Outlook Told For Basketball Teams Of Moore Schools

BY JOEL STUTTS

Based on veteran players returning this season, the Pinehurst boys and the Highfalls boys should battle for top position in the Moore County High School Basketball Conference during the coming season which opens with full scale action December 1.

The Pinehurst boys, coached by Rodger Paschal, who were runners-up for championship honors last season, retain all of their first string players with the exception of one. This, apparently makes the Rebels favorites to capture this season's crown. Butch Hardy, Marshall Lewis, Bobby Norton and Marty McKenzie are the outstanding returnees from last season's fine team.

The Highfalls boys, coached by C. E. Russell have their entire last season's squad returning. This veteran team is led by Larry Mashburn, a 6 ft., 1 in. junior who was outstanding as a sophomore last season. Ed Shields and Jimmy Maness are also expected to be top performers again this season for the Highfalls Blue Eagles. This team finished in 6th position last season.

Gene Bowen's Elise Bearcats could give Pinehurst and Highfalls a close race in the conference as they will have a fine team also. Johnny Freeman, Billy Steed and Clifford Kennedy were outstanding last season and will be around to perform for the Robbins school which has produced some outstanding 1-A teams.

The Southern Pines Blue Knights have a new coach in Dan Kruger, who will face a rebuilding job as four of the five top players from last season's championship team have graduated. Veteran Johnny Bristow is back. Coach Kruger will have Hal Hassenfelt, Frances Warren and Robert McCrimmon all of whom have ability to make the Blue Knights a winning team.

Bloodmobile To Visit Next Week

A bloodmobile from the Piedmont-Carolinas Red Cross Blood Center at Charlotte will visit two communities in Moore County next week, so that volunteer donors can give blood in the program that supplies both of the hospitals in the county.

On Thursday, November 29, the bloodmobile will be at the West End High School from 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

On Friday, November 30, it will be at the First Baptist Church in Aberdeen, from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Moore County is running behind its quota in the blood program, the local Red Cross chapter reports, urging all who are able to give a pint of blood at one of the two locations next week.

Lamm's Grove Wins Honor In County

A meeting was held in the Courthouse in Carthage on Thursday night, November 15, to recognize winners in the County Farm Community Development Contest and to elect officers and directors for the Moore County Development Association.

Lamm's Grove won first prize of $25, with Mrs. Allen Denny, president, accepting the award. Juniper won second prize, $15, with Johnny Frye accepting; and Westmoore won 3rd place, accepted by Dan Dunlap. The prize was $10.

Seven Moore County communities were included in the farm community development contest this year. The competition was

2 Moore Rural Communities Win 3rd Prizes

An inspiring story of community cooperation was told Monday night at the annual meeting and Awards Night of the Sandhill Area Development Association, held at the Ellerbe school auditorium with some 200 persons present from the five member counties—Moore, Lee, Hoke, Montgomery and Richmond.

Mrs. D. W. Hurley of Montgomery made the awards to first, second and third place winners, with two "honorable mentions," among 27 communities which had completed a year-long "Operation Bootstrap" in the community development division.

Mrs. Hurley, serving her third term as chairman of this division, gave as its aim "the inspiration of competitive community action for better living." Each community, organized as a club or council, works for those improvements which it considers it needs most. In the interest of time, since many visitors had come far and could not stay late, the actual programs of the winning communities were not fully described.

Winners Listed
In two divisions, farm and non-farm, first prizes of $100 checks, to be used in further community improvement, were presented to Mountain Creek and Cordova communities, both of Richmond. Second prizes of $75 each went to Onville Thickety Creek, Mont-

Work To Start On Apartment House

Construction is expected to begin next week on an apartment house to be built by Sandhill Homes, Inc., the company headed by O. John Valentine of Whispering Pines, at the southeast corner of S. May St. and E. Massachusetts Ave.

The structure, which will be owned and operated by Mr. Valentine on a lot he has purchased, will have four two-bedroom apartment units. It will be of brick construction in traditional design. A building permit issued by the Town lists a valuation of $30,000.

Mr. Valentine is an experienced builder who has moved to Whispering Pines from Pittsburgh, Pa.

Council, Officers Of New Lutheran Church Elected

Council members and officers of the newly organized Our Saviour Lutheran Church have been elected, completing the last step necessary to put the church fully into official operation. The church was formally organized November 11.

The council was elected by the congregation Sunday and council members met Monday night to name the officers.

Pastor Jack Deal automatically becomes chairman and the other officers elected are: Luther A. Adams, vice-chairman; Richard Winn, secretary; and Kenneth Propst, treasurer.

Members of the council, who will be installed at the church's 11 a.m. service in the Civic Club on Sunday, are: for 3-year terms—Luther Adams, Robert Howard and Melvin Johnson; for 2-year terms—Charles Herman, Paul Sides and Richard Winn; and for 1-year terms—Oscar Johnson, Kenneth Propst and John Williams.

EVENT CALLED BEST IN 9 YEARS

Mangum, Tufts Win Golf Carousel

An all-Sandhills team, Clyde Mangum of Southern Pines and Peter Tufts of Pinehurst, emerged Sunday as champions of the most successful Southern Pines Golf Carousel in the nine years of the unique tournament's existence.

Trophies were awarded at the Pine Needles Country Club to winners and runners-up in 12 flights in the men's division, four in the mixed, also consolations in all flights—64 silver trophies in all.

The ceremonies climaxed four days of play—qualifying rounds

Thursday, match play Friday through Sunday—over the Pine Needles and Southern Pines Country Club courses—in perfect fall weather.

Said Bill Blue, president of the sponsoring Jaycees, "We believe we have the Carousel established as a highly successful event and we are mighty proud of the way it went off. Many of the teams were 'repeaters'—people who come for hundreds of miles, year after year. They tell us they wouldn't miss it for worlds, as they enjoy the golf, the courses, the clubs, the hospitality—everything.

"We had set 120 teams as our top limit, and this was filled two weeks in advance. On the insistence of several late entries, we stretched to accommodate eight more. This was the first year we had to turn people away.

"The social events were a big part of the enjoyment—the Thursday night cocktail party at the Pine Needles, and the Saturday night dance at the Armory. The local people turned out fine for

School Bus Safety Study Meeting To Be Held Nov. 30

A series of regional workshops aimed at improving safeguards for students who ride school buses will be conducted in five Piedmont North Carolina towns next week, according to the N. C. Traffic Safety Council.

One will be held Friday, November 30, at East Southern Pines High School, for representatives from Moore, Lee, Hoke and Harnett Counties.

The workshops, part of a statewide series, are aimed at seeking agreement between responsible state agencies and local school administrative and supervisory personnel on ways to combat a rising accident rate in school bus accidents.

Agencies involved in the presentations will include the Division of Transportation of the State Board of Education, the Department of Motor Vehicles, the State Highway Patrol, and the N. C. Traffic Safety Council.

School personnel attending the meetings will be superintendents, principals, and transportation supervisors.

C. C. Brown, director of the Division of Transportation, said the rate of traffic accidents involving school buses has increased 10 percent during the past five years.

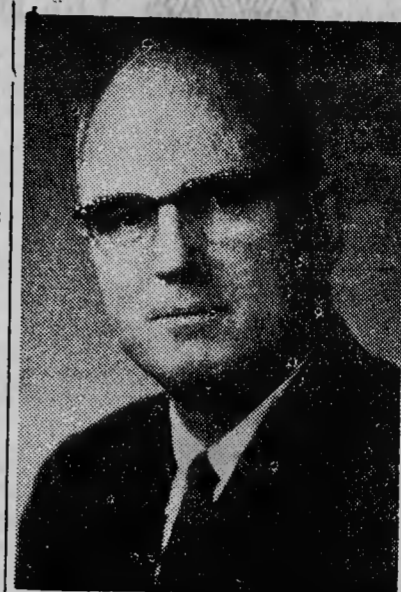

"While we know that factors beyond our control, such as increased highway traffic volumes, influence the trend, the increase is of considerable concern," Brown said.

School bus drivers, 90 percent of whom are students, are trained by the Department of Motor Vehicles. The Highway Patrol is responsible for assuring as safe school bus routes as possible. And the selection of drivers and the supervision of drivers, as well as passengers, is the responsibility of local school officials.

Dr. Lefler To Speak To Historical Association

The first meeting for the season of the Moore County Historical Association will be held Tuesday, November 27, at 8 p.m. in the Council Room of the Southern Pines town hall, president Norris L. Hodgkins, Jr., announces.

Dr. Hugh Lefler of the University of North Carolina will be the speaker. A professor of history at Chapel Hill, Dr. Lefler will speak on the Carolina Charter Tercentenary to be observed in North Carolina in 1963.

JUDGE McCONNELL

John D. McConnell Being Appointed Resident Judge

John D. McConnell of Southern Pines, who has served as a special Superior Court judge since July, 1961, is being appointed by Gov. Terry Sanford as resident judge of the 20th Judicial District, to become effective January 1.

The post will be vacated by Judge F. Don Phillips of Rockingham who has announced his retirement December 31 for health reasons.

The special judgeship now held by Judge McConnell has a two-year term, expiring in July of next year. Judge Phillips' term as resident judge runs through 1968, but Judge McConnell must run for election in 1964, if he is to fill out the full term.

Governor Sanford announced last Friday that he would appoint the local man to the judgeship that has aroused considerable speculation since Judge Phillips announced his retirement a couple of weeks ago. Congressman A. Paul Kitchin of Wadesboro, who was defeated November 6 by Republican Charles R. Jonas for the 8th District Congressional seat, had been mentioned as a possible candidate for the appointment.

A native of Davidson and a graduate of Davidson College and Duke Law school, Judge McConnell has made Southern Pines his home since 1947 while serving as assistant United States Attorney in the Middle District Court and as administrative assistant to the late Sen. J. Melville Broughton and to Dr. Frank B. Graham when he was a U. S.

Road Peril Of Holiday Pointed Out

Southern Pines and this area are enjoying a Thanksgiving holiday today (Thursday), with nearly all public and private businesses, offices and industries closed.

The Pilot is being published Wednesday, with many subscribers not receiving their papers until Friday because of no post office home deliveries on the Thursday holiday.

A community Thanksgiving church service that was to be held at 8 p. m. Wednesday in Emmanuel Episcopal Church was the only local public observance of the holiday. Schools are closed until the regular opening time on Monday morning.

Heavy holiday traffic is expected on highways of the area through Sunday night and the State Highway Patrol urges all motorists to drive with extra care during this period.

Last year's Thanksgiving week-end produced 27 North Carolina Traffic deaths and injured 631 persons in 977 accidents, points out the N. C. State Motor Club, of Charlotte, predicting 23 deaths this year during the period of the official accident count—6 p. m. Wednesday through midnight Sunday.

Christmas Seals Go On Sale To Help Fight TB

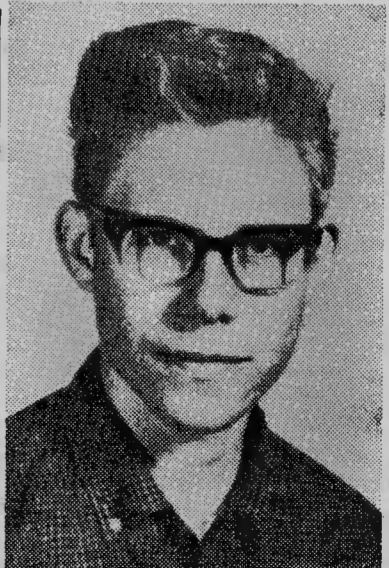

Sheets of 1962 Christmas seals are being mailed out to residents of Moore County, with a request for contributions that will finance the work of the Moore County Tuberculosis Association during the coming year.

H. Clifton Blue of Aberdeen, this year's county seal sale chairman, explains in the letter accompanying the seals that the sale is "a practical means for you to help your Tuberculosis Association realize objectives of its year-round program." These include free chest x-rays to find unknown cases of TB, free clothing for needy patients, rehabilitation of recovered patients, health education and, at the state and national levels, medical research.

"Whatever your gift may be, it is an investment in the protection of our community's health," the letter states.

Norman B. Caudle of Southern Pines, who was elected earlier this year to succeed Dr. J. S. Hiatt, Jr., as president of the Moore County Tuberculosis Association, announced the appointment of Mr. Blue, who is Moore County's representative in the General Assembly, as campaign chairman and pointed out that the Moore County TB Association co-sponsored the county-
