MENTAL HEALTH WEEK

Young People's Problems To Be Workshop Topic

A workshop on "Emotional Problems of Young People" will be held Sunday and Monday at Weaver Auditorium, sponsored by the Moore County Mental Health Association.

While designed especially for teachers, parents and the young people themselves, the three sessions are open to all who are interested, and there is no admission charge. They will be held at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, and at 4 and 7:30 p. m. Monday.

The workshop will open observance of Mental Health Week in Moore County, during which a membership and fund campaign will be launched by the Mental Health Association, with Dr. J. E. Currie, Jr., retiring president of the Southern Pines Junior Chamber of Commerce, as county chairman. Jaycees in all Moore County towns with chapters will assist with the campaign. Appeal letters are being sent out. Persons wishing to contribute can send checks made out to Moore County Mental Health Association to P. O. Box 812, Southern Pines. The Association conducts a year-round program of mental health education, along with such special events as the workshop to be held Sunday and Monday.

The Sunday evening session will be especially for teen-agers, the Monday afternoon session for teachers and the Monday evening session for parents. Each will feature a panel discussion with consultants and moderator of unusual background and ability in the particular field being covered. These will include persons eminent in psychology, mental health, medicine, education, the ministry and others.

The Sunday session will have an especially interesting panelist in the person of Miss Dianne Monroe, outstanding Rockingham High School senior recently named "All-American Teen-Age Girl" by the National Youth Power Congress at Chicago. While a typical teen-ager with interests in school, church and sports, she has a serious objective—the practice of pediatrics.

Dr. Charles Phillips, president of the Moore County association, will speak briefly in welcome at each of the sessions. Luther A. Adams, workshop chairman, who is superintendent of Southern Pines schools, will present the moderator and consultants. Moderator for the Sunday evening session will be Dr. Cheves K. Ligon, former pastor of Brownson Memorial Presbyterian Church, now executive secretary. (Continued on page 8)

COURT SATURDAY

Moore County Recorder's Court at Carthage will hold a session Saturday, because of the Superior Court term opening in Carthage Monday. The court usually convenes on Mondays. A story about the Superior Court term appears elsewhere in this paper.

Janet McKenzie Wins 'Miss Lion' Title; Miss Chapell Second in Talent Contest

(Photos page 20)

The Fourth Annual Lions Talent Show was held Saturday at Aberdeen High School Auditorium, with an audience of about 400.

Melvin Williams of Aberdeen won first prize in the Talent division with his rendition of "When I Grow Too Old To Dream." He was accompanied by Linda Edwards of Aberdeen, at the piano.

Second place winner was Mary Elizabeth Chappell of Southern Pines with a novelty baton twirling act. Linda Edwards won first honorable mention with a skillfully executed piano number. She chose for her selection "The Girl on the Farm Below" and "Scherzo Trio" by Beethoven.

An Aberdeen Quartet composed of Jimmy Whitlock, Bill Brady, Jimmy McKeithen and Melvin Williams won second honorable mention with a medley of SIGNAL TOWER—These Boy Scouts of Troop 873 which is sponsored by St. Anthony's Church are practicing setting up one of two signal towers they will use in a demonstration at the big Scout Exposition in Raleigh Saturday. David Drexel, Scoutmaster, lower left, watches as the poles are lashed with ropes, to hold a plywood platform from which teams of boys will signal between the towers with wig-wag flag or lights. The towers will be set up about 300 feet apart for the Raleigh display. On the platform are Melvin Garner, senior patrol leader, and (standing) Curtis Lemons. Pat Dougherty is part-way up and Dennis Solomon holds a wig-wag flag, on the ground. (V. Nicholson photo)

Many Moore Scouts to Take Part in Exposition at Raleigh on Saturday

The 1961 Scout Exposition for Boy Scouts of the Oconeechee Council will be held at the State Fairgrounds in Raleigh Saturday, April 29, from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Over 20 units from Moore County will take part, says Scout Executive Charles Riddick.

More than 80 Cub Packs, Scout Troops, and Explorer Units are expected. The exposition is sponsored jointly by the Oconeechee Council and the Raleigh Kiwanis Club.

Theme of the Scout extravaganza this year is "Scouting M-A-R-N-E-S On" Scouting projects by the hundreds, ranging from model railroads, rockets, and soap carving to Indian lore, campcraft, and bridge building, will go on public display beginning Saturday at 1 p. m. Ribbons will be awarded to the outstanding exhibits.

Units will begin setting up their exhibits at 8 a. m. Saturday morning and judging of the booths will start at 1 p. m. Plans tunes, paper shop harmony at its best.

Janet McKenzie of Southern Pines was crowned "Miss Lion of 1961" by Joseph E. Sandlin. First and second runners-up were Betty Louise McCaskill of Pinehurst and Brenda Hinson of West End respectively.

The amateurs were assisted by Miss Ani Hovis and Miss Robin Fisher of Pinehurst, as professional Miss Hovis played the musical core from "The Apartment." Miss Fisher, vocalist, opened the program with "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings" and closed with "Summertime."

Mr. Sandlin, of Southern Pines, introduced each contestant and kept the program flowing smoothly.

C. Colidge Thompson of Pinebluff, program chairman, said, "Many wonderful people deserve a verbal bouquet for the help and cooperation extended in making the success of the program possible."

Youth Befriended Here Comes Back After Prison Term

The interest that the late Police Chief C. E. Newton took in a young man who was sent to prison after an arrest for breaking and entering and larceny here in September, 1959, brought him back Tuesday on his release from prison—to learn with shock and sadness that the admired police officer who had befriended him was dead.

Johnny Hinshaw of Miami, Fla., who will be 19 years old June 1, gained his freedom Tuesday morning, having served 17 months of a two to three year term meted out in Moore County Superior Court in November, 1959. He was one of a group of four young persons, two boys and two girls, who were arrested here for breaking into St. Anthony's rectory and taking a small amount of money there. The four admitted that they had wandered the country for months in an automobile, taking part in a number of other such break-ins.

Hinshaw was released after 17 months because of time off for good behavior. He had been studying in a prison clerical school at Camp Polk near Raleigh, where he served most of (Continued on page 8)

Legislators to Speak at Dinner Planned by YDC

Tickets are on sale by many members of the Moore County Young Democrats for the "legislative banquet" to be sponsored by the county YDC at the Aberdeen school cafeteria, Monday, May 1. The dinner will begin at 7 p. m., with a speaking and discussion program at 8.

Arthur Rowe of Aberdeen and Southern Pines, Moore YDC president, said that 8th District Congressman A. Paul Kitchin of Wadesboro, State Sen. Sam J. Burrow of Asheboro and State Rep. H. Clifton Blue of Aberdeen have definitely accepted an invitation to attend, review legislation in Raleigh and Washington and answer questions. State Sen. J. Benton Thomas of Raeford may be able to attend, Mr. Rowe said.

Voit Gilmore of Southern Pines will act as moderator for a panel discussion by the legislators. Candidates for municipal offices in town elections over the county on Tuesday, will be recognized.

Mr. Rowe stressed that the dinner meeting is for anyone wishing to attend, not only YDC members. He urged that tickets be purchased in advance if possible.

BIGGEST?—Silas L. Eudy of Southern Pines displays the 11-pound largemouth bass he caught in Watson's Lake last week, perhaps the biggest ever caught in this area. The fish measured 25 inches in length and 21 inches in girth. Some 200 persons saw it when it was kept alive for three days in a minnow pond at the Ira Blackmon home on E. Vermont Ave. Later killed and frozen, the fish was to be given to the Rev. Maynard Mangum, pastor of the First Baptist Church. (V. Nicholson photo)

Councilmen to Be Elected Tuesday; 2 for Solicitor; Judge is Unopposed

On the same ballot listing candidates for the town council in the municipal election Tuesday, May 2, will be candidates for judge and prosecuting attorney (solicitor) of the Southern Pines Recorder's Court.

Judge W. Harry Fullenwider, completing his first full two-year term as judge of the local court that holds a session each Wednesday, is unopposed. He won election in 1959 over two other candidates, D. E. Bailey and William Barbour, both longtime magistrates in Southern Pines.

The two candidates for prosecuting attorney are John D. McConnell, incumbent, and Howard C. Broughton, both attorneys. Biographical sketches of each of the candidates appear on another page.

There was no primary in the judge and prosecuting attorney elections, as not more than two persons filed for either post.

Judge Fullenwider is partner with R. F. Hoke Pollock in a local law firm. A native of Monroe, he is a graduate of the University of North Carolina Law School and a veteran of Navy service. He has practiced in Southern Pines since 1948.

Judge Fullenwider made news last year with his announcement that he would mete out mandatory jail or prison terms in cases of drunken driving and flagrant offenses against other traffic laws.

Pleasants On Committee Of National Group

James M. Pleasants, of Southern Pines, member of the Moore County board of commissioners, has accepted appointment as representative of the North Carolina Association of County Commissioners to the National Association of County Officials, in which he will serve as a member of the group's Education Committee.

The National Association of County Officials, with offices in Washington, D. C., is a nationwide organization of county officials.

Mr. Pleasants is a past president of the North Carolina Association of County Commissioners, an organization comprising the governing boards of all the counties in the state.

Committee meetings of the National Association, to which Mr. Pleasants has been invited, will be held in Chicago in August.

Candidates For Council Enlist Public Support

All candidates for the council were told by The Pilot that this newspaper would welcome for publication today a short statement as to their candidacy, covering any special aims or ideas they might have about the Town or what they would like to see the council do. Following are the replies received:

George H. Leonard, Jr. "If elected, I will endeavor to serve to the best of my ability and to help keep our community government clean and strong, as has the past administration and management."

Mayor Robert S. Ewing—"It has been my privilege to be a member of the town council for a most four years. During that time, your Town Administration has been able to effect a substantial reduction in its bonded indebtedness and an increase in the many services rendered to our citizens, as well as many capital improvements in various areas. This has been accomplished without any increase in our Town tax rate. My interest in filing for reelection is based upon the desire to see this program continued. Our community is growing—in population and valuation. I anticipate that our Town services can grow, too—at no increase in our present tax rate."

James D. Hobbs—"Among the things I would like to see the council do are: 1—Work for two or more voting precincts in the Town. 2—Have all persons living in the Golfcrest area and other sections surrounding that part of town be able to vote here in Southern Pines. 3—It is my opinion that these people living in (Continued on Page 8)

Citizens of Southern Pines will vote Tuesday, May 2, to elect five town councilmen from a slate of 10 candidates. The five elected will then choose the mayor from their number.

The polling place at the fire station on New Hampshire Ave. will be open from 6:30 a. m. to 6:30 p. m. Registration for the election closed Saturday of last week, prior to a primary election held on Monday.

Purpose of the primary was to reduce a slate of 11 candidates to 10, as local election laws require that a primary be held if there are more than 10 candidates for the five council seats. Each voter was asked to vote for five candidates on Monday.

Because it developed on election day that one of the 11, Wilfred E. Weldon, was not a qualified candidate, since he was not a registered voter, the 10 names to appear on Tuesday's ballot for councilmen will be those of the 10 other candidates, although two of these candidates, Tom O'Neil (31 votes) and Ronald J. Palazzetti (42 votes) polled fewer votes than did the disqualified man who had 69. If Weldon had not been disqualified, O'Neil would have been the candidate eliminated. A total of 522 persons voted on Monday.

Leading the ticket in Monday's primary was Felton J. Capel, Negro councilman from West Southern Pines, with 354 votes. Others, in order of number of votes received, were: John S. Ruggles, 303; James D. Hobbs, 281; Robert S. Ewing, 243; W. Morris Johnson, 208; George D. Leonard, Jr., 177; Dante S. Montesanti, 151; Fred Pollard, 120.

George H. Leonard, Jr. "If elected, I will endeavor to serve to the best of my ability and to help keep our community government clean and strong, as has the past administration and management."

With a total of about 1,350 names on the municipal registration book, the number voting Tuesday is expected to be considerably larger than those voting in the primary.

Capel, Ruggles, Hobbs and Ewing are incumbents. Ewing is mayor and Hobbs is mayor pro-tem. If the voting on Tuesday runs fairly proportionate to that in the primary, all appear assured of election. The big battle Tuesday will be for the fifth seat on the council, a race in which Johnson was ahead in the primary.

Biographical sketches and photos of all council candidates appeared in last week's Pilot. Short statements by all 10 of the candidates appear in another story in this paper today. A sample ballot also appears on another page.

The fifth seat is held by Harry H. Pethick who is not a candidate. (Continued on page 8)

TEENAGE ROADEO

The "Teenage Rodeo" driving contest, sponsored by the Southern Pines Jaycees, will be held Sunday afternoon on the A & P store parking lot. Winner will take part in a state contest in June. Glenn Cox, high school principal, is chairman for the event.

Other Towns Set Elections Tuesday

Voters in other incorporated towns of Moore County, as well as in Southern Pines, will go to the polls Tuesday to elect town officials.

Southern Pines is the only town in the county having the council-manager form of government, in which a mayor is elected by the councilmen, not directly by the voters. The other towns elect a mayor and board of commissioners separately.

Candidates for these offices are:

Carthage
At Carthage, Mayor Hoover Carter who is a candidate for reelection, is opposed by L. R. McDonald for mayor. H. Lee Thomas, who had been a candidate, withdrew from the race. McDonald is a member of the present board of commissioners.

The four other incumbent commissioners are all candidates for reelection. They are Fred Flinchum, Ken Suggs, H. G. Poole and Wilton H. Brown. Challenging them are five other candidates for commissioners' seats: Lloyd McGraw, Jr., D. Carl Fry, Arthur Barber, L. L. Marion, Jr., and Charles Snipes.

Vass
Hugh McLean, who has been serving as acting mayor of Vass since the resignation of A. G. Edwards, Jr., in January while serving his fourth consecutive term, is unopposed for mayor. McLean was formerly a member of the board of commissioners.

In the commissioners' race, all four incumbent commissioners are candidates: J. A. McRae, Roby Futrell, Edd Boggs and James Hudson. Other candidates for commissioner are: John W. (Pete) Marshburn, William B. Frye, and Roy E. Frye, making a total of seven candidates for the five commissioner seats.

Aberdeen
At Aberdeen there are two (Continued on page 8)
