Communities in Moore Win SADA Awards for Work

Neil Cadieu Elected President; Dr. Weaver Speaks at Gathering

Two Moore County rural communities shared in cash awards presented Tuesday night by the Sandhills Area Development Association as members of the Association met here to elect officers and review accomplishments of the past year.

In competition with a total of 22 communities in Moore, Lee, Richmond and Montgomery Counties, Glendon community of Moore, won third place in the "non-farm" division of the community improvement contests, while Juniper community of this county took the runner-up, or fourth, place in the farm division.

A distinction was made between those rural communities in which residents were primarily engaged in farming and others ("non-farm") in which many of the residents derived their income from other sources than agriculture.

Meeting in the Southern Pines School cafeteria for a dutch barbecue supper, delegations from the four counties elected a slate of new officers presented by Paul Butler of Southern Pines, chairman of a nominating committee. They were: Neil Cadieu of Rock-

Postmaster Tells How Public Can Aid Efficient Handling of Holiday Mail

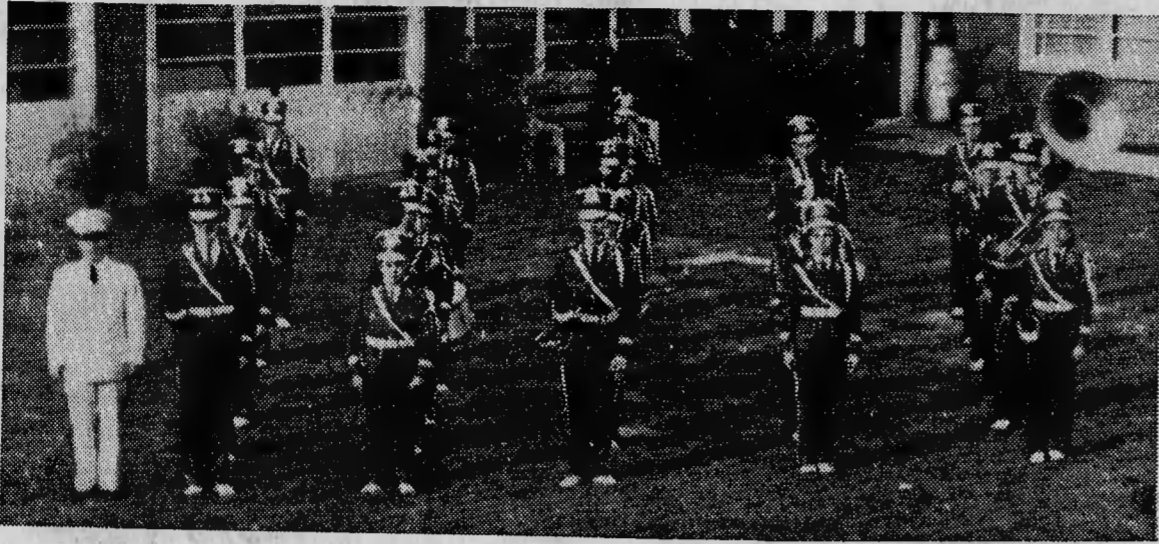

With Thanksgiving a recent memory, Postmaster Jim Causey said today, "It's Christmas every day in the Post Office from now on."

He offered these helpful hints on how to mail your Christmas cards and gifts to insure prompt and safe delivery before December 25:

Use 4c postage on your Christmas cards. Sent by First Class mail, they are sorted and delivered first, and if you include your return address on each envelope, they will be forwarded in the event of a change of address, or if they are undeliverable, they will be returned to you. Also, you can write a personal message on the Christmas cards sent by First Class mail; whereas, only your signature is authorized on cards sent at the 3c, unsealed Third Class rate.

Avoid careless packing of your gifts. Use strong cartons, wrap in heavy paper, and tie with sturdy cord. Mark packages containing breakable gifts, "Fragile—Handle With Care." Put an extra label carrying the recipient's and sender's name and address inside every package.

"We can make the 1961 'Mail Early For Christmas' campaign a big success," he continued, "if we'll all take a personal responsibility in planning Christmas mailings so that cards and gift packages going to most distant points are mailed by December 10 and earlier, if possible. Christmas packages for local destinations should be mailed by December 15 and be sure to mail your Christmas cards for friends and relatives in this area at least a week before Christmas."

Gifts to Hospital Expansion Effort Noted by Chairman

William P. Saunders of Southern Pines, chairman of the Moore Memorial Hospital fund raising campaign, announced through the hospital this week a gift of $5,000 by the Pinehurst Surgical Clinic and a contribution of $2,500 by Mrs. Mulford Horr of Pinehurst. Mrs. Horr's gift follows a similar donation approximately a year ago.

These gifts will be applied to the Building Fund as part of the local effort to raise a total of $800,000 which, when matched with Federal funds, will enable the hospital to complete the first phase of its much needed expansion program. Upon completion of the current project, the hospital will have a complement of over 200 beds, in addition to modern, well-equipped supporting facilities.

Mr. Saunders called a preliminary meeting Wednesday afternoon at the Village Chapel in Pinehurst of representatives throughout the county who are planning to assist him in his effort to raise the necessary funds to begin the building project next year.

Duncan McGoogan, hospital administrator, outlined the institution's aims and told of the "master development plan." Funds for the initial phase must be in by June 30, 1962, in order to qualify for consideration for the 1962-63 budget of the Medical Care Commission. The campaign is scheduled to end by May 1, 1962.

A chairman for each town in the county is to be named, along with supporting committee members.

Two Nominees for Morehead Grants Chosen in County

David Britton Funderburk of Aberdeen and Bernard Earl Dotson, Jr., of Carthage are Moore County's nominees for Morehead scholarships at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Funderburk is president of the Student Council at Aberdeen High School. Dotson is a senior at Carthage High School. The nominees are chosen for character, superior ability, achievements, motivation and promise. Financial need or desire to attend the University have no bearing on the selections.

Henry L. Graves of Southern Pines, chairman of the Moore County Morehead Scholarship Committee, said that the two were chosen from 11 applicants all of who are seniors in high schools of the county.

Other members of the committee who interviewed the applicants are Paul Butler and Mrs. Gladys D. Graves, of Southern Pines; Robert N. Page III, Aberdeen; and Robert E. Lee, Carthage. The applicants were also interviewed by Charles Bernard, the University's director of admissions.

Moore County's nominees will go before a regional committee whose members will interview nominees from a number of counties and eliminate some of them. Those retained will face a further elimination procedure at the state level.

The Morehead grants, among the most generous in the nation, provide a total of $5,100 for four years, if the recipient stays in good standing. The fund for the scholarships was established by industrialist John Motley Morehead, an 1891 graduate of the University who recently celebrated his 91st birthday at his home in Rye, N. Y. There are almost 200 Morehead scholars in residence at the University and more than 100 have graduated since the program began.

Applicants who fail to receive a Morehead scholarship are given every opportunity for other scholarships, student loans or other aid, at Chapel Hill.

Mr. Graves said that Mr. Bernard, after interviewing the 11 applicants from Moore County, said that their rating was, in his opinion, the highest of any group he had talked to in many years.

Scouting Leaders Will be Honored At Armory Friday

The annual "pot luck" recognition dinner of the Moore District Boy Scout organization is expected to attract hundreds of adult leaders, parents of Scouts and others to the National Guard Armory Friday night at 6:30 p. m.

Primarily an affair to recognize the leadership achievements of adults involved in the District's Scouting program, the event will include installation of the new district chairman and district commissioner. These offices are now held, respectively, by John A. McPhaul of Southern Pines and Dr. J. C. Grier, Jr., of Pinehurst.

Groups of adult leaders and parents from the District's territory, which includes all of Moore County and a portion of Hoke County, bring picnic suppers to the armory and spread them on tables set up in the big drill room. All friends of Scouting are welcome.

Dr. Marcus E. Hobbs, dean of the University and professor of Chemistry at Duke University, Durham, will be the visiting speaker. Dr. Hobbs received his A. B., A. M. and Ph. D. degrees at Duke and has been associated with that university in a number of distinguished posts. His many activities and honors in the fields of science and education have extended to state and national scope, including military awards for his contributions to defense programs. He is a brother of Mr. McPhaul's wife, Mrs. Jane Hobbs McPhaul, a member of the Southern Pines schools faculty.

Dr. Hobbs will be introduced by Dr. J. S. Hiatt, Jr., of Southern Pines.

Hall Trentman of Raleigh, president of Oconeechee Boy Scout Council, of which Moore District is a part, will install the new district chairman and district commissioner who will be announced at the dinner.

J. E. Sandlin of Southern Pines, a former Moore District chairman, is the overall chairman of the event.

The Theater in the Pines, local little theater group will present "The Late Christopher Bean", a comedy in three acts, at the Pinehurst Playhouse on December 14, 15 and 16.

The play will be the first of the season for the Moore County group. Last winter the players presented "Night Must Fall," a mystery, and Moss Hart's comedy, "Light Up The Sky."

Two Young Men Killed, One Injured In Wreck

CUT TREES ON MIDLAND ROAD?

Mayor John S. Ruggles said yesterday that "interested citizens" had called him to suggest that the town remove the trees in the center section that divides the two lanes of Midland Road and plant the strip in grass, as has been done on the outskirts of Pinehurst.

The suggestion was made to him, said the mayor, as a safety measure, following the traffic accident in which two young men were killed Monday night, when the automobile in which they were riding collided with one of the trees in the center section of Midland Road.

"I thought the public would like to know about this suggestion," Mayor Ruggles said. (The Pilot would welcome comments in letters to its "Public Speaking" column.)

Aberdeen, West End Collections Of Blood Slated

A bloodmobile collection unit from the American Red Cross blood center at Charlotte will visit two Moore County communities next week stopping at West End Tuesday and Aberdeen Wednesday.

At West End, the bloodmobile will be stationed at the high school gymnasium from 12 noon to 5:30 p. m. In Aberdeen, the location will be the Baptist Church and the hours will be 9 a. m. to 2:30 p. m.

At both locations a volunteer staff of doctors, nurses and aides will be on hand to receive donors. Quota for each visit is 125 pints.

Red Cross officials point out that this county is running far behind in blood donations that make possible a program permitting both hospitals in the county to obtain blood of any type quickly from the Charlotte center. At a recent meeting of blood program leaders here, officials said that the county is in danger of losing the blood service if donations do not increase.

Jaycees Sponsor Lighting Contests

The Christmas lighting contest that has been sponsored by the Southern Pines Junior Chamber of Commerce for several years will be held this year.

Judging will take place during the week after Christmas.

Lions Club Will Have Broom Sale

In addition, brooms will be displayed and sold by three local merchants who are members of the Southern Pines Lions Club: Hall and Carter Opticians, McNeill and Company, and the Thomason Furniture Company.

The profits from this sale will be given to community projects supported by the Club and to statewide blind assistance programs. Members of the Southern Pines Lions Club solicit the support of this undertaking by the entire community.

Tickets will go on sale Friday of this week. The opera was commissioned especially for television and was performed on Christmas Eve, 1951. Admission price will be 50 cents for adults, and 25 cents for students.

DEATH CARS—Side by side at May's Body Shop are the remains of two automobiles that killed three young men here within three weeks. At right is the 1954 Mercury that struck a tree on Midland Road Monday night, killing Robert S. Wicker and Ronald C. Benton and injuring Jerry Wayne Lambert. At left is the 1953 Ford that skidded off May St. about 1 a. m. November 9, killing its young driver, Clarence G. Odom, Jr., of Route 1, Aberdeen. Force of the Midland

Road collision of car and tree can be seen from the wreck at right, with the depression made by the tree clearly visible at left front of the automobile. So violent was the crash that the motor was driven back into the passenger area and one cylinder head was torn completely off. Both automobiles were rated "total loss" in the police accident reports.
