A STORY FOR NATIONAL CAT WEEK

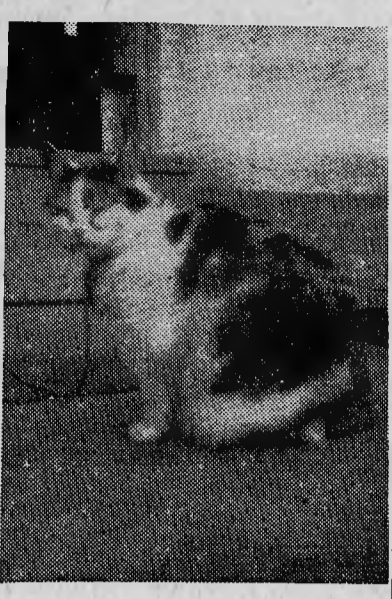

Candy, Much-Traveled Cat, Reported Glad to Be Home in Southern Pines

"Candy," a 12-year-old, 16-pound, calico cat that has traveled over 15,000 miles with her owners, the Harold (Jack) Horners of 360 E. Ohio Ave., is reported happy to be back in her native Southern Pines.

As this is National Cat Week, it is in order to give Candy's adventures public recognition. The Horners have made Southern Pines their headquarters since 1946 when they bought their home here. Horner, a paratrooper sergeant, is back at Fort Bragg, after he and his wife, Betty, along with Candy, spent three years in France at Evreux Air Base, 70 miles from Paris. After living in a trailer there, all in the Horner household, including Candy are pleased to be back in their own home.

Candy is acquainted with both air and ship transportation. She went to France by air—she on one plane and Mrs. Horner on another—when Mrs. Horner went overseas to join her husband who was in France three months before her arrival. Coming back, Candy and her owners all traveled by boat which had facilities for caring for animals.

The overseas trip, which took Candy also through Germany and England, accounts for some 9,000 miles of her travels. Another, former trip with the Horners to Yuma, Ariz., where the sergeant was stationed for a while, racked up about 5,600 miles of travel. And Candy went along, for another 500 miles, when the Horners were in Virginia for a short tour of duty prior to the overseas assignment. The Horners got Candy as a kitten on Easter Day, 12 years ago, from Mrs. Charles E. Fry, 885 N. Ridge St.—a fact responsible for the cat's name because of the association of candy with Easter.

A communication to The Pilot, allegedly from Candy herself, reads: "If there are any traveling kitty cats in this area that have seen a bit of the country, I would appreciate an audience with them, so we could discuss the problems involved in traveling with our so-called owners (people). As for me, I just want to stay among my beautiful pine trees and relax."

$5,000 Sought in Moore for Youth Development Fund

A state-wide movement described by its leaders as "one of the greatest opportunities of our time" is under way, to raise funds for a $1,000,000 foundation for the strengthening of the 4-H clubs.

George R. Ross of Jackson Springs, former Moore County legislator and longtime agricultural and development leader in the State, is heading a campaign for $5,000 to be raised in Moore for the 4-H Development Fund, Inc.

The money will be used to strengthen and expand the scholarship program, improve and increase 4-H campaign facilities and provide many more awards in various fields in which farm boys and girls in the 4-H clubs do their work and gain their training.

The movement is being sponsored by N. C. State College in cooperation with local groups and organizations all over the State. At a kickoff meeting held in the cafeteria of the Carthage High school last week, representatives of Moore civic clubs, business firms and other groups gave evidence of their support.

Dr. C. R. VanderVoort, Jr. president of the Sandhills Kiwanis club, presented the endorsement of the club's board of directors along with a check as campaign opened.

American consumption of non-fat dry milk, cottage, sour cream, chocolate milk and buttermilk has risen as much as 25 per cent in recent years.
