JACKSON SPRINGS NEWS

Memorable Week

Mr. and Mrs. Elco Boroughs recently experienced a week they will certainly never forget. One of their sons, Ray, had a mastoid operation at Duke on Tuesday, while another son, Tommy, had an appendectomy at Moore Memorial Hospital. Elco was at Duke, and Mrs. Boroughs, with another son, Leon, was with Tommy until about 10:30 Wednesday night. Then, as they walked from the hospital, they found that the car, which they were driving and which belonged to another son, Hubert, had been stolen. Mrs. Boroughs had the key in her pocket-book, but no car to drive. However, her neighbor, Mrs. Leonard Jones, was advised of her dilemma by Mrs. W. E. Jackson, who is employed at the hospital, and drove over for Mrs. Boroughs and Leon.

As Elco was passing the Prison Farm near Carthage on his way home from Duke the following morning, he noticed a car parked on a side road. Upon investigation, he found it was his family's stolen car, with a mashed fender and a broken switch, but he was able to drive it home. "All's well that ends well." Both sons are recuperating nicely and the other members of the family attended services at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning.

Attend Presbytery Meet

Attending the meeting of Fayetteville Presbytery at Bensalem Church near Eagle Springs on Tuesday from the local church were the Rev. Lacy McDuffie, Delegate Elder Sam Dilling, Herbert Carter, Harris Blake, Charlie Cole and Mr. and Mrs. George Ross. Tom Kernan of Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, who has accepted a call to the local Church, was examined by the Presbytery.

50th Anniversary

"Tomorrow Begins Today" was the topic of the skit presented on Wednesday night by Mr. and Mrs. John C. Blue and Johnny, with Joyce Blue having the reading part, to the congregation of the Presbyterian Church. The program was sponsored by the Church Women. The occasion was the 50th birthday anniversary of the Assembly's Church Women, and Mrs. Gordon Cameron of Pinehurst, chairman of District VI of the Fayetteville Presbytery, gave the origin of the birthday and spoke on some of the highlights of the objectives during the 50 years.

Mrs. R. P. Brown of Southern Pines, Presbyterial president, spoke on the Youth Center at St. Andrews Presbyterian College. Mrs. Kimes Blake gave a devotional at the meeting, and Mrs. Ashton Richardson presented the program. The Rev. Lacy McDuffie gave the benediction.

The women were hosts at a social hour following the meeting, and they used a decorated birthday cake with orange punch commemorating the Golden Anniversary.
