

Mountain resorts are in picturesque settings, and from each the choice of scenic drives and loop trips is excellent. Autumn is an ideal time to enjoy not only the mountain scenery, but such diversions as golf, fishing, boating and prospecting for gemstones. Hunting is an added attraction.

Canning was the first 4-H project for girls about 50 years ago and came under the heading of "home economics." Cooking and sewing were soon added. Today about 1.4 million girls between 10 and 21 years old are engaged in a broad program of home economics projects.

Hunt Club Members Go Out On Deer Opening Day; Sheriff Extols Sport

The opening of the deer hunting season Sunday saw the D. C. Blue Hunt club out in the Rose-land section, but nobody bagged a deer.

Matter of fact, while several deer were sighted, nobody even got a shot.

The club, with 42 members, has hunting rights leased over 11,500 acres and, says Sheriff W. B. Kelly, a new member this year, "You can't begin to cover it all."

Joe Wiseman of Murdochs ville is president of the club. Sheriff Kelly said he hopes to cover a lot of those 11,500 acres in the next two and a half months, as he plans to get out there as often as his duties will let him. "I don't take any vacation," the genial officer says. "I'd go crazy down at the beach or some place like that for two weeks. What I like is to get out for a few hours or a day every now and then to hunt or fish."

He loves to hunt rabbits as well as deer, and year after year bags his limit—but whether he brings anything home or not he has a great time. "It's the woods I love, and the music the dogs make when they're working, and the sportsmanship and skill that it takes."

And out in the woods with other hunters—that's where you really get to know a man, what kind of stuff he's made of and the kind of friend he'll be. The best friendships in the world are made among men who hunt and fish together."

Brannan Cabinet Shop Opens; New Service Planned

Lindsay Going has arrived from Kennebunkport, Maine, and has reopened Brannan's Cabinet Shop, of which he is proprietor, on the Aberdeen-Pinehurst highway. A large new colonial-type sign will be erected soon, Mr. Going said, to mark the turn-off to the new shop building that was opened last year.

Working with the shop will be Richard Drown of Maine and Joseph Gooch of Pinehurst. Furniture repair, refinishing, packing and crating are specialties of the shop, with plans this year to add a new service—antique furniture decoration with gold leaf and other materials.

Charles Hallett, famed new England decorator, is expected to spend some time in the Sandhills after the first of next year, working with the shop in the field of furniture decoration. Two decorated chests and photographs of other work are on display now at the shop, to show the type of work to be done.

A new addition is being built to the shop, Mr. Going said, for production of "Crystalwood" objects for Midland Crafters on Midland Road. Turning of these unique plates, bowls and other items is done at the shop. The public is invited to visit the shop and watch them being made.

Mr. Going's wife and two children have been at their home near the shop since August, so that the children could enter the Aberdeen school which they are now attending.
