Harvey & Towler Win Golf Carousel For Second Year

With Bill Harvey of Greensboro scoring two on all four par three holes in the final round at Southern Pines Country Club he and Reid Towler of Raleigh successfully defended their Southern Pines Golf Carousel tournament title Sunday against another state team of Thomas Bumbarger-Robert Turnbull, of Hickory, by a score of 6 and 4.

The Harvey-Towler victory kept intact the jinx over out-of-state teams which have never won a Carousel.

In the mixed division of the better-ball tournament, one half of the defending team returned to win again. Mrs. Laura Lee Menoher of Southern Pines this year teamed with B. C. Avery, also of Southern Pines, and easily captured the crown. They defeated Mr. and Mrs. Bruce C. Miller, Rumford, R. I., 4 and 3 in the finals at Pine Needles Lodges and Country Club.

As expected the field of 88 men's teams and 24 mixed teams was the highest caliber ever for the event sponsored by the Southern Pines Jaycees. The qualifying medal in the men's division was won by Peter V. Tufts of Pinehurst and Clyde Mangum of Southern Pines with 32-32-64. As defenders, Harvey-Towler had an option and decided not to risk their championship berth by turning in a score. They made a wise choice since the 64 was a qualifying record and a playoff was necessary between two teams at 68 for a spot in the championship. (Continued on page 8)

Outlook Told For Basketball Teams In Coming Season

BY JOEL STUTTS

Based on veteran players returning this season, Cameron, Southern Pines and Robbins boys and Highfalls, Robbins and Farm Life girls appear to have the strongest teams in the Moore County High School Basketball Conference with opening of the 1961-62 campaign only a few days off. This, however, is not always the most accurate basis for determining the eventual champions. The Aberdeen boys and the Robbins girls were Tournament Champions last season, but finished the regular season in sixth position.

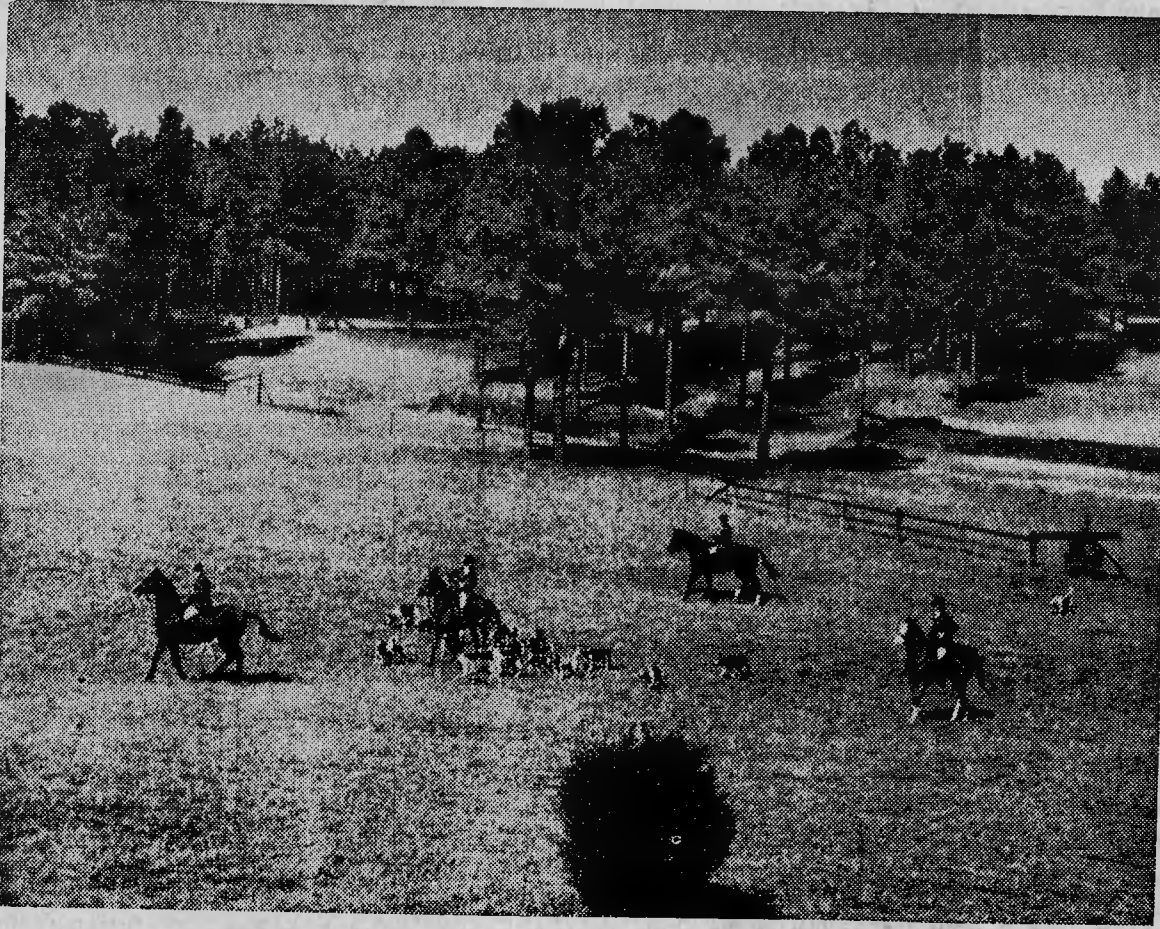

ABERDEEN: The defending Moore County Conference Champion Aberdeen "Red Devils," coached by Raeford Wells, face a rebuilding situation as they lost eight players via graduation, most of whom were starters and included All-County and All-Tourney Pete Fields. Returning for Coach Wells will be six feet four inches All-Tourney Bobby Alpert to lead this season's team. The Aberdeen girls will miss All-County and All-Tourney Joan Miley and Pat Gatti but will expect Frankie Swain, Carol Wynn and Alice Robbins to head the new team.

CAMERON: The Cameron "Fighting Scots," coached by T. K. Holmes, will field one of the strongest teams in years. All-County Bruce Phillips, one of the leading Conference scorers last season, will lead a veteran team including Don Monroe, Robert McLeod and Alfred Graham. Donnie Bennett and Tommy Wallace were the losses from last season. James F. Womble, who fielded a strong girls team last season for Cameron will miss All-County Mary Lovering and All-Tourney Judy Lankford but will have veteran players Ann Southern, Bonnie Sercy, Carol Smith and Edith Harris returning.

CORRECTION

A legal "Notice of Sale of Land" appearing on page 11 of last week's Pilot, advertising a sale of property of Lennox and Mary F. Forsyth, to take place at the courthouse door in Carthage, Monday, December 1, appeared by error. There will be no such sale and there is no default in the indebtedness for which the notice stated the sale would be made. The Pilot regrets the error.

HOUNDS AND RIDERS—This scene from a former year's hunting is being repeated as the opening meet of the Moore County Hounds is held on Thanksgiving Day, traditional start of the hunting season. The landscape is typical of the partly-wooded, partly-cleared hunting country near Southern Pines.

Thanksgiving Opening Meet of Moore County Hounds Being Filmed For TV

According to long tradition, the opening meet of the Moore County Hounds is being held again this year on Thanksgiving Day.

Hounds will meet at 10 a. m. in the big field back of Seven Stars Farm (formerly Pickridge), the new residence of Mrs. Audrey K. Kennedy.

W. O. Moss, joint master with Richard Webb of the pack, will be hunting hounds as usual, assisted by Mrs. Moss, first whip and hunt secretary. Also whipping-in will be Beverly Gray and Eugene Cunningham, the latter expected down from Virginia for the event.

The opening hunt will be a drag. Breakfast will follow at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Webb on Youngs Road.

Adding to the excitement of the day will be a feature unexpected and, it is generally felt,

Patrol Will Wage Campaign Against Drinking Drivers

An all-out campaign against drunken driving, waged with a twin program of education and law enforcement, was announced this week by Sgt. J. S. Jones of Siler City who heads Highway Patrol operations in Moore, Lee and Chatham Counties.

Planned to run from now through the end of the year, the program will enlist the support of civic, church and educational groups, in an effort to reduce the number of accidents caused by drinking drivers.

More than half of the fatal traffic accidents that have killed 10 persons in Moore County so far this year involved drivers who had been drinking, Sgt. Jones said. In a survey conducted elsewhere, the Patrol sergeant pointed out, half of all drivers in a series of fatal accidents were found to have alcohol in their systems.

The program is being conducted state-wide.

Mrs. T. P. Jerman Of Pinehurst Dies In Auto Accident

Mrs. T. Palmer Jerman, 54, who had spent a large part of the year at Pinehurst for several years, was killed Tuesday in an automobile collision near Fredericksburg, Va.

Funeral services will be held at Christ Episcopal Church, Raleigh, at 2:30 p. m. Friday.

Her husband, formerly executive vice president of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York City, was injured in the wreck. His hurts were not believed critical, and he was resting well at Martha Washington Hospital in Fredericksburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerman were en route to their residence in Short Hills, N. J.

Word received here was that the Jerman car and one driven by Virginia State Trooper C. P. Lane of King George, Va., collided near the intersection of US Highway 301 and State Highway 206 in King George County.

Mr. Jerman said he was driving and that his car went out of control as he struck a dog in the highway, throwing his machine (Continued on page 8)

Peggy Kirk Bell Chosen for Golf Honor

Mrs. Peggy Kirk Bell of Pine Needles has been named Teaching Pro of the Year by the Ladies Professional Golfers Association, Betsy Rawls, LPGA president, has announced.

In making the announcement, Miss Rawls said, "Peggy has been an outstanding amateur and professional golfer. In recent years she has earned more prominence as an extremely fine teacher as she instructs guests at the Pine Needles Lodges and Country Club and the players when on tour. We of the LPGA are delighted to bestow this coveted honor to Peggy Kirk Bell."

Mrs. Bell and her husband, Warren, own and operate the Pine Needles Lodges and Country Club.

Although Mrs. Bell confines her competition to a few tournaments each year she almost always wins money. She finished sixth in the San Antonio open last month just after a fine finish in the LPGA championship the week before at Las Vegas.

As an amateur Mrs. Bell won the Titleholders championship in Augusta, Ga., in 1949 and a week later won the North and South at Pinehurst. She also won the Ohio State championship three times, teamed with the late Babe Zaharias to win the Hollywood, Fla., four-ball in 1947 and was twice a member of the successful United States Curtis Cup team which won over England at Southport, England, in 1948 and

Suspended Terms Given Youth For Speeding Offenses

Charles S. Jones, 19-year-old youth, drew two 30-day jail sentences, suspended on payment of $75 fine each and costs, in Moore County Superior Court last week on two counts of excessive speed, both offenses occurring on the same night.

The cases came up from the Southern Pines Recorders Court where Jones, indicted for speeding 90 miles per hour on one count, 95 miles per hour on the other, had asked for jury trials. In Superior Court he tendered pleas of guilty to speeding in excess of 75, which the State accepted, consolidating the cases for trial.

Both offenses occurred the night of October 31, when according to testimony of Southern Pines police officers, Jones had first shot through town heading south at more than 90 miles per hour, then later had come back through heading north at around 95. The police car, pursuing him the first time, lost him near Aberdeen but he had been recognized and, before his second offense, a warrant had been taken out for him. Warrant in hand, the officers pursued him on the second trip, catching up with him when traffic forced him to a stop near Cameron.

State's witnesses were Sgt. L. D. Beck and Patrolman Charles Wilson and H. A. Benner. Benner said his finding was that the youth had been emotionally upset because of a falling-out with his girl. Jones did not testify in his own defense. (Continued on Page 16)

Brogden Elected By District Bar

E. O. Brogden, Jr., attorney who lives in Southern Pines and practices law in Carthage, was elected president of the 20th Judicial District Bar Association, during a meeting of the Association at Rockingham Friday.

The attorney, who has been a patient at Moore Memorial Hospital since last week, was unable to attend the meeting. His condition continues to improve, it was reported today.

CILE TURNER

Folksong Artist, Local Octet Will Perform Nov. 30

An exceptional "Night of Song" featuring a visiting artist and an octet of Sandhills singers will comprise the second program in the concert series of the Sandhills Music Association, to be presented at Weaver Auditorium, Thursday, November 30, at 8:30 p. m.

The visitor will be Cile Turner of Bedford County, Va., internationally known singer of folk ballads and blues, now appearing on a Charlotte TV program.

The Sandhills singers are headed by Dr. R. Bruce Warlick, and include Norman Caudle, N. L. Hodgkins, Jr., Bill Bowman, Dr. Joe Currie, E. J. Austin and E. H. Poole, former director of the Aberdeen Glee Club, who is lending a hand—and a voice—with rehearsals. Two or three more are expected to join the chorus, which will assist the soloist in several of her numbers and take the stage "on their own" for at least one group of familiar melodies.

Using piano, guitar or bongo drums, Mrs. Turner provides her own accompaniment for the songs she has spent a lifetime in collecting from plantations, mountains and many other sources, old and new. Some of the songs she has composed herself. A perfectionist, she says it sometimes requires "weeks, months and even years" before she is satisfied with her performance.

Wife of a Lynchburg, Va., industrialist, Lawson W. Turner, (they have nine grandchildren), Cile Turner is not a stranger in the Sandhills. She presented a program at the Pinehurst Forum several years ago and sang at Weymouth, home of Mrs. James Boyd, at a party for Adlai Stevenson during his second Presidential campaign.

Mrs. Ives Named To Tercentenary Group by Sanford

The appointment of Mrs. Ernest L. Ives of Southern Pines to the Carolina Charter Tercentenary Commission was announced this week by Gov. Terry Sanford. The appointment, one of several made of new members on the commission, is for the biennium 1961-1963.

Purpose of the Commission is to plan the observance of the 300th anniversary of the granting of the Carolina Charter in 1663 by King Charles II of England to the eight Lords Proprietors.

The chairman of the commission, Francis E. Winslow of Rocky Mount, was one of several members who were reappointed.

Mrs. Ives, wife of a retired diplomat and sister of Adlai E. Stevenson, has long been identified with historical interests in this state. She is a former president of the N. C. Society for the Preservation of Antiquities and of the Moore County Historical Association.

Meeting last Thursday in Winston-Salem, the board of directors of the North Carolina Society for Crippled Children and Adults Easter Seal Society reaffirmed its decision to move the headquarters of the organization from Chapel Hill to Southern Pines and voted to proceed immediately with a fund-raising program that will finance the construction of a summer camp for crippled children near this community.

Attending the directors' meeting were the two Southern Pines members, Mrs. Graham Culbreth and George Hodgkins who are both officials of the Moore County chapter of the organization.

According to decision of the directors, financial contributions from each county chapter of the Society will be asked, to raise a total of about $50,000. Each chapter will be asked to send in its quota no later than February 1.

The Moore County Society, Mr. Hodgkins said, will probably be called on for between $1,500 and $2,000.

Plans for the camp are now not as elaborate as first envisaged, Mr. Hodgkins reported, although the State Society's plan to establish a permanent treatment center here for handicapped children has not been abandoned.

Construction plans now call for building of simple cabins or permanent foundations and floors for tents, to house the children who attend the Society's camp each summer. The program not only provides therapy for the children but gives them a normal, happy camping experience.

Work on enlarging the dam at a lake site of the Society's property is now nearing completion. The camp site is located northeast of Southern Pines, off the Southern Pines-Carthage road.

Decision to move the executive headquarters of the State Society was made recently at another meeting of the board of directors. The headquarters building will be located on a lot donated by W. P. Davis, fronting on No. 1 Highway parkway, south of the Midland Road intersection and opposite the Mid Pines Lake. A new building will be constructed there. The move will bring several families to Southern Pines.

Christmas Seals Going On Sale to Aid Fight on TB

Sheets of 1961 Christmas seals are being mailed out to residents of Moore County, with a request for contributions that will finance the work of the Moore County Tuberculosis Association during the coming year.

Forrest Lockey of Aberdeen, county seal sales chairman, explains in the letter that Christmas seals are the only source of income for the TB Association's case-finding and educational program. Free chest x-rays are available the year around at the health center in Carthage, made possible by the Association's cooperation.

"Tuberculosis has been cornered but not conquered in Moore County," is the heading on this year's appeal letter. Contributions in any amount are welcome, to be sent to the Association's office at Pinehurst. This year, as for last year's successful seal sale, no community chairmen have been appointed and it is asked that all donations be sent directly to the Pinehurst office. Checks should be made payable to "Christmas Seals." The amount is tax-deductible, the letter points out.

Dr. J. S. Hiatt, Jr., of Southern Pines, is president of the Moore County Tuberculosis Association, a citizen group that plans the Association's work in the county.

Mr. Lockey announced this week that Sam Kelly of Carthage will again head the Negro division of the sale. Church and civic groups throughout the county cooperate with the Negro division program, annually contributing more than $1,000 to the sale for many years.
