Pair Arrested at Still Site Make $500 Bond Each

A couple of residents of Sheffield Township who failed to take holiday Monday were busily at work when an interruption came in the form of an ABC raid.

Lendon Sanders, 41, and Major Sanders, 29, were caught at the site of a small still in operation about a mile back in the woods, between the talc mine and Spies, it was reported by Chief Moore County ABC Officer C. A. McCallum.

Major Sanders ran when McCallum appeared, with ABC Officer June Cockman and Deputy Sheriff I. D. Marley. He was quickly apprehended. Both men were taken before JP Charles MacLeod at Carthage where bonds were set at $500, which they made, for their appearance in Moore Recorder's Court Monday.

Seized were the small five-gallon copper still, two 55-gallon fermenter barrels of mash and one of 30 gallons, also one gallon of new-run whiskey. Both the operators have federal records of whiskey law violations.
