Mental Health Institute to Bring Noted Speakers for Sessions Here

Dr. Albert L. Meiburg, co-author of the new book "Spiritual Therapy," which is being widely reviewed and acclaimed—will be one of three eminent speakers at the Mental Health Institute to be held here May 1, 2 and 3, sponsored by the Moore County Mental Health association.

Dr. Meiburg did the research for the book, in which he collaborated with Dr. Richard K. Young, head of the Department of Pastoral Care at Bowman Gray Hospital and faculty member at both the Medical school and seminary. Dr. Young, specializing in counseling, has developed an effective team approach utilizing psychiatric, spiritual and physiological facilities, of great benefit in helping the patient recognize and overcome the emotional factors of his illness.

'Sandhills Queen' To Be Chosen at Pinehurst Event

The annual Pinehurst Fireman's Ball will be held Friday night, April 22, at the Pinehurst Country Club with the crowning of the Sandhills Queen taking place during the event.

This year's contestants and their sponsors are:

Mary Jane Deadwyler and Diana Webb Pearson sponsored by Southern Pines High School.

Ruth Anna McDonald and Judy Howard Phillips, sponsored by Carthage High School.

Linda Owens, sponsored by Pinehurst Lions club. Mary Abigail Kennedy, sponsored by A. B. Sally Post, American Legion.

Margaret Elaine Ehrhardt and Betty Louise McCaskill, sponsored by Pinehurst High School.

Barbara Jeanne Caviness and Joan Miley, sponsored by Aberdeen High School.

Patricia Ann Monroe and Gretchen Claire Smith, sponsored by West End High School.

Mary Lou Loving and Agnes Louise Frye, sponsored by Cameron High School.

Willie Mae Hunsucker and Audrey Lou McNeill sponsored by Elise High School.

Judges will be Herman Schmidt, Clifton, N. J.; Louis Lewis, Patterson, N. J.; and Paul Mozenblecker, Short Hills, N. J., all Pinehurst hotel guests.

The dance will start at 9 p. m. and continue until 1 a. m.

Prizes will be awarded the Queen and two runners-up. Last year's winner was Sylvia Ann Safford of Pinehurst. Runners-up in 1959 were Carolyn Joyce Williams of West End and Sandra Johnston of Carthage.

Jack L. Barron Named Governor Of Moose Lodge

Officers elected last night by the Southern Pines Moose Lodge will be installed Wednesday night of next week at the home of James S. Blue, 130 W. Maine Ave., where last night's meeting took place.

Lodge members are meeting at a private home, pending choice of a new Moose home site. The lodge did not renew its lease on the former Johnson Discount House building, on old No. 1 highway, north, when it expired recently.

Ed Oldham, past governor, presided. Elected were: Jack Barron, governor; C. O. Boyette, junior governor; James C. Morris, secretary; W. M. Arrington, Jr., prelate; James S. Blue, treasurer; Art Danley, first year trustee; G. L. Bowles, second year trustee; P. Emerson Humphrey, third year trustee.

Next Wednesday's installation meeting will begin at 8 p. m.

CORRECTION

An error occurred in last week's Pilot which this newspaper has just had called to its attention. In the report on Mrs. Nancy Sweet-Escott's accident, it was stated that Mrs. Shaw McKean was also involved. This was an error which we greatly regret.—Ed.

Dr. Meiburg, an ordained minister and member of the chaplain staff headed by Dr. Young, will speak on the topic "The Relation of Mental Health to Physical Health" at the town hall Tuesday, May 3, at 8 p. m. The Rev. Maynard Mangum, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be co-chairman in charge of the meeting, which will have the Sandhills Business and Professional Women's club as its co-sponsoring organization.

This will be the closing meeting of the Institute, which for its Sunday and Monday sessions will have as respective speakers Chaplain William R. Steinger of Dorothea Dix hospital, Raleigh, on the theme "Religion and Mental Health," and Dr. Richard S. Proctor, of the Bowman Gray psychiatric staff, on "Alcohol and Mental Health."

Dr. Charles Phillips, president of the Moore County Mental Health association, will be general chairman in charge of all the meetings. Co-chairman for the Sunday night session will be the Rev. Carl Wallace of the Church of Wide Fellowship, the churches of Southern Pines as co-sponsors of the meeting. Co-chairman Monday night will be the Rev. Martin Caldwell of Emmanuel Episcopal church, executive director of the Moore County alcoholic education committee, which will co-sponsor this session.

All three talks will be followed by panel discussions, with panels made up of Moore County people of diversified backgrounds and convictions, making for lively handling of the topics.

The general public is invited to any or all meetings and there is no admission charge, said Dr. Phillips.

North & South To Start Monday At Pinehurst

A record field, ranging from established international stars to home-prides, is expected at Pinehurst next week for the 60th Annual North and South Invitation Amateur Golf Championship. To get underway at the Pinehurst Country Club on Monday, April 25, and continuing through Saturday, April 30, the event is one of the oldest consecutive tournaments in the country and will present a star-studded entry with over 155 acceptances already on the books.

An eighteen hole qualifying round over the exacting 6,900 yards of the par 72 championship Number Two Course will determine the 64 places for match play beginning Tuesday. Two rounds Wednesday will be followed by single rounds Tuesday and Friday and the 36-hole finals Saturday.

Riding Awards Set for Sunday

The final informal horse show of the season, for the young people, will take place Sunday afternoon, April 24, in the riding ring at the Carolina Hotel, Pinehurst.

Season championship awards will be made at the conclusion of the horsemanship classes, for beginners, intermediates and advanced riders.

Children have been piling up points throughout the winter and spring. There will be trophies for most advancement in riding during the season, and for "best sport."

Cancer Campaign Getting Started

The Moore County chapter of the American Cancer Society is launching its annual fund drive this week, with David Ginsburg of Carthage as county chairman.

Mrs. J. S. Milliken, who has headed the campaign locally for many years, said appeal letters would go out here this weekend.

Persons not receiving a letter and wishing to contribute may send donations directly to Mrs. Milliken.

STORY OF THE DOGWOOD — Tommy Wright, aged seven and a half, holds a four-year-old visitor entranced as he tells her the Easter story as seen in the dogwood blossom, according to an old legend. Tommy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Wright of S. Ashe St. The young lady is Christie Bowen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Bowen of Chapel Hill, formerly of Southern Pines, who spent the holiday here. Dogwoods are now at the peak of their blossoming throughout the Sandhills. (V. Nicholson photo)

Young People from 5 Towns to Take Part in Talent Contests Saturday

A youth talent show and beauty contest, sponsored by the Lions Clubs of Southern Pines, Pinehurst, Aberdeen, Pinebluff and West End will be staged Saturday night at Weaver Auditorium, starting at 8 p. m.

Each of the communities with sponsoring clubs has entered contestants in the show and beauty contest, the fourth annual event of the kind to be put on by the clubs.

Proceeds will go to the Boys Home at Lake Waccamaw, a Lions project. C. Coolidge Thompson of Pinebluff, chairman for the event, said that other purposes of the show are to promote music appreciation and encourage talent. Songs, dancing and instrumental performances are on the program.

J. E. Sandlin of Southern Pines will be master of ceremonies. Judges for the talent contest will come from Fayetteville. First prize will be a $25 savings bond and second $10 cash, with two $5 honorable mention prizes.

Tennis Clinic to Be on April 30

A tennis clinic announced in last week's Pilot for Saturday of this week, will be held at the municipal courts Saturday, April 30, officials of the Association said.

Malcolm Clark of Southern Pines, graduate student at the University of North Carolina, and Mrs. Q. A. Shaw McKean of Boston, Mass., and Pinehurst, will conduct the clinic. Both are outstanding players.

A session from 10 a. m. to noon will be for elementary school players and a second, from 2 to 4 p. m., will instruct high school students.

Spectators are invited.

Poppy Sale Set Here Saturday

The American Legion Auxiliary will sell paper poppies in the Southern Pines business section Saturday, to honor the dead of past wars and to aid disabled veterans and their families.

The annual sale honors more than a half-million men who died in both World Wars and the Korean conflict, Auxiliary sponsors pointed out.

The poppies are made by disabled veterans of the three wars.

Races for 3 of 5 Commissioners Assured in Democratic Primary

Registration For Primary to Start April 30

Registration for voting in the May 28 Democratic and Republican primaries will begin Saturday, April 30 and run through Saturday, May 14, Sam C. Riddle, chairman of the Moore County board of elections, reminded voters this week.

Registrars will be at polling places in the 18 precincts of the county on three Saturdays—April 30, May 7 and May 14 and may be reached at other times during the registration period at their homes or places of business. The full list of registrars and elections officials will be announced next week.

Saturday, May 21, will be challenge day.

A new registration will not be required for persons already registered by party affiliation on the general elections books and who have not moved from the precinct in which they are registered.

Mr. O'Callaghan, Longtime Civic Leader, Succumbs

Requiem mass was held Monday morning at St. Anthony's Catholic Church for Leo V. O'Callaghan, 66, who died Friday at the Veterans hospital at Durham, after a long illness. Father Francis M. Smith conducted the mass. Burial was in Mount Hope Cemetery, with graveside rites performed by Monsignor Herbert Harkins of Raleigh, formerly priest at St. Anthony's church here.

Mr. O'Callaghan, a plumbing and heating contractor in Southern Pines from the early 1920's until his retirement several years ago, had served on the town board of commissioners from 1927 continuously to 1945 when he was elected mayor. After a two-year term as mayor, he declined to run again for that office but served on the board of commissioners again until 1953 when the council-manager form of government was instituted here.

He had served also as chief of the Southern Pines volunteer fire department for more than 20 years before leaving that office in the early 1950's and for more than 20 years also as Democratic precinct chairman.

On his announcement in 1953 that he would not be a candidate for municipal office, associates said that Mr. O'Callaghan's technical knowledge, combined with long experience, had saved the town thousands of dollars over the years of his service as commissioner and mayor. He was said (Continued on page 8)

To Sing Here Friday Night

COLUMBUS BOYCHOIR — This choir that delighted Sandhills audiences at a former appearance will sing at 8:30 p. m. Friday in Weaver Auditorium as the concluding attraction of the Sandhills Music Association's 1960 concert series. From the Columbus Boychoir School at Princeton, N. J., the boys, directed by Donald T. Bryant, will present a varied program. There is a special reduced rate for students in any Moore County School. Tickets can be obtained at the box office or in advance from the Barnum Realty and Insurance Co. on N. W. Broad St.

WE'RE IN 'LIFE'

Southern Pines appears on a Life magazine tourist map of recommended places to visit, in the current issue which was to go on sale here today.

To Consider Bids On S&L Building

Directors of the Southern Pines Savings and Loan Association will meet Wednesday, April 27, to consider low bids on the association's proposed office building to be constructed on the southeast corner of the intersection of New York Ave. and E. Broad St.

Bids were opened Tuesday afternoon in the office of the architect, Hayes, Howell and Associates, of Southern Pines, but no action was taken on them, pending a meeting of the directors. Bids opened several months ago, in another letting, were rejected by the Association.

Nearly 700 Make Tour of Gardens

Nearly 700 people from over North Carolina as far away as Charlotte, Winston-Salem and Greensboro, were here Wednesday to make the tour of houses and gardens in Southern Pines and Pinehurst, according to the report of the tour chairman, Mrs. James S. Milliken. Mrs. Norris L. Hodgkins, Sr. is president of the Southern Pines Garden Club which sponsored this 12th annual tour.

A good percentage of the crowd returned to the Shaw House for a buffet lunch at tables set up under a tent on the lawn. Mrs. D. W. Winkelman was in charge of the luncheon arrangements, and members of the Junior Woman's Club assisted in serving.

Jaycees Elect Dr. Currie as New President

Dr. Joseph E. Currie, Jr., was elected president of the Southern Pines Junior Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night, succeeding Paul B. Boroughs, Jr. Dr. Currie, a veterinarian, is associated with the Sandhill Veterinary Hospital on Midland Road.

Other officers elected are: Tom Ruggles, first vice-president; Carl R. Acker, Jr., second vice-president; Jimmie D. Myrick, secretary; and William A. McAdams, treasurer.

The directors, in addition to the retiring president, Mr. Boroughs, are Wilbur Creed, George A. Morrison and Joseph P. Marley, Jr.

The officers will be installed in mid-May.

Among the projects on which the Jaycees are now working is the handling of all mailings for the Moore County Mental Health Association.

Can Get Tickets For PTA Supper

Persons who have not obtained tickets for the ham supper to be sponsored by the East Southern Pines Parent-Teacher Association Wednesday, May 4, can get them from any of these ticket committee members: Mrs. Raymond Cameron, Mrs. Walter Coffin, Mrs. Albert Grove and Mrs. W. Harrell Johnson.

The supper, one of the PTA's major fund-raising projects, will be held at the school cafeteria from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m. Parents and their children are urged to attend.

Mrs. Coffin and Mrs. Grove are general chairmen for the event.

Pleasants Has Opposition in This District

Members of the board of county commissioners, who normally run without much opposition in the Democratic primary, face contests for nomination to three of the five seats on the board in the May 28 primary.

And whatever five are nominated by the Democrats will be opposed by Republicans in four of the five districts in the November election.

In the primary, candidates file from each of five districts into which the county is divided, but voting on each of them is county-wide.

Here is the picture for the primaries of both parties, as it developed at the end of filing time for candidates at noon Friday:

DEMOCRATS

For county commissioner, in District 1, John M. Currie, incumbent, is being opposed by Eugene B. Cook of Route 3, Carthage. In District 2, Tom R. Monroe, incumbent, is being opposed by Billy J. Poley of Route 1, West End. In District 4, James M. Pleasants of Southern Pines is being opposed by J. Edwin Causey of Lakeview.

The other two commissioners, Chairman L. R. Reynolds in District 3, and W. Sidney Taylor in District 5, have no opposition.

Other Democrats without opposition are: House of Representatives, H. Clifton Blue of Aberdeen, for his eighth term. Judge of Recorder's Court, J. Vance Rowe, for his fourteenth term. Solicitor of Recorder's Court, W. Lamont Brown, for his fifth term.

Board of Education

All members of the county board of education were unopposed on the Democratic ticket, T. Roy Phillips, District 1; J. A. Culbertson, District 2; Rowland Upchurch, District 3; W. H. Matthews, District 4; and Jere N. McKeithen, District 5.

County Surveyor

Clarence Blue, incumbent county surveyor, arrived a couple of minutes too late to file for re-nomination on Friday. Charles M. McLeod, who had filed just before the deadline, offered to withdraw, but Chairman Sam C. Riddle of the Moore Board of Elections ruled that Blue would not be able to file since he had not arrived before the 12 o'clock deadline.

Township Offices

There is a contest for constable in Ritters Township where two Democrats filed for the office, R. J. Brown and William Robert Caviness.

Others who filed for township offices are:

Lester F. Woods, Greenwood township, constable, incumbent, Democrat.

Sam Bouldin, Ritters township, Democrat, for justice of the peace.

REPUBLICANS

Medallion Homes To Be Displayed During Weekend

Two all-electric "medallion" homes in the Whispering Pines residential development at Thagard's Lake, north of Southern Pines, will be open to the public this weekend.

Visitors will be welcomed at the houses—one on the north shore of the lake and one on the opposite side—from 2 to 8 p. m. on Friday and Saturday and from 2 to 6 p. m. Sunday.

More than a dozen houses have been built or are under construction at Whispering Pines, which is owned by Sandhill Properties, Inc.

Full details of the weekend open house, the Whispering Pines development and a history of the Thagard's Lake site will be found on pages 14 and 15 of today's Pilot.
