visor of the Southern Pines district schools. The visit by the two educators was made in connection with Dr. Conant's current study of junior high school programs over the nation, following his widely read and discussed study of American high schools. The two Conant staff men conferred at length on the junior high school programs in the East and West Southern Pines schools and discussed other aspects of school curriculum and administration. School systems visited by the educators in North Carolina were Charlotte, Raleigh, Albemarle and Southern Pines. (Pilot photo)

Scout Officials Attend Council Meeting Tonight

A number of Moore County Boy Scout officials will attend a dinner meeting at the Fairmont Methodist Church in Raleigh tonight for Scout leaders from throughout the 12-county Occaneechee Council.

Conferences will be held after the dinner for district chairmen, the public relations committee and the executive board.

Expected to attend from this county were J. B. Perkinson, Moore District chairman; J. E. Sandlin, immediate past district chairman; both of Southern Pines; Dr. J. C. Grier, Jr., of Pinehurst and Dr. J. D. Ives of Pinebluff, district commissioners; and Emerson Humphrey of Southern Pines, community relations chairman for the Moore District.

Mr. Humphrey was scheduled to speak on community relations before the operating committee of the Council's public relations committee, consisting of community relations chairmen from all districts of the council.

Moore District adult chairmen and committeemen held their monthly dinner meeting Tuesday night at Leaverne's Grill on Midland Road.

Funeral Held At Sanford for Dr. Waylon Blue

Funeral services were held at Sanford Friday for Dr. Waylon Blue, 61, physician who was a native of Moore County and was widely known in this area. Dr. Blue died Wednesday of last week at North Carolina Memorial Hospital, Chapel Hill, after a long illness.

Dr. Blue attended Farm Life School in Moore County, Davidson College and Bethany College and was graduated from the Medical College of Virginia. He practiced in Jackson Springs in this county before going, after a few years, to Jonesboro, now a part of Sanford, where he remained in practice for more than 30 years. He was active in civic, educational and professional organizations.

Surviving are his wife, the former Margaret McDonald; three daughters, Mrs. Rucker Dudley, Jr., and Mrs. Fred Riddle, of Winston-Salem; and Mrs. Roger Morrow of Burlington; and five grandchildren.

State College specialists say sheep fit well on many dairy farms in North Carolina.

Student Teachers From Duke Active In Local Schools

Currently there are four students from Duke University doing their student teaching in the East Southern Pines Schools, Superintendent Luther A. Adams reports.

Miss Mary Hook, from Cheraw, S. C., is observing and teaching with Miss Agnes Barrow in the fourth grade.

Miss Charlotte Mewborne, from Roseboro, is working with Miss Mary Jane Prillaman in the first grade.

Miss Peggy Pope, from St. Augustine, Fla., is doing her student teaching under Miss Mary Ann Oates in high school social studies.

Miss Wendy Dobson from Ann Arbor, Mich., is working with Miss Annie Brewer in the Junior High social studies field.

The students will return to Duke University upon completion of their studies in late May.

SEPARATING JONQUILS

Jonquils should be dug and separated at least once every three years if you want large flowers. Some prefer to lift and separate the bulbets every year. They may be lifted, divided and reset immediately or the bulbs may be stored in a cool place and planted this fall. Wait until the leaves turn brown before digging.
