

STOP FOR BREAK
"Take ten out of two, drivers." The North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles says this means taking ten minutes for a rest period out of every two hours of driving. A tired driver is a dangerous driver. Stopping for a ten minute break won't delay you much. Certainly not a lifetime.

Raver spoke to the club on fishing in the Sandhills and fish most adapted to this area. Dr. Heintsh is also a past president of the State Wildlife Federation. Members of the Moore County Wildlife Club will be guests of the Lee County Wildlife Club for a supper meeting at 6:30 p.m. Monday at the Lee organization's clubhouse, off No. 1 highway, south of Sanford (watch for sign and turn right, when headed north on No. 1) The dinner at last week's meeting was served by the West End Women's Club. MRS. DEROUIN NAMED COORDINATOR

Girl Scout Program Will Feature New Four Age-Level Organization

Names for four age levels within the Girl Scout program, to replace the three-level structure that the organization has used since 1938, have been announced by Mrs. Charles U. Culmer, president, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. Beginning in September, 1963, age groupings for the 2,685,000 girls in Girl Scouting will be as follows: Brownie Girl Scouts, aged 7 and 8 years; Junior Girl Scouts, aged 9, 10, and 11 years; Cadet Girl Scouts, aged 12, 13, and 14 years; and Senior Girl Scouts, aged 15, 16, and 17 years. Until that time, troops will continue in the present pattern of Brownie Scouts aged 7 through 9, Intermediate Girl Scouts aged 10 through 13, and Senior Girl Scouts aged 14 through 17.

The new age levels will become effective with the simultaneous release of four handbooks for girls in September 1963. Preparations for a smooth transition in the fall of 1963 are already under way in Chatham, Harnett, Lee, and Moore districts, according to Mrs. J. M. Cadell of Sanford, President of the Central Carolina Girl Scout Council which includes the four counties. Mrs. A. N. Derouin of Pinehurst has been appointed Program Launching Coordinator for the entire council area. She will coordinate a large-scale effort to explain plans for change to the Girl Scout family and to other community groups that work closely with the Girl Scouts; to organize troops within the present three age levels in such a way that the change to four levels may be accomplished without confusion; and to train the council's 569 adult volunteers in details of the revised program as soon as information becomes available.

The sequence of names, according to Mrs. Culmer, has been selected to give a feeling of progression through the entire Girl Scout age-range of 7 through 17 years. "Brownies" is the popular name for youngest members of the Girl Guide-Girl Scout movement around the world. "Junior" indicates that the girls just beyond Brownie Girl Scout age look forward to moving on into the more advanced levels within the program. "Cadette" is an adaptation of the word "cadet," used in its historic sense to describe a younger son of a great family. The Cadette Girl Scout as the second oldest daughter or sister in the Girl Scout family is training herself for her future. "Senior" clearly identifies the status of the high school age group as the oldest girl members in Scouting.

The background for program change was supplied in part by two studies conducted for the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. by the Survey Research Center, University of Michigan, 1955-1958. The first study dealt with needs and interests of adolescent girls, both within and outside the Girl Scout organization, and the second study with attitudes of Girl Scouts and their leaders toward the existing program. There will be no change in the fundamental elements of the Girl Scout program, which were shown by the University of Michigan Study to be as valid today as they were 50 years ago. The entire structure will be streamlined, however, and a careful design for progression will be built on the development pattern of girls growing up in the United States of America in the 1960's. A major objective is to make the Girl Scout program of informal education a more effective complement to the present-day school curriculum.

The sequence of names, according to Mrs. Culmer, has been selected to give a feeling of progression through the entire Girl Scout age-range of 7 through 17 years.

THEATRE

One of Tennessee Williams' greatest hits, "Sweet Bird of Youth," which ran on Broadway and on the road for more than two years, is brought to the screen by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer with four of its stars, Paul Newman, Geraldine Page, Rip Torn and Madeleine Sherwood, repeating their original stage roles. The film will be seen at the Sunrise Theatre, Sunday through Wednesday.

Other principal characters are portrayed by Shirley Knight, Ed Begley and Mildred Dunnock. Here is another absorbing drama to add to such Tennessee Williams successes as "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," "Suddenly Last Summer" and "Summer and Smoke." Once again this master-story-teller of human relationships has created a fascinating plot in which love, hate, ambition, cruelty, hypocrisy and passion are motivating forces in the destinies of his protagonists. "Sweet Bird of Youth" has a variety of backgrounds that range from the Florida coastline to a small Southern town.

Home Demonstration

Jackson Springs Club
The Jackson Springs Home Demonstration Club meeting was held in the home of Mrs. John Patterson, with Mrs. Bunyon Smith co-hostess. Presiding at the meeting was Mrs. Paul Cole, president. Devotions were led by Mrs. Albert Stutts.

A very helpful and interesting program on fabric finishes was presented by the Home Agent, Miss McDonald. Colorful samples were passed around for inspection by the group. During the business session it was announced that the club would feed the Ruritans at their April dinner meeting. Members were asked to bring a covered dish supper.

Landscaping the grounds around the Community Center was adopted as a project for the year. A committee was appointed by the president to outline this program. Mrs. Robert Henderson serves as chairman of the committee, assisted by Mrs. Herbert Carter, Mrs. Carl Gallimore, and Mrs. Charlie McDonald. By Mrs. Charles K. Cole, Publicity Chairman

If America's food surplus were used to feed the hungry peoples of the world, it would last less than two months.

LOOK FOR DANGER

Where do you look for danger when you're driving? Intersections, side roads, approaching cars? Of course, and there's one other place to watch for danger says the North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles. That's traffic that creeps up on you from behind. Check your rear view mirror frequently. If someone's tailgating, give him a chance to pass.
