Southern Pines Recorder's Court

An option of walking to Aberdeen school in lieu of or in addition to paying a fine was chosen by three defendants in Southern Pines Recorder's Court last Wednesday, though they still had to pay court costs, and one defendant was sentenced to spend the rest of the court day in jail, after being tried for reckless driving.

Both the walking option and jail sentences of as short as a few hours have been used by Judge W. Harry Fullenwider in recent months to impress on both defendants and the public the seriousness of even so-called minor law violations, especially violations of traffic laws. Longer jail sentences, most of which have been appealed to Superior Court, have been given by the judge from time to time in cases of drunken driving and flagrant cases of reckless driving and other traffic offenses.

The cases heard last Wednesday:

Raymond Ritter, Manly, public drunk, one month suspended for six months on payment of $25 fine and costs, not to be convicted of a similar offense for six months; Mason Thomas, Vass, assault, not guilty; Margie McMullan, common law public nuisance, walk to Aberdeen school and pay the costs; Carlton L. Thomas, Route 1, Aberdeen, public drunk, $5 and costs; Lycurgum Williams, West End, public drunk, $15 and costs; James Walter Black, Pinehurst, no valid operator's permit, judgment as of non-suit, same defendant, possession of taxpaid whiskey with seal broken, $5 and

IN MOORE COUNTY

561 Farmers to Reduce Planting Of Corn, Sorghum

Farmers in Moore County have again agreed to reduce their plantings of corn and grain sorghum (milo) for 1962 in an effort to stop the build-up of Feed Grain supplies. The 1962 Feed Grain Program provides special payments to corn and grain sorghum producers for this reduction in planting provided they also divert an equal acreage of cropland on the farm and devote it to conservation uses in addition to the average acreage on the farm which was devoted to cover crops only or left idle and was covered by natural cover.

Through March 30, which was the closing date for farmers to file notice to take part in the grain sorghum. Base acreages 1962 Feed Grain Program, 561 farmers had filed notice to reduce their plantings by 3,530 acres of corn and 106 acres of grain sorghum. Base acreages on the farms totaled 4,319 acres of corn and 148 acres for grain sorghum. The advance payments for diverting these acreages amounts to $38,381.68. This will mean that farmers will be paid over $80,000 in 1962 if they carry out their present intentions and comply with the provisions of the program.

In the crop year 1961 Moore County farmers diverted 3,248 acres of corn and grain sorghums and devoted this land to conservation uses and were paid $72,080.67.

costs, whiskey to be confiscated and destroyed.

Bobby Lee Tew, assault, nol pros with leave; Lula Ray Williams, Taylortown, assault with deadly weapon, not guilty; Harry S. Richards, vile and profane language, one month suspended for 12 months on payment of $5 fine and costs and on condition that defendant not go on the premises of the prosecuting witness and not be convicted of a similar offense for 12 months; Michael S. Cockman, Route 1, Linden, permitting an unlicensed person to drive a motor vehicle, walk to Aberdeen school and pay the costs.

Johnny R. Calcutt, Route 3, Carthage, driving on wrong side of the road, not in passing, resulting in accident, not guilty; Henry W. Turner, speeding 55 in 35 zone, walk to Aberdeen school and pay $10 fine and costs; James Martin McKenzie, Pinehurst, reckless driving, committed to town jail to 6 p. m. on day of trial, pay the costs; Moultrie A. Truluck, Asheville, disobeying stop sign, exceeding stated speed limit, $15 and costs; Noah Williams, Robbins, public drunk, 30 days suspended on payment of $5 fine and costs.

Rotary Speakers, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Ives Praise UN

Mrs. Roy Nels Anderson of Raleigh, president of the North Carolina Division of the American Association for the United Nations, and Mrs. Ernest L. Ives of Southern Pines, a member of the N. C. Division's executive board, spoke to the Southern Pines Rotary Club in support of the UN and the work of the state association backing it, at the regular luncheon meeting of the club in the Country Club Friday.

Mrs. Ives, sister of Adlai E. Stevenson, U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, called the UN the "one great opportunity for peace. Maybe there will be a better one later," she said, "but now the UN is all we have."

Robert Leland, club president, presided. Mrs. Ives was introduced by E. Earl Hubbard, program chairman, Mr. Ives, retired diplomat, was a guest.

"We have to keep our hearts high and our aim absolutely straight," Mrs. Ives said. "The UN is the only sign of spring in the human heart today. When people can stand up and talk they will not shoot each other down so quickly."

Mrs. Ives introduced Mrs. Anderson, wife of an N. C. State College professor who has been at Raleigh since 1946.

Mrs. Anderson described the American Association for the United Nations as a national voluntary organization helping to strengthen public opinion in support of the UN. The Association has six chapters in North Carolina, she said, sponsoring a world peace study and speaking program in high schools, with a tour to UN headquarters for winning students and their teachers.

The North Carolina AAUN division distributes information about the UN, helps found new chapters, sends student leaders to a college UN study group and maintains a speakers' bureau, Mrs. Anderson said.

She suggested that the Rotary Club sponsor an observance of United Nations Day (October 24) in Southern Pines this year.
