged gifts.

Late in the evening a bounteous array of refreshments was enjoyed. Mrs. George Thompson and Mrs. Donald Denoff headed the refreshment committee, on which Mrs. Robert Balboni, Mrs. Robert Black, Mrs. Henry Roberts, Miss Marion Difatta, Mrs. H. M. Patterson, Mrs. John Bigbee, Mrs. John Ormsby and Mrs. Walter Coffin served.

Pleasing Library Decor Is Contribution Of SP Garden Club

Christmas came to the Southern Pines Library this year in the form of a decor that has attracted considerable comment. With the Southern Pines Garden Club playing the role of Santa Claus for this display of greens, the actual decorating was done by a special committee, headed by Mrs. Lehman Miller.

A large green wreath above each fireplace and striking groupings of bright holly and nandina combined to produce an effect of gaiety and splendor. Outside, the portico with its spray of holly and ribbon and the lighted tree added luster to the scene.

Combining with the Christmas card exhibit in the gallery and the mantel in the North Carolina Room, "bunched" with bright berries and magnolia for the occasion, the spirit of Christmas took over with a will for the holidays.

Church of Wide Fellowship Notes

The Communion meditation theme for Sunday, January 3, at the Church of Wide Fellowship will be "The Pre-flight Check." The Youth Fellowships will meet at 6 p. m., in the Fellowship Hall. Miss Diane Gorman will be in charge of the program on "Delinquency."
