National Amateur Golf Going Into Semi-Finals Friday; Smith Beaten

The 62nd Amateur Championship of the U. S. Golf Association enters the tense semi-finals and finals phase tomorrow at Pinehurst with narrowing of the once-200-strong field to the four competitors of the semi-finals.

Results of this morning's 5th round matches are:

Homero Blancas, Jr., Houston, Texas, defeated 18-year-old David Marad of Milton, Mass., 1-up.

Labron E. Harris, Jr., of Enid, Okla., age 20, defeated Richard H. Sikes of Springdale, Ark., 1-up, 21 holes.

Billy Joe Patton, Morganton, the only Carolinian golfer left in the fray, defeated John D. Mc Key, Jr., of Orlando, Fla.

James R. Gabrielson of Athens, Ga., defeated Robert Littler, Jr., of Athens, Ohio, 5 and 4.

Charles Coody, Jr., of Fort Worth, Texas, defeated Robert W. Allen of West Hartford, Conn., 3 and 2.

William K. Newcomb, Jr. of

Royal Center, Ind., defeated Anthony J. Culinane of Washington, D. C., 2-up.

Paul Desjardins of Miami Shores, Fla., another 20-year-old, defeated Charles B. Smith of Gastonia who, with Patton, had been a white hope of Tar Heels for a North Carolina winner in the tournament.

Downing Gray of Warrington, Fla., defeated James J. Colbert, Jr., Prairie Village, Kan., 3 and 2.

So this afternoon, with The Pilot's press time too early to get results, the matches being played are:

Blancas vs. Harris.
Patton vs. Gabrielson.
Coody vs. Newcomb.
Desjardins vs. Gray.

The four winners will tee off at 9 a. m. tomorrow (Friday) (8 standard Sandhills time) for an 18-hole round and at 2 p. m. (1 EST) for the second round, to play out their 36-hole matches. The finals on Saturday will

County To Vote On Bond Issues For 2 Buildings

The Moore County commissioners in a public hearing at Carthage Friday adopted a bond ordinance calling for two issues of building bonds totaling $250,000, subject to a vote of the people at the time of the general election Tuesday, November 6.

One issue in the sum of $175,000 is for a building to house the county agricultural offices and the Moore County Library, while the other, for $75,000, is for a building for the county Department of Public Welfare.

The buildings are to be located on sites already owned by the county, and the named sums are "outside figures" to include equipment also.

The commissioners had no trouble securing approval of the Local Government Commission for the bond issues, as Moore County has no bonded indebtedness for any purpose other than schools, and for schools, the debt on July 1 was only $165,000, since reduced by a $25,000 payment to $140,000. A $50,000 bridge bond issue dating back to 1926 was paid off last year.

The new indebtedness would be taken care of easily within the present tax structure, without any tax raise, the commissioners affirmed.

On hand to voice support of the bond issue for the long-wanted Agricultural Building, and to meet any protests which might arise (none did) was a seven-man delegation from the Moore County Farm Bureau consisting of S. R. Ransdell, Jr., president; J. D. Shields, secretary; directors J. J. Jeffries, Carr Paschal, John Baker and Clarence Gordon, and Gaither Edwards, manager of the Production Credit Association, also F. D. Allen, farm agent, and Miss Flora McDonald, home economist. Sandhills Prepares To Welcome Eisenhower On Visit Saturday

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is scheduled to arrive at the Southern-Pines-Pinehurst Airport Saturday, September 22 at 12:15 p. m. for a half day of politics and golf.

He will be met at the airport by Rep. Charles R. Jonas of Lincoln, Republican candidate for Congress from the new 8th district and other GOP leaders of the county and state.

The former chief executive and World War II military leader is making the visit to the 8th District, which includes Moore County, specifically to boost Jones' candidacy in his campaign against Democratic Rep. A. Paul Kitchin of Wadesboro, for the November 6 election.

From the airport, General Eisenhower will go to the Carolina Hotel in Pinehurst where he and Rep. Jonas will be honored guests at a 1:15 p. m. luncheon sponsored by the Moore County Citizens Committee for Jones, of which A. E. Rhinehart is chairman. Dr. Bruce Warlick of Southern Pines will be master of ceremonies at the luncheon. Eisenhower and Jonas will both speak.

Immediately following the luncheon, General Eisenhower and Jonas will go to the Pinehurst Country Club to watch the last portion of the final, championship round of the National Amateur Golf Tournament. It is reported that the general will watch from a golf cart—the only one permitted on the course during the current week-long event.

With Congressman Jonas for the airport reception will be: J. E. Broyhill of Lenoir, Republican national committeeman; Robert L. Gavin, of Sanford, Republican chairman of North Carolina; Coy Lewis, Jr., of Robbinston, Eighth District GOP chairman; James E. Harrington, Jr., of Pinehurst, Moore County GOP chairman; and members of the Moore County Citizens for Jones Committee. Members of the committee, in

GENERAL EISENHOWER

Ragan, Jr., of Pinehurst; Ticket Committee, Mrs. David Drexler of Southern Pines and Mrs. B. F. Marley of Robbinston, co-chairmen; Transportation Committee, Bill Weldon of Southern Pines, and Usher Committee, Miss Ruth Wells of Pinehurst.

Members of the Teenage Republican Clubs of Moore County will serve as ushers at the luncheon.

General Eisenhower's schedule is Eastern Standard Time, not the special daylight time in effect in Pinehurst during the week of the golf tournament.

The former President's interest in golf is well known. He played frequently while President, his favorite Southern course being the Augusta National Golf Club at Augusta, Ga. He has not visited Pinehurst since he entered politics in 1952 when he was elected to his first term in the White House.

The Jones-Kitchin race, liveliest in the state at the Congressional level, features the rare situation of pitting two incumbent representatives against each other. In the current Congress, Jones represents the former 10th district, a part of which was lopped off in a redistricting to form the new 8th. Kitchin represents the old 8th which also lost some of its counties in the change. Redistricting was due to the loss of one Congressional seat in North Carolina, because of a population drop in the 1960 census.

Former President Harry Truman will make a campaign visit to Charlotte some time next month in behalf of Congressman Kitchin.

Kitchin is working with the National Democratic Committee to arrange a date for Truman's visit.

Charlotte officials said that although the Truman rally would be held in Kitchin's district, party officials in the neighboring districts of Rep. Basil Whitener and Rep. Hugh G. Alexander would be asked to participate.

$20,000 Awarded For Permanent Injury In Wreck

A jury awarded $20,000 for a teen-age youth permanently crippled in an automobile accident after a trial which continued through the entire civil term of Moore County Superior Court last week at Carthage.

Charles B. Smith, now 19, of Vass, Route 2 had sued through "next friend" for the sum of $175,000 for personal injury in an accident of October 7, 1960. Through counsel he notified of appeal to the State Supreme Court, after motions to set aside the verdict as inadequate, and on errors, had been denied by Superior Court Judge Hubert E. Olive.

Defendants in the case were Thomas Robert McCants of Durham, commandant of the Duke (Continued on Page 8)

Special Term of Court Scheduled

A special term of Moore County Superior Court will be held the week starting October 22, because of a backlog of criminal cases for which a number of defendants are in jail.

One is the murder case, in which Frank Yow of Carthage is charged with the butcher-knife slaying of June Sullivan. A bond was set for Yow but he has been unable to make it and has been in Moore County jail since the fatality May 11. His trial could not be reached at the August criminal term, and was continued along with a number of others.

The grand jury will not be called as no new cases will be taken up, but will await the regular term in November, said C. C. Kennedy, clerk of court.

Women Pilots of 'Ninety-Nines' to Meet Here Oct. 5.

Plans were announced this week for the annual meeting of the Southeastern and Middle East Sections of The Ninety-Nines, national organization of women airplane pilots, to be held at Pine Needles Country Club and Lodges here October 5 through 7.

The "fly-in" of most of the group will take place Friday, with planes arriving at Southern Pines-Pinehurst Airport.

Saturday's program includes a business meeting, golf tournament and banquet which is open to the public but requires reservations in advance. Speakers are Jerrie Cobb (see story on women's pages today), leading candidate in the proposed women's astronaut program, and Louise Thaden, a lieutenant colonel in the Civil Air Patrol who has won many trophies and awards for flying exploits during the past 30 years and is a charter member of the Ninety-Nines.

Active Sandhills members are Mrs. Estelle Bradshaw and Miss Page Shamberger. Mrs. Peggy Kirk Bell, who with her husband, Warren Bell, own and operate Pine Needles, is an inactive member of the group.

Swimming at the Pine Needles pool, a fashion show and other events are on the program.

The Ninety-Nines Club was formed in 1929 to coordinate the interests and efforts of women in the aviation field.

Band Boosters to Meet On Monday

The first fall meeting of the East Southern Pines High School Band Boosters Club will be held at 8 p. m. Monday at the school, with all parents of band members and majorettes and other interested persons invited to attend.

Mrs. J. L. Ritchie, president of the club, pointed out this week that the long effort to raise funds for the band's new uniforms, acquired last year, has been successful and that the uniforms are now entirely paid for.

At the Monday meeting a committee will be named to bring in nominations for new club officers.

MAYOR RUGGLES LEAVES HOSPITAL

Mayor John S. Ruggles returned to his home this week from St. Joseph of the Pines Hospital where he had been a patient since August 3, after suffering a stroke.

He is reported improving steadily and is permitted to go to his office at the Barnum Realty and Insurance Co. for a short period each day.

He may have visitors at his home, 180 N. Bennett St.

175 GOING TO POPE AFB

Hundreds of boys and girls and their families are expected to visit Pope Air Force Base for the annual Kids' Day open house scheduled for 10 a. m. to 1 p. m., Saturday, September 22, at the Tactical Air Command installation.

The event is sponsored jointly by Kiwanis International and the United States Air Force.

Moore County participation, under direction of the Sandhills Kiwanis Club, will send some 175 seventh graders to Pope AFB, said Dr. R. B. Warlick, president of the club.

Meeting at the school here at 8:30 Saturday, they will be taken to Pope AFB in supervised transportation. Dr. Warlick stressed that parents wishing to take eligible children are welcome to go in their own cars.

Students to go are chosen from seventh grades in schools throughout the county.

Displays of aircraft, equipment and vehicles will be featured, while efforts are being made to arrange with Army officials for operation of a popular kiddies' jump tower. A "flight-line taxi" will transport visitors through the ramp area.

The program also calls for sky

Plans Progress For Democratic Luncheon

Community ticket chairmen for the September 29 luncheon meeting of women Democratic workers in the fall election campaign are named in a story on the women's pages of today's Pilot. Mrs. F. F. Rainey heads the committee for the event at the Southern Pines Country Club. Mrs. Doris Cromartie of Charlotte, vice chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, will be guest speaker.

DEMO GROUP MEETING

Members of Democratic precinct committees from throughout Moore County are meeting at 7:30 tonight (Thursday) at the Carthage Hotel in Carthage, to discuss with County Chairman W. Lamont Brown fund-raising and other plans for the fall campaign.

Woman Charged With Murder in Monday Shooting

Probable cause on a charge of first degree murder was found Wednesday in Southern Pines municipal court against a 48-year-old Negro woman, Margaret Stanko Godwin, for the fatal shooting of a neighbor, Edgar Gibson, 38.

Judge W. H. Fullenwider directed that the woman be held without bond for grand jury action at the November criminal term of Moore County Superior Court, Carthage.

The killing took place Monday night at "Lost City," small Negro community on the outskirts of West Southern Pines.

Deputy Sheriff J. A. Lawrence, presenting the state's case, said the woman had admitted to him that she shot Gibson with a .32 revolver "and kept on shooting, till the gun was empty." When arrested later that night at the home of another neighbor, Rob Douglas, she gave him the revolver and five empty shells Lawrence said.

Two of the bullets had hit Gibson, one in the upper left arm, the other penetrating his chest on the left side. He died en route to Moore Memorial Hospital in an ambulance.

Lawrence testified that Mrs. Godwin told him she went out of her house about 9:20 p. m. to (Continued on Page 8)

SCHOOL BANDS TO PLAY AT AIRPORT

The East Southern Pines, West Southern Pines and Rockingham High School bands are expected to be on hand to welcome Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower when his plane from Columbia, S. C., arrives at the Southern-Pines-Pinehurst Airport at 12:15 p. m. Saturday. Officials planning the Eisenhower visit estimate some 4,000 persons would be in the welcoming crowd. The combined bands will play "Hail to the Chief" and possibly other selections.

Economy Stressed In Message For County Officials

The Moore County commissioners, who faced some stringent money problems at budget-making time, have laid down strict economy rules for all county departments, warning them to stay within their budgets and "to spend the county money as if it came from their own pockets."

A letter on the subject has been drawn up with the help and advice of Mrs. Estelle Wicker, county accountant, and has been sent to all county department heads.

The letter points out that the new budget is now in its third month and calls it "the most painfully prepared and adopted budget in recent years due to increased cost and reduced revenue."

It will be necessary, said the letter, to follow certain procedures, in order to stay within the budget as required by law.

Department heads are requested in the letter: to keep monthly expenditures well within one-twelfth of the fiscal year's total budget; and to obtain two or more bids when purchasing equipment or large supply orders. (Items costing more than $100 must have prior approval of the commissioners whether or not they are in the budget).

Girl Scouts Will Aid Lions Drive To Help Blind

The Southern Pines Lions Club will take its annual White Cane Drive to local residents Saturday with the aid of Girl Scout Troop 82 whose members will be selling bangles and receiving contributions in the business section all day.

S. E. Thomas, chairman of the drive for the local club, pointed out this week that the campaign is the chief state-wide fund-raising project of Lions Clubs and supports the N. C. Association for the Blind, the North Carolina Eye Bank, medical eye clinics, glaucoma detection clinics, distribution of educational materials on prevention of blindness, provision of white cane walking sticks for blind persons and numerous other services, including eye glasses for needy persons.

Girl Scouts expected to take part in the collection include Becky Austin, Stephanie Pollock, Carolyn Niles, Perry Davis, Donna Traylor, Ellen Bushby, Janet Phillips, Barbara Grove, Karen Wright, Glenda Maness, Mary McMillan, Janice Campbell and Susan Huntley. Mrs. W. T. Huntley, Jr., is leader of the troop and Mrs. Ned Bushby is assistant.

The campaign runs through the end of this month. Persons who wish to give directly may send contributions to Mr. Thomas at 210 Sheldon Road.
