Joe's Grill Host To Local Firemen

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hatch entertained 14 members of the volunteer fire department with a steak dinner at their place of business, Joe's Grill on N. W. Broad St., Thursday night of last week.

The dinner was given in appreciation for efforts of the firemen in extinguishing a fire at the restaurant several weeks ago. The firemen's work at that time was credited with saving the building from destruction. The restaurant has been repaired and repainted since the fire.

Members of the fire department who were not able to attend the dinner last week are invited to come when they can for their steak dinners.

Fire Chief Frank Kaylor expressed the appreciation of the firemen for the hospitality accorded them.

Bob Maness Wins Conservation Award Of Central Region at Wildlife Meeting

By C. E. LEWIS, JR. Assistant County Agricultural Agent

Forestry has been one of the many activities Bobby Maness of Route 1, Robbins, has excelled in during the past five years. Because of his intense interest in forestry and long, hard hours of work in the woods of his father's farm, Bobby has been the recipient of many forestry and closely related awards.

The latest award was presented to him last week at the First Annual Awards Banquet of the North Carolina Wildlife Federation as part of their Seventeenth Annual Convention held in Greensboro.

Bobby was the recipient of the Central Region 4-H Conservation Award. The award, a 15-inch gold trophy, was presented by L. R. Harrill, State 4-H Club leader from N. C. State College.

Other conservation awards presented were for outstanding work in Wildlife, Soil Conservation, Boy Scouting, FFA, Water Conservation and Conservation Writing. Also, State Awards were presented by Gov. Terry Sanford to Protector of the Year, Junior Conservationist of the Year, and Senior Conservationist of the Year.

Bobby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Maness of Route 1, Robbins. In his 4-H Club Forestry Project, Bobby has planted a total of 12,500 pine trees and 2,000 red cedars; completed the 4-H tree identification project and constructed fire lanes for five

Graveside Rites Held at Pinebluff For Mrs. Sproul

A graveside funeral service was conducted Saturday afternoon at the Pinebluff Cemetery for Mrs. Florence Edna Little Sproul, 76, of Pinebluff, who died early Friday morning at Moore Memorial Hospital. Roland H. Delano of Pinebluff, lay reader, officiated at the service.

Mrs. Sproul had been a resident of Pinebluff for the past 15 years and had been an occasional winter visitor to the community for more than 40 years previously.

Born near Media, Pa., she was the daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. William Seely Little of Philadelphia and New York City. Mrs. Sproul, widow of A. C. Sproul, had lived most of her life in New York before making her permanent residence in Pinebluff.

She is survived by her daughter, Miss Pauline Sproul, who is office manager of the North Carolina Sanatorium, McCain; and a sister, Mrs. Anna M. Graham of Pinebluff. She was a sister of the late Mrs. Mary Wilson Holt-Smith and the late Miss Hannah Pauline Little, who died a number of years ago, both of whom had also had long association with Pinebluff. Their mother, Mrs. Little, had become a visitor there in the early days of the town's development as a winter resort, and the family built several houses in the community.

Mrs. Sproul, who had been in poor health for some time, broke a hip in a fall at her home about three weeks before her death.

Good News From The Library

Perhaps in special celebration of Children's Book Week, now being observed nationally, the Southern Pines Library selects this moment to make announcement of a new record of increased book circulation.

Using the figures of last year, which ended in June for purposes of comparison, it is evident that more books, by a great deal, are being read than ever before.

The figure for the entire past fiscal year was 29,039, with an increase during the year of 1,039 over the previous year. But, for the past four months since the end of the fiscal year, July 1, the pace has increased remarkably. During the four months of the present fiscal year, circulation increased by 1,661. In other words: in four months the circulation was 622 books higher than it was in the whole twelve months of last year.

The Library also reports good news in the way of community interest among the young people. It appears that under the Girl Scout community service program three local girls, sophomores this year, have enrolled as volunteer helpers during the rush hours in the afternoons.

"Each one takes an afternoon a week," says Mrs. Kathleen M. Lambourne, librarian, "and we appreciate it enormously. They do a fine job for us just at the time when we can use every hand. They are a tremendous help and we are delighted to have them."

The three are Roberta Austin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Austin, Barbara Webb, whose mother is Mrs. Richard Johnson, and Ellen Donovan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Donovan. They all belong to the senior troop of which Mrs. Ward Hill is the leader.
