Dentists to Meet Sunday - Monday At Mid Pines Club

Dentists from 14 Piedmont North Carolina counties will gather at the Mid Pines Club here October 29-30 for the 42nd annual meeting of the Third District Dental Society.

Dr. J. Harrell Johnson, Southern Pines, is chairman of the arrangements committee. Other members of the committee are Dr. Bruce Warlick, Southern Pines, and Dr. C. R. VanderVoort, of Southern Pines, who practices in Aberdeen. Dr. Warlick is also chairman of the executive committee.

The dentists will hold scientific, business and social sessions. "Preventive Dentistry" will be the theme of the meeting and the featured lecturer will be Dr. Gerard L. Courtade of New York City who will speak Monday.

Table clinics on various phases of dentistry will be presented Monday morning.

A golf tournament has been arranged for Sunday morning and the annual banquet will be held that evening.

New officers will be elected Sunday night.

Nov. 2 Meeting On Development Set at Concord

Gov. Terry Sanford will be the principal speaker at the South Central Piedmont Industrial Development Conference at Concord November 2.

The conference, fifth of a series of six sponsored by the Department of Conservation and Development to assist local groups and individuals in their industrial development work, will be held in the Concord High School. Starting time is 9:30 a.m. It will end about 4 p. m.

All development-minded individuals in the following counties are urged to attend the conference: Moore, Lee, Montgomery, Richmond, Stanly, Anson, Union, Cabarrus, Mecklenburg, Gaston, Lincoln, Cleveland, and Rutherford.

Gov. Sanford will speak at a $2 a plate "Dutch" luncheon to be held at 1 p. m. in the Concord Recreational Center. Tickets for the luncheon may be obtained by contacting Eugene B. Harris, Department of Conservation and Development, Raleigh, N. C.

Handling of industrial prospects and what a community must do in order to attract the attention of industrialists seeking new site locations will be stressed at the conference.

FIRST EXPEDITION

It was in the vicinity of Cape Hatteras (probably via what is now Hatteras Inlet) that the first English expeditions to North America saw the shores of this continent for the first time. They had been sent out by Sir Walter Raleigh, and in July of 1584 planted the British flag on Roanoke Island and claimed the New World for England. The fate of the 1587 "Lost Colony" of English settlers remains a tragic mystery. It was not until after the first permanent English colony had been established at Jamestown, Va., in 1607 that Englishmen again explored rivers and sounds along what is now the North Carolina coast and took up good land close to navigable streams.

Young Democrats Elect Officers

Declining to run for reelection, he was persuaded to accept the office of secretary for 1961-62.

Elected president was J. Elvin Jackson, who at 23, is believed to be the youngest president in the club's history. A native of West End, he lives at Carthage and is employed by the Carolina Bank at Pinehurst. He is married to the former Iris Baldwin of Carthage. His political interest and activities of the past year or two, pointed out DeWitt Purvis of Highfalls and Hubert McCaskill of Pinehurst in nominating and seconding him, won him election by acclamation.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Carolyn Harrison Blue of Eagle Springs, Paul L. VonCanon, Jr., of West End and Robert (Gene) McKenzie of Southern Pines, first, second and third vice-presidents respectively; and Shirley McArthur of Carthage, treasurer (a reelection).

right-hand man during his campaign and is now his trusted lieutenant and adviser," said Blue.

Staton spoke on recent activities of the state party leaders to strengthen the party organization, revising its format for the first time in nearly 100 years, and redefining its aims and purposes to meet today's needs.

With a record of which all members can be proud, the party is now set for even greater progress in the future, he said, noting that "there is now a quickening spirit, a new enthusiasm—a sense of being on the verge of the greatest era in the party's history. Under new leadership of young men of courage and fortitude, with a positive program of progress in state and nation, the party is ready for whatever the future may bring."

He revealed that, under senior party leadership, workshops will be held all over the State "starting within 30 to 45 days" to inform and train local workers. He saluted the leadership of Governor Sanford and Party Chairman Bert Bennett in the State, and County Chairman Brown in Moore.
