Numerous Agencies, Individuals Take Part In Emergency Disaster Exercise

Emergency disaster services at St. Joseph of the Pines Hospital, with the cooperation of police and firemen and the newly organized Moore County Rescue Squad No. 2, were successfully tested in a surprise drill last Thursday about 6:30 p.m.

Only the leaders of the organizations involved knew of the upcoming drill but, said Sister Catherine at the hospital, organizer of the test, all personnel responded quickly when duty calls went out through a pre-arranged telephone network and over Radio Station WEBB.

All off-duty hospital personnel, nurses and orderlies, were notified and returned at once, not knowing that it was a simulated event.

Fifteen members of the Southern Pines volunteer fire department served as simulated injured persons, exhibiting a variety of injuries that might have been received in an explosion. They were transported to the hospital by ambulances and personnel of the McKelthen and Powell funeral homes and were received there by Rescue Squad members who took them to examining and treatment stations in the hospital.

Judge McConnell Will Preside At Court Next Week

With 20 cases on the warrant docket for grand jury action, and 71 on the trial docket, it looks like a busy week ahead for Special Judge John D. McConnell of Southern Pines who will be presiding in Carthage at next week's term of Moore County Superior Court.

One homicide, the second degree murder case against Frank Young Yow of Carthage, leads the warrant docket in interest. Yow is charged with the fatal stabbing of his friend June Sullivan at the victim's home last June 11. At the time of his arrest and later, at the inquest, Yow stated he was "pretty drunk" and "didn't know" whether he stabbed Sullivan or not, as he had no recollection of any such happening. How he will plead at the trial is not known.

Nine defendants, all from Montgomery or Randolph counties, face charges of assault with deadly weapon with intent to kill, in the random shooting spree which took place on a Sunday afternoon in May at the Dewey Allred home on NC 705, above Robbins. Shotguns and pistols were said to have been used in the firing, which pockmarked the front of the Allred house with shot and injured one person. The defendants admitted no guilt on being arrested and are expected to contest the charge. (Continued on Page 8)

Miss Mitchell Honored For Long Service

A gentle lady of soft voice and modest mien received an ovation Friday afternoon at Samariland Manor, Eagle Springs, as "a friend of all of us—a friend with an educated heart."

The occasion was a special program and reception given by the staff of the state training school for girls, honoring Miss Reva Mitchell, superintendent, on completion of 30 years of service there.

Before the audience of 50 staff members, 260 girl students and many invited friends from all over the State, tributes were paid to her as one whose influence for good on thousands of young lives was equaled only by her record as a top administrator.

As a new Woman's College graduate, she came to the school August 1, 1932, "for the summer—and it's been a long summer," said guest speaker Samuel E. Leonard of Montreat, State Commissioner of Correction from 1943 to 1956.

Leonard, in whose administration she was promoted to superintendent in 1944, said it had been a "summer" fruitful in blessings for the State. He recalled early struggles of the school, and the adjustments smoothly handled by Miss Mitchell, not only to new buildings but to changing attitudes and methods of correction.

The program was held in the auditorium of the classroom building, one of a dozen handsome contemporary buildings which have in recent years replaced the old building. (Continued on Page 13)

Moore Library Joins 3-County Regional Plan

AFTER OCTOBER 1

The Moore County commissioners on Monday agreed to join in with Richmond and Montgomery Counties in the organization of the Sandhill Regional Library, with joint administration and the pooling of state and federal funds.

They adopted a resolution which was also presented Monday to the commissioners of the other participating counties.

The plan, which had been worked out in several meetings with the other boards and discussed fully with the commissioners, was presented Monday by W. S. Evans, chairman, and Mrs. A. P. Phillips of Cameron, of the Moore Library board.

Under new regulations of the State Library Commission, each participating library continues entirely autonomous, with local funds budgeted as before, while state funds, and the federal grant now available only on a regional basis, support a joint administration and central purchasing to "get the most out of the library dollar."

Members from each of the three library boards will compose a regional board, and the resolution authorized this board to establish the library on or after October 1.

Jimmy Jones, 20, Killed Today As Truck Runs Off Road During Storm

James E. (Jimmy) Jones, 20, of Southern Pines was killed in a one-car wreck on the Old Pinehurst Road about 11:30 a.m. today.

At the height of a short but intense thunderstorm occurring at that time, the Ford pickup truck young Jones was driving toward Southern Pines ran off the road on the right-hand side and smashed against a tree, near the Sunny Sands entrance. There was no indication of excessive speed, according to Trooper J. F. Cardwell, investigating.

The truck belongs to the Underpass Service Station at Pinehurst, of which young Jones's father is proprietor and where he was employed.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 11 a.m. at the United Church of Christ, conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Carl Wallace, with burial in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Jones of Southern Pines; one sister, Barbara Ann, of the home; and two brothers, L. D. Jones, Jr., and Charles S. Jones, of Southern Pines.

9 Left Homeless After House Fire; Need Donations

The W. R. Walden home about two and a half miles from town on Youngs Road was destroyed by fire with all its contents Saturday morning, leaving nine persons homeless.

Losing their furnishings, clothing, money and other valuables and all personal possessions were Walden, his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Sturdivant, and their four children, and a niece and her soldier husband who were making their home there. Only the electric stove and a couple of chairs were saved.

When the fire was discovered in an upstairs room a call was sent to the Southern Pines volunteer fire department. Expecting the truck to arrive any minute, the family pitched in to fight the fire, keeping it confined to one room. After 35 minutes they found they were not eligible for fire truck service, having no out-of-town contract with the Southern Pines department. There had apparently been some misunderstanding, on the part of the person placing the call to the fire department, as to whether the Southern Pines truck would come.

The town council directed several years ago that the Southern Pines volunteers go out of town only to protect property whose owners pay in advance a fire service charge to the town. The charge amounts to 10 cents per $100 of the property's tax valuation.

W. O. Moss brought his fire truck from Mile-Away Farms, but too late to salvage anything.

The family has moved in with a son, Clinton Walden, also on Youngs Road, and has received many gifts of clothing, furnishings and money, for which Clinton Walden, proprietor of the West Side Garage, this week expressed appreciation. (Continued on Page 8)

Clark Top Seeded In Tennis Tourney Beginning Today

Malcolm Clark, winner of the Sandhill Cup in 1960, is tops seeded in the 15th annual Sandhill Invitational Tennis Tournament which opened today, with finals slated Sunday.

Clark, a Southern Pines native, tried for the trophy several years, before winning it two years ago. Last year, he lost it, while C. W. Shackleford, Jr., of Danville became champion. Now he returns to his home courts from summer school at Chapel Hill, apparently playing his best tennis in years.

In the East Carolina Closed Tournament at Raleigh last weekend, he was runner-up to C. L. Shaffer, Jr., of Chapel Hill in singles, and winner with Shaffer in doubles.

Shackleford, playing the grass-court circuit this summer is abdicating his Sandhill crown, but the field of 27 men offers strong competition. (Continued on Page 8)

SPHS Candidates For Football To Meet At School

Fall football practice will officially get underway for Southern Pines High School with a meeting Friday, August 10 in room 108 of the school. The meeting, which will begin at 7:30 p. m., will be for all boys in grades eight through 12 interested in football. Coach Bill Megginson has announced that the purpose will be to discuss the practice schedule, physical examinations and the use of mouthpieces.

Doctors and dentists, in cooperation with the Southern Pines School, will give the team players their physicals and fit mouthpieces. Now considered as a part of the football uniform, the mouthpiece will be required equipment for every player.

A junior varsity team, consisting of eighth and ninth graders, is planned for this year provided the expected number of students go out for football. Coach John Williams will be in charge of the junior varsity team. Coach Megginson will be in charge of the varsity team with Dan Kruger, a new member of the faculty, as his assistant.

Town Council To Meet On Tuesday

A public hearing on annexation of the Stanley Austin residential property on Morganton Road will be held at the regular meeting of the Southern Pines town council in the municipal center Tuesday of next week, August 14, at 8 p.m. The annexation was requested by the property owner and no opposition is expected.

Town Manager Bud Rainey said that another annexation request, involving several property owners, is expected but has not been formally presented, though it may be made in time for consideration by the council Tuesday. All such requests require a public hearing. This could not be held Tuesday for the new request, but the council could set a hearing for a later date. Identification of the property was withheld pending the formal petition.

No other matters so far have been definitely docketed for Tuesday's meeting, Rainey said.

ROUNDS HAS SURGERY

Glen Rounds, who has been a patient at Moore Memorial Hospital for the past two weeks, underwent surgery there Friday. The local man, author and illustrator of numerous books, is reported recovering well.
