Farmers Day At Robbins To Have Old-Time Parade

The fifth annual Robbins Farmers Day celebration, to be held Saturday morning in the upper Moore County town, is expected to draw the largest participation in its history—at least 150 entries in the parade of old-time vehicles and riding horses, and a crowd of some 10,000 from North Carolina and neighboring states.

Led by Curtis Hussey, wagon master, the parade, starting at 10 a. m. includes a wide variety of wagons, buggies, surreys and other vehicles of bygone days.

The Robbins Merchants Association and Jaycees, also the Boy Scouts and other local groups, are also extending full cooperation in the form of traditional hospitality to the visitors, along with the supervision of traffic and parking, awarding of prizes, etc.

Congressman Charles R. Jonas (see separate story) is expected to be a visitor at Robbins Saturday.

Wayland Kennedy is general chairman for the Merchants Association, which will give prizes for the best rig, most unusual rig and best animal, along with a separate gift for each entry.

The parade will wind through town at leisurely pace, returning about noon to the parking area. With so many spirited mounts on hand, exhibitions of horsemanship generally take place at this time, and the crowd will have a chance to inspect the rigs and talk with their owners. Gifts and prizes will be distributed there, and free soft drinks will be available to the participants.

Some 30 old covered wagons are expected to take part, including (Continued on Page 8)

Rep. Jonas To Be In County, Attend Event At Robbins

Congressman Charles R. Jonas of Lincolnton, former 10th District representative who is the Republican candidate opposing Rep. A. Paul Kitchin of Wadesboro for election as representative in the newly created 8th District, is expected to be in Moore County Friday night and Saturday, James E. Harrington, Jr. of Pinehurst, GOP county chairman, said this week.

Rep. Jonas will fly into Fayetteville late Friday and will meet with county Republican workers and all interested persons at the courthouse in Carthage at 8:30 Friday night, the party chairman stated.

On Saturday, the Congressman will attend the Farmers Day celebration at Robbins, but is not scheduled to speak, Harrington said.

Miss Leland Heads New 'TARS' Club

Miss Dawn Leland was elected president of the newly formed "TARS," the teen-age Republican club in Southern Pines, at its first meeting held at the Southland hotel Tuesday evening. Miss Leland is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Leland of Kensington Road.

About two dozen young Republicans met and started proceedings for the formation of a local club. James Harrington, Moore County GOP chairman and Wallace O'Neal, Republican candidate for county commissioner, with several members of the Pinehurst TARS club, attended the meeting.

STATE HONORS— Ida Carolyn Kidd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kidd of Highfalls, and D. A. Cockman, son of Mr. and Mrs. June Cockman of Robbins, pictured here, represented Moore County as "Health King and Queen" in the North Carolina Health Pageant during State 4-H Club Week at Raleigh. Miss Kidd was crowned State Health Queen. While not a winner in the health contest, Cockman, with his sister, Dianah, placed second in the state in the Poultry Marketing demonstration, another of the several contests held.

WINS TRIP TO CHICAGO

Highfalls Girl Is State Health Queen

By MARY BRASWELL
Assistant Moore County
Home Economics Agent

Ida Carolyn Kidd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kidd of Highfalls, was crowned State Health Queen at State 4-H Club Week in Raleigh last week.

Winners from each county compete against each other for this honor which is based on the quality of their 4-H Health Record. Carolyn is the first Moore County young person who has received this honor. She and her state winner, David Sanderson of Pender County, will receive expense-paid trips to the National 4-H Congress at Chicago in the fall. One of them will compete for national honors.

Things Carolyn did in her Health Improvement Project to win her award include 156 personal, 386 family, and 287 community and county health improvements in her eight years as a 4-H Club member. She has given 32 demonstrations, made two surveys, written two news articles, and given five radio talks. In addition she has made 156 exhibits and displays on health and passed out 14,000 pamphlets relating to improving health. Last year Carolyn placed in the blue

Sunday Will Be Charter Day For Lutheran Church

Sunday, August 5, has been designated Charter Day for Our Saviour Lutheran Church of Southern Pines. All persons desiring to become members of this Lutheran congregation will be asked to sign the official church charter during the 11 a. m. service at the Civic Club.

During this service, Pastor Jack Deal said, Holy Communion will be administered. Visitors are invited.

The congregation is presently meeting in the Civic Club building on the corner of Pennsylvania Ave. and Ashe St. The Lutheran Church has purchased seven acres of property south of Southern Pines on No. 1 Highway, adjoining the Fairway Motel, and the local congregation plans to erect its new church building there next year.

WILL WASH CARS

To raise funds for their activities, members of Explorer Post 889 plan to wash cars August 14, 15, and 16. The boys will furnish all equipment, including a vacuum cleaner for car interiors and will go to homes to do the work. Interested car owners are asked to call 5-1301 or 2-6262 for appointments.

County Budget Adopted; Election On Bonds Planned

The Moore County commissioners, in a called meeting at the courthouse in Carthage last Thursday, made formal adoption of a $1,420,043 budget for 1962-63.

No changes were made in the budget as it had been tentatively adopted at the regular meeting July 2, retaining the tax rate at $1.70. Lying open since then for public inspection it had been the subject of some discussion with a view to possible changes, but the final decision was against making any.

Along with news of the budget's adoption came information that, during its budget-making days last June, the board had informally gotten the ball rolling toward a bond issue for construction of the proposed Agriculture Building, to include quarters for the Moore County Library.

County Attorney M. G. Boyette was instructed to prepare a resolution, for consideration and possible adoption at the August meeting, next Monday, looking toward a $155,000 bond election, probably to be held at the time of the general election November 4, to save expenses.

Last week's meeting was called on request of the Vass volunteer firemen, who appeared to protest the omission of $12,000 from the budget, to purchase another truck for the county's rural fire protection system. The next truck will, by agreement, be placed at Vass, to serve the Vass, Lakeview and Little River rural areas.

The commissioners informed the group, headed by Chief P. T. Smith, that they also regretted (Continued on Page 5)

Cardinals Champs In Little League; Game Tonight

The Cardinals have been designated champions of the 1962 four-team Southern Pines Little League. Details and photo are on page 5.

The Cardinals, coached by Joel Stutts, with two players borrowed from other teams in the league, are playing a post-season game with a Parkton Little League team at the park on Morganton Road here at 7 p. m. today (Thursday). The borrowed players are Mike Warlick of the Braves and Tommy Richardson of the Pirates. Richardson is the league's batting champion for the season. Home run champ for the league this year was Eddie Allen. Won and lost record of the four teams of the league for the entire season is: Cardinals, 15 and 4; Dodgers 9 and 9; Braves 8 and 11; and Pirates, 5 and 13.

BLOOD GIVEN

A bloodmobile from the American Red Cross center in Charlotte collected 81 pints of blood in a visit here Tuesday and 49 in a visit to Carthage Monday. A quota of 125 pints had been set for each visit. The Charlotte center supplies both hospitals in the county.

Dr. Russell Tate Opens Animal Clinic

The Maple Lawn Animal Clinic has been opened at Vass by Dr. Russell Tate, it was announced this week.

Dr. Tate and his wife, the former Anthea Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Taylor of Pinehurst, are at present living in Pinehurst but expect to move to Vass where they have bought the former McNair place.

The clinic is located at the "old Dr. Leslie home," former residence of the late Dr. Leslie who was Mrs. Tate's great-grandfather. Dr. Tate is not a newcomer to the Sandhills. Following the deaths of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jule Tate of Blowing Rock, he lived for two years at Pinehurst with his uncle and aunt, the late Lloyd M. Tate and Mrs. Tate. He returned to Blowing Rock, to graduate from high school at Hendersonville, later attending Lees-McRae College and N. C. State College where he graduated in 1958. His college career was interrupted by service in the Army. Dr. Tate then entered the veterinary school of Oklahoma State University, graduating in 1961. For the past year, he has practiced veterinary medicine at Glasgow, Ky. Dr. and Mrs. Tate have a son, Jule Walsh Tate, eight months old.

Thousands To Visit Sandhills For National Amateur Golf Tournament

NEW SAND— Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, right, one of North Carolina's top golfers, examines new sand being placed in bunkers on Pinehurst's No. 2 championship course, as Peter V. Tufts, manager of the Pinehurst Country Club, watches. Patton was influential in bringing to Pinehurst the National Amateur golf tournament next month, for which the No. 2 course is being prepared. The special white sand, 1,500 tons in all, came from near Salisbury. It's lighter and less likely to pack than this section's native sand. (Hemmer photo)

Thousands of persons will be Sandhills visitors for the 62nd Amateur Championship of the U. S. Golf Association, to be played at Pinehurst the week of September 17, with the largest number expected for finals of the event, Saturday, September 22.

Many of the nation's top amateurs will be playing in the field of 200 contestants to which the entries are limited. Peter V. Tufts, manager of the Pinehurst Country Club, said from six to seven thousand spectators are expected, "depending on who is in the finals." If one or more Tar Heel golfers reach the semi-finals or finals, the crowd is likely to be bigger, he noted.

Amateur golfers all over the nation will be qualifying for entry in the tournament, on designated regional golf courses, September 4 and 5. Qualifying for North Carolina players will be conducted at two Charlotte clubs. Eligible to attempt to qualify are players with handicaps of four or less who have membership in a member club of the U. S. Golf Association.

Certain players, including former National Amateur title holders, are exempt from qualifying. Among these is Chick Evans who, at Pinehurst will be playing in his 50th consecutive National Amateur tournament.

Qualifiers from all sections of the nation are chosen, by playoff matches, if necessary, to complete the field of 200.

The No. 2 championship course at Pinehurst, will be playing in groomed for the big tournament. The major change, now virtually completed, is narrowing of fairways, Mr. Tufts said. Fairway widths, at a point about 250 yards out from the tees are being cut to a width of 40 or 50 yards from a former width of 60 or 70 yards. New sand ordered for bunkers has been put in place but not yet spread out.

Tufts Wins Moore County Golf Title, Defeating Hamel

Pete Tufts of Pinehurst is the new Moore County golf champion, defeating Bill Hamel of Southern Pines 2-up at Pinehurst Wednesday.

He succeeds Bill Woodward of Robbins for the Moore title. Woodward was eliminated earlier in the annual tournament. Tufts is manager of the Pinehurst Country Club.

In semi-finals matches, Hamel shot a 68 on Pinehurst's No. 3 course to down Joel Hufford of Pinehurst 4 and 2. And Tufts was even par in a 1-up win over Barney Avery of Southern Pines.

In the 1st Flight, during the past week's matches, Melvin Wicker beat Watt Smith 3 and 1, to meet Bill Sledge in the finals. Sledge squeaked by Leighton Ford, 1-up.

In two matches that had to be continued to the next day because of rain, Glenn Lassiter knocked over Frank Wells 3 and 1 and Alvie Claxton was 1-up over Bill Thraillkill. Lassiter and Claxton will meet to determine the 2nd Flight winner.

H. L. Brinkley and Ed Klingenschmidt will play in the finals of the 3rd Flight. Last week, Brinkley was a 2 and 1 winner over Jack Hawkins and Klingenschmidt a 5 and 4 winner over John Poole.

After a 2-up win over Henry Graves, Bud Rainey meets Stanley Smith for the 4th Flight honors. Smith downed Frank Gramelsbach in an overtime match, 1-up in 19 holes.

Another Pinehurst - Southern Pines duel will pit Jim Gilbert of Pinehurst against Gene McKenzie of Southern Pines for the 5th Flight crown. McKenzie reached the finals in a 1-up victory over C. B. Foster, while Gilbert defeated young Ricky Bray, 2 and 1.

Hearing About Airport Zoning Slated Monday

A public hearing on proposed zoning regulations for the vicinity of the Southern Pines-Pinehurst Airport will be held at 3 p. m. Monday in the courthouse at Carthage.

The hearing will be conducted before the board of county commissioners as part of their regular monthly meeting.

Details of the proposal have not been announced. Property owners in the area and all interested persons are invited to attend.

Junior Sandhill Net Tournament Starting Today

The town this week welcomes boys and girls playing in the Junior Sandhill Invitational tennis tournament.

Singles started this morning, doubles will get under way Friday and the tournament will wind up with finals Sunday afternoon. Trophies will be awarded winners and runners-up in all events.

With 63 boys, 17 girls, the total of 80 participants makes this the largest tournament in the 15-year history of the sanctioned event sponsored by the Sandhills Tennis Association. The visitors are staying in downtown hotels and private homes. While no special social event is being scheduled for them, they are welcome to attend the recreation program's weekly Friday evening dance on the school grounds.

The players come from 14 North Carolina cities, with six from South Carolina and one outstanding young player each from Athens, Ga., and Oklahoma City, Okla. One comes from Fort Bragg.

For the first time in several years, there is a sizeable local contingent, with five boys and one girl from Southern Pines and two Pinehurst boys. From Southern Pines are Janet Phillips, Ronny Brown, Jeff Donovan, Ian Gouldsbrough, Robin Grover and John McLaughlin. From Pinehurst, Boris deNissoff and Keith Gernold. The tournament is held in cooperation with the town summer recreation program. Members of the association, of which Ray Schilling is president, are working with Tournament Chairman Norris L. Hodgkins, Jr., and Tournament Director John Williams.

SENIOR TOURNEY STARTS AUGUST 9

Entries are coming in well for the Sandhill Invitational, the senior tournament to be held next week, said John Williams, director.

Joanne Cooper of Charlotte will defend her 1961 championship in women's singles. The tournament committee has not yet heard from C. W. Shackelford of Danville, Va., 1961 winner of the men's singles championship and coveted Sandhill Cup.

Deadline for entries is next Wednesday night, when seedings will be made and pairings drawn. Play will start Thursday, August 9, continuing through Sunday.

Council Approves Putting Library Bonds In Election

In special session Monday afternoon, the town council voted to add a $25,000 Southern Pines Library bond issue to three other bond proposals on which local residents will have a chance to vote later this year.

The bonds would finance an addition to the library, more shelving and renovation work. Two weeks ago the council took no action on the bond proposal, after learning of a difference of opinion on the matter among library trustees. At that meeting the council voted to ask the State Local Government Commission for authority to call a bond election on $280,000 for the sewer system, $105,000 for the water system and $35,000 for a West Southern Pines public swimming pool.

All four of the issues, if the election is authorized, would appear individually on the ballot and could be voted on separately. Present for Monday's session were Mayor John S. Ruggles, and Councilmen Felton Capel, Morris Johnson and Fred Pollard. Mayor Ruggles said that Councilman J. D. Hobbs, who was not present, had asked to be put on record in favor of the library proposal. Mr. Pollard made the motion, seconded by Mr. Johnson who is a member of the library board of trustees. The vote was unanimous.

Last Course For Young Drivers Set

The summer's third and final session of driver training for East Southern Pines High School students will begin at 9 a. m. Monday, with registration in the multi-purpose room of the school, Supt. Luther A. Adams announced.

Ralph Foushee of the Junior High School faculty will again be the instructor for classroom work and behind-the-wheel training.

Automobiles driven by graduates of this approved course are subject to lower insurance rates than those driven by young people who have not completed such a course.
