MRS. JAMES CARLISLE McLEOD, JR.

CEREMONY IN ROCKINGHAM UNITES MISS OCTAVIA PHILLIPS, JAMES McLEOD, JR.

Miss Octavia Scales Phillips and James Carlisle McLeod, Jr., were married at First Methodist Church, Rockingham, Saturday afternoon.

The bride's parents are Judge and Mrs. Fitzroy Donald Phillips and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. James Carlisle McLeod of Florence, S. C., and the late Dr. McLeod, and a nephew of Mrs. Harold A. Collins of Southern Pines.

Mrs. Walter R. Jones, Jr., and Tom Covington, Jr., vocalists, presented the music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory peau de soie, styled with a moynage neckline and a bell skirt which ended in a cathedral train. Her veil was of Brussels lace and she carried a bouquet of gardenias, imported Scottish heather and lilies of the valley.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Wallace Groome Freeman, cousin of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Jane Copeland, of Kinston; Miss Dana Borden, of Goldsboro; Miss Florence McLeod, of Florence, S. C.; Miss Margaret Peques, of Monroe; Miss Emmie Spencer, of Rocky Mount; Miss Elizabeth Sutton, of Greensboro; Miss Mary Ann Powell, of Oxford, and Mrs. A. Everett James, of Chapel Hill.

The attendants wore dresses of blue satin and velvet and carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums.

Dr. George Holiday McLeod, of New York City, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were F. Donald Phillips, Jr., the bride's brother, and Weston Houck and Charles Waters, both of Florence, Philip Edwards, of Sumter, S. C., James McLeod Collins, of Southern Pines, Dan E. Ransdell said.

Fleet Allen, county agricultural agent, said that members attending the rally will see the latest methods of barbecuing and serving chicken, as demonstrated by a "barbecue team" from State College, Raleigh.

Memberships may be renewed with Bill Dalrymple who will be at the door.

There is no charge for the event for Farm Bureau members and their wives. Children are welcome at 75 cents each.

Pinehurst Recreation Group Sponsors Dances Replacing 'Sandhills Scandals'

The first of two dances to be sponsored during the coming season by the Pinehurst Community Recreation Association—taking the place of the annual "Scandals of the Sandhills" variety show as a money-raising effort—will be held Friday night, December 2, from 9 to 1, at the National Guard Armory here.

Music will be by the Bob Smith orchestra, of Fayetteville. Mrs. A. N. Derouin of Pinehurst is in charge of tickets and reservations.

Another dance will be held in the Spring. The Pinehurst Community Recreation Association maintains a playground ball park and other facilities at Pinehurst, sponsoring athletic events and other recreation activities. The Association is now engaged in a swimming pool construction project, with funds privately subscribed.

Jugtown Ware To Be Exhibited at Show in Durham

Jugtown ware from Moore County will be exhibited, and the art of pottery making in the old-time manner shown, at the Allied Crafts fair and exhibition to be held at Durham during most of next week.

The fair will feature selected arts and crafts of North Carolina, participating by invitation.

John Mare, Jugtown owner and operator, said he will have about 300 items of Jugtown ware in the exhibit, representing the full range of shapes and glazes now being made and including traditional forms of old country pottery along with Chinese translations developed by Jacques Busbee, Jugtown founder.

Vernon Owens, potter, and Charles Moore and Bobby Owens, glazers and kilnmen, will be present for evening demonstrations with the potter's wheel. Mare said he also would be there part of the time.

Miller Named as Pinehurst Officer

The board of county commissioners approved the appointment of Edward Miller as a constable for Pinehurst, at Carthage Monday.

He succeeds W. M. Orr who resigned. The appointment extends to the first Monday in December and then through a two-year term.

Gordon Cameron of Pinehurst, Inc., appeared with Mr. Miller and introduced him to the commissioners.

The new constable, who is married and has a child, is living at Pinehurst. He formerly served two years with the Wagram police department and two years as constable in Antioch Township in Hoke County.

Because Pinehurst is not an incorporated town, its police officers are appointed as constables. Their authority extends one mile from the center of the village.

Mrs. R. J. Dougherty presided at the regular meeting of St. Anthony's Woman's Club held in the St. Anthony's School auditorium Monday evening. A new member, Mrs. James J. Hume, was welcomed into the Club.

Plans were made for the chicken dinner and card party, to be held November 22, from 5:30 to 8 p. m., in the school auditorium.

General chairman for the party will be Mrs. Norman Black, to be assisted by Mrs. William Weldon and Mrs. J. Watson Smith.

In charge of bridge and canasta following dinner will be Mrs. John Buchholz, Mrs. William Wilson and Mrs. Margaret Branigan. Mrs. Dante Montesanti will serve as chairman of arrangements for the dinner, and on her committee are Mrs. Lee Smithson, Miss Janet Gacomo, Mrs. Mary Sharp and Mrs. Gertrude Simpson.

The ticket committee comprises Mrs. Walter Coffin, Mrs. Catherine Dwyer and Mrs. Helen DeBerry.

Father Francis Smith attended the meeting, which was followed by a social period with refreshments served.

Thomas Hall Speaker At Civic Club Garden Club Meeting Thursday

Thomas Hall, assistant Moore County Agricultural agent, spoke at the meeting of the Civic Club Garden Club held last Thursday.

Program chairman, Miss Nancy Long, introduced the speaker, whose discussion centered around the use of leaves in soil building.

He told members how to make a compost heap of leaves, and instructed them on proper methods of pruning bushes and planting bulbs, emphasizing the necessity of soil testing before any planting, especially before planting vegetables.

He stated free soil testing would be offered by the County Agricultural Extension and that notice thereof would appear in the local papers.

With Mr. Hall judging the flower exhibits, blue ribbons went to Mrs. Dan Dorman for a perfect specimen of the new rose Hawaii; to Mrs. J. D. Sitterton for a Thanksgiving table arrangement and for an arrangement of chrysanthemums for a console and to Mrs. Charles Mumford for a table bouquet of dark coleus and flowers.

Mr. Hall awarded red ribbons to Mrs. Sitterton for an autumn hues arrangement and for an arrangement of chrysanthemums for a large room, and to Miss Helen Butler for a kitchen teacart arrangement.

Receiving yellow ribbons were Mrs. W. L. Baker for a chrysanthemum arrangement for a large room and Mrs. Yates Poe for an arrangement of hydrangea and Scotch broom.

Tea was served following adjournment.
