

CANDLE TEAS

Moravian Candle Teas November 30 through December 2, open the Yuletide season in the 18th Century Moravian Village of Old Salem, Winston Salem, where many-pointed Moravian Christmas stars adorn doorways in December. The Candle Teas are in the Brothers' House (1768), and restored Salem Tavern and its stables will be open by candlelight from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. on the evenings of the teas.

At Blowing Rock in the Blue Ridge Mountains and Cataloochee Ranch in the Great Smokies, new ski slopes are equipped with snow-manufacturing machinery to guarantee a "White Christmas" for winter sports enthusiasts.

SOUTHERN PINES RECORDER'S COURT

Designation As Alcoholic by Judge Designed to Aid Observance of Law

A new designation appearing in judgments of Judge W. Harry Fullenwider, in Southern Pines Recorder's Court is "Defendant declared an alcoholic in open court." The designation is designed to make more effective judgments in cases of public drunkenness or other offenses involving habitual and excessive use of alcohol by defendants.

No new law is involved, Judge Fullenwider explained. It has been the law that it is an offense to sell alcoholic beverages to persons who have been convicted of drunken driving or public drunkenness, where the persons involved is a habitual drunkard. The designated "defendant declared an alcoholic in open court" simply implements these laws, Judge Fullenwider said, by making public the names of those persons to whom ABC stores or private merchants of alcoholic beverages (wine and beer) are forbidden to sell.

The procedure is further implemented in Southern Pines by having the chief of police give to all retailers of alcoholic beverages a list of the persons who have been convicted of drunken driving or have been "declared an alcoholic" in the local court. It is not required that such a list be furnished, Judge Fullenwider said, but he has asked that it be used in order to make the law more effective.

Judge Fullenwider said that he intends to issue bench warrants for merchants or others who sell alcoholic beverages to designated alcoholics. One such case, involving a taxi driver, was tried recently in the local court. The defendant got off lightly, but the judge said he wanted to make an example of him as a warning to taxi drivers and others that buying any kind of alcoholic beverage for a known and designated alcoholic is illegal.

"Persons who sell alcoholic beverages have a great responsibility in this matter," the Judge said.

In addition to hearings in two bigamy cases, which were reported in last week's Pilot, the cases handled by the court last week were:
