Mrs. Devins Wins Title in Tennis Event Sunday

Mrs. J. H. Devins Tuesday defeated Mrs. Voit Gilmore in matches of 6-4, 6-4 to win the women's title in the Spring Tennis Tournament, being played this month on the Pinehurst Country Club's clay courts. Both players are from Southern Pines.

Jennifer Owens bowed in an earlier match to Mrs. Devins, who won sets of 6-0, 6-0.

Winner of the boys consolation matches was Wiley Barrett who also won two 6-0 sets against Kenny Beddingfield in the consolation finals.

In men's consolation matches, Keith Gernold defeated Tony Martin 6-0, 6-2.

With matches still to be played in the girls division, Judy Cameron defeated Bonnie Nugent 10-6; Ann Stevens was victorious over Betsy Grier 6-1, 6-2 and went on to trounce Patsy Hunt in a 10-2 set.

Linda Hinson defeated Katie Gilmore 12-10 in the girls' consolation.

In three-out-of-five game matches Sunday, results in the mid-level division of the tournament were: Virginia Schroeder df. Ben Sumrell; Susie Dunlop df. Becky Tufts; Kathy Spivey df. Mary Harrington; Chuck Shields df. Nancy Harrington.

The four winners were to play off for the championship this week.

Prizes To Be Given

The tournament, directed by professional Joe Roddey, will wind up Sunday afternoon with a mixed doubles round robin. Prizes will be awarded all division and consolation winners following play, around 5 p. m.

Sandhills Summer Club Opener Is Flag Tournament

A flag tournament gets the Sandhills Summer Club off to a start Tuesday, May 29. This is the first of the annual summer series of weekly tournaments for the golfing women members.

Several mixed tournaments with the men of the Morco Club are set during the four-month season, with parties scheduled to follow these special events.

Sandhills Summer Club members must sign up for the Tuesday tournaments by 11 a. m. that time during the day. A special provision, inaugurated this year, allows working members to play either the Saturday or Sunday preceding the specified weekly tournament on Tuesday, but they must sign up for the tournament in advance of their weekend round.

Twenty-eight of the 53 members attended a cocktail party and luncheon at the Country Club Tuesday, with 24 remaining for the business meeting.

Those planning to play in next Tuesday's opening flag tournament were told to sign up beforehand on the club's bulletin board.

Those expecting to play in tournaments thereafter will sign up with Bob Barrett in the pro shop.

Service Times Changed in 2 Village Churches

Beginning Sunday, June 3, Sunday masses at Sacred Heart Catholic Church will be at 8 and 9:30, according to Father James R. Jones, pastor. During the winter and spring seasons, there are three Sunday masses.

A week later, on June 10, Bishop Louis C. Melcher, minister of the Village Chapel has scheduled one Sunday service only during the summer months. This will be at 9:30 a. m., replacing the former 11 a. m. worship services held during the season.

BIBLE SCHOOL

The Community Church's annual Bible School for children of the village aged 4-13, usually held right after the close of the Pinehurst School, has been postponed this year and will be held the week of June 11-15.

The four departments include Kindergarten for children 4 through 6; Primary—6 through 9; Junior—nine through 11 and Pioneer—11-13.

ANNE STEVENS

TO ATTEND GIRLS STATE—Picked by the Pinehurst American Legion Auxiliary as local representatives at the annual Girls State June 17-23 at Woman's College, Greensboro, are Anne Stevens, 15, and Anne Hussey, 17. Both girls are juniors this year at the Pinehurst High School. The first-named is the daughter of Mrs. S. T. Stevens, and the late Mr. Stevens. Anne Hussey's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Woody Hussey.

"Don't Just Sit There"

Among other enticing facilities outlined in an ad for one of the better-known shipping lines to lure the prospective traveler onto that particular hook is a golf driving range.

Above the sparkling copy-bait appears a picture of a portion of a ship's stern. A smartly-uniformed crew member, apparently on caddy detail, stands by the rail holding a flag and from a raised platform in the picture's foreground, a traveler in tasteful and relaxed sportswear, is shown, driver aloft, peeling off golf balls into the churning wake of the vessel.

"Don't just sit there," cooly advises the copy, "Tee off!" Into the ocean? With golf balls the price they are today?? The thought's enough to curdle our Scottish blood.

The Southern Seniors

The newspaper staff writers, especially those on the Charlotte Observer, appear to find great possibilities for features in this area. Whenever Observer Sports Columnist Wilton Garrison turns to golf, which is frequently, he generally gets in a plug for one or two of Pinehurst's golf luminaries.

Last week, Garrison turned in a fine short history of the Southern Seniors Golf Association, with some interesting statistics on this sixth oldest group, in the 55-year history of Senior Golf in the U. S. He gave full credit where it was due—to Howard Phillips who formed the SSGA here in 1930 and is its honorary president, and to Chester I. Williams, the organization's executive secretary-treasurer for 14 years, who took over with the membership at 25 and now has over 1,000 members.

The peripatetic "exec," who is always bouncing in and out of Pinehurst en route to and from SSGA tournaments he has arranged and in which he has more than likely played, also added several years ago a Southern Seniors auxiliary for women golfers.

After touring the south in his air-conditioned Cadillac arranging for 15 big tournaments every season for the Southern Seniors, which numbers former President Eisenhower among its honorary members, Chester's idea of a busman's holiday—and one in which he will again indulge this summer—is a motor trip to the West Coast by way of Canada's Banff and Lake Louise.

From there, he plans to go (not, we assume, by Caddy) to Honolulu for a visit, returning Stateside in August.

Testifying to the smallness of our resort village was the comment of a pre-schooler overheard last week. We were discussing holding over some excess baggage discovered during a recent frenzy of housecleaning for the rummage sales which usually burgeon in the fall here, since there are generally none during the summer.

"Oh yes there is a rummage sale here," piped up the youngster. "It's where you go to vote."

It's true—the community hall is where we have rummage sales, register to vote, and cast our ballots. And teenagers used to hold their dances there too.

Here and Away

The John A. Tuckermans left last Friday for Massachusetts where they will attend the wedding of their granddaughter, Miss Susanne Lawrence of Hamilton to Ferdinand Colloredo-Mansfeld late this month. The Tuckermans will then go to Ipswich, Mass. for the balance of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph R. Few and their young daughter and son, of Durham, were weekend guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dana and attended the Williams College Alumni dinner Saturday at the Holly Inn. Mr. Dana, a Williams graduate, was on the local arrangements committee.

H. Arnold Jackson has left for the north. After a visit in Greenwich, Conn., he will spend most of the summer at Fishers Island, N. Y.

The Hugh Carters spent Friday and Saturday in Wilmington, N. C. where they visited their daughter, and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. John Codington and their three children. Friday night, the Carters attended the Junior League Folies, an amateur show in which the Codingtons took part. The Folies were held in Thalian Hall, the oldest theatre for amateur performances in this country.

Mrs. oe Taylor and Mrs. John Miller, Jr., both of Lynchburg, Va. were weekend guests of their aunt, Mrs. A. P. Thompson and Mr. Thompson.

Mrs. L. M. Tate and her daughter, Mary Anne Tate and the latter's son, Rusty Greene, left Monday for the summer at their place in Blowing Rock. Lloyd P. "Junebug" Tate, and daughter, Kathie, were weekend guests of his brother, William and his family in Baltimore, Md. where they all attended the Preakness Race.

Here for the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cameron were Mr. and Mrs. Brady Thomas and family of Charlotte.

Miss Leota Griffiths arrived at Raleigh-Durham Airport Wednesday from Des Moines, Iowa for a fortnight with her sister, Mrs. L. B. Creath and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Graydon Spivey and Mr. and Mrs. Harris Blake returned Tuesday from Wilmington where the two men attended a State Lions Club convention as representatives of the local club.

French Club Dance

Senior Gene Maples was host to members of the French Club at a dance last Saturday night at his home on Midland Road. Lots of fun was had by all present.

Annual Dedication

The students of PHS received their annuals at last Wednesday's assembly in the school auditorium. The annual this year was dedicated to the 11th grade homeroom and commercial teacher, Mrs. Wilma Thompson.

PTA Meeting

The home ec department students at the school modeled their own creations at the last Parent-Teachers Association meeting of the year Tuesday night. There was also a display of the work the industrial arts students have done during the year following the meeting.

CARD OF THANKS

Please accept my sincere gratitude for the many, many kindnesses shown my mother, Amelia Rapatas, during her illness and for the expressions of sympathy extended to me at the time of her passing. Each was deeply appreciated.
