Science Winners
 Joanne Sutphin and Brenda Graham won first place in the North Carolina Academy of Science of the North Central District at the indoor stadium, Duke University, Saturday. The girls contested in the Junior Biological Division with the title "Natural Dyes Paper Chromatography with Plant Dyes."

This victory culminated work on the effect of dyes on plants, leaves and fruits for the past year. They are students of Mrs. Lena Ladu's eighth grade of the West End School.

Joanne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Sutphin and Brenda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reece Graham.

Mrs. Ladu and Mrs. W. A. Johnson, Jr. were at Duke with the students on Saturday for the fair and the students had six exhibits on display, incidentally, the only exhibits from Moore County.

Other students attending were Kay Brown, Judy Hartsell, Teresa Luck, Sharon Blue, Vernon Sutphin, William Johnson, Jessie Kimball, Parks Blake, Gene Lewis and Donald Thomas.

Summer Program
 The Summer Recreation Committee is happy to announce that Otis Boroughs will direct the program this year which will feature swimming and the Pony and Little League baseball teams. Special appreciation goes to the retiring chairman, Mrs. A. J. Hanner, and to the secretary, Roy Swaringen, for a successful year's work and for formulating a committee for the coming year.

Mrs. Harold Markham will serve as the incoming chairman of the Recreation program; Mrs. Leslie Gordon, vice-chairman; Miss Phyllis Brewer, secretary; and Sammy Hill, treasurer.

Representatives of the civic organizations are Reece Graham, American Legion; John Thompson, Volunteer Firemen; Tommy McNeill, Lions Club; Mrs. Everette Cole, Sandspur Club; and the three ministers: the Rev. Aaron Tyson, the Rev. Clifton Tuttle and the Rev. George Houck.

PTA Plans
 Principal R. P. Johnson spoke to the PTA on Monday night on the plans now underway in the school to evacuate the students in case of a nuclear attack. He was assisted on the program by a student, Billy Harris, who spoke on the fall-out shelters. Mrs. W. M. Thompson was program chairman.

During the business session, a nominating committee was elected with Mrs. W. A. Johnson, Jr., chairman; Mrs. Everette Cole and Z. B. Conrad, Mrs. Cole, finance chairman, presented plans for the PTA to serve the Junior-Senior Banquet.

The organization voted to make a contribution on a projector for the school. Mrs. Claude Thomas's fourth grade won the attendance contest.

Former principal, J. F. Sinclair, will be honored, along with the late school board member, Worth Brown, for making a definite contribution to education and their names will be placed on a plaque at the PTA headquarters in Raleigh.

The group adjourned with a song led by Mrs. W. A. Johnson, Jr.

Dinner-Dance
 The Sandspur Club entertained the boys and girls basketball teams, the cheerleaders and team managers, members of the High School faculty, and husbands of Sandspur Club members at a buffet dinner and informal dance at the Legion Hut on Friday evening. The president, Mrs. Paul VonCanon, welcomed the guests, and Coach Otis Boroughs responded for the 85 guests present. It was a gala affair with attractive decorations, using the night club decor, outlining the dance floor. Serving on the committee from the Club were Mrs. James Rector, Mrs. Leonard VonCanon, Mrs. Everette Cole, Mrs. Leslie Gordon and Mrs. Bobby VonCanon.

FHA Pageant

'Easter the Awakening' Now Showing At Planetarium; Show Times All Listed

Commemorating the triumph of life over death, "Easter The Awakening" opened at the Morehead Planetarium in Chapel Hill last week for the 13th consecutive season. It will be offered every day in the week, including Palm and Easter Sundays, through April 30.

While in the world's churches during Lent the Biblical story of the last days of Christ on Earth is being told, in the Planetarium an inspiring Easter pageant is annually offered in complement, following a scientific explanation of the wandering Easter date.

The visual pageant of the betrayal, Crucifixion and Resurrection of Christ portrays the Scriptures, and is narrated by Earl Wynn, Director of the University of North Carolina's Communications Center.

This 1962 Easter story is devoted to an explanation of why Easter comes so late in the season this year (April 22) when last year it was on April 2nd and in 1959 on March 29th.

The events in both parts are terrestrial and celestial and are depicted in both natural color and black and white.

In addition to the nightly 8:30 o'clock performances, there are three matinees on Saturdays at 11 a. m., 3 and 4 p. m.; and on Sundays, including Palm and Easter Sundays, at 2, 3, and 4 p. m. No reservations are necessary for these public programs.

Programs for school children, which are offered daily at 11 a. m., 1 and 4 p. m., do require reservations. Additional programs will be opened at other times by request for 75 or more persons. At all school, or special presentations, the public is admitted after all reservations are accommodated.

Clergymen are admitted free to the Planetarium at all times, and one school official is admitted free with every ten student admissions. On request, the Planetarium will arrange, for High School Students only, a tour of another University of North Carolina department before or after the Planetarium programs.

Patrons and children may examine the Morehead Planetarium art and science exhibits without charge. The building is open daily for that purpose from 2-5 p. m. and from 7:30 to 10 p. m., on Saturdays from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. and on Sundays from 1 to 10 p. m.
