No Extension Of Tax Listing Time, Supervisor Says

List-takers started listing personal property for taxes in all Moore County townships Wednesday. Mrs. Estelle Wick, county tax supervisor, said again this week that January 31 is the "final and positive deadline" for listing.

In bygone years, procrastinating taxpayers could count on a two weeks' extension of time, allowing them to mid-February before penalties accrued.

However, for the past two years in Moore County, the extension has not been allowed and, says Mrs. Wick, "we get along lots better." Even with the extension, she said, "many people were late and it's just about the same ones who are late without it."

This year, with notices of real property revaluation to mail out to more than 20,000 taxpayers, Mrs. Wick and her staff are extra busy. Everyone is asked to state the work of the list-takers and supervisor's office as much as possible.

Many of the list-takers have held the annual posts for years, and only one is new this year. That is Mrs. Inez Poe, in Ritters Township. In Sandhills township, Mrs. J. Lathan of Pinebluff, list-taker this year, was assistant to Lee Buchanan last year. Sandhills Township includes Aberdeen and an area that extends into the Southern Pines community on the south side.

McNeill, Sandhill, Mineral Springs Listing Scheduled

Tax list takefor McNeill, Sandhill and Mineral Springs Townships have announced schedules set up for convenience of residents listing their real and personal property for county and town taxes in January.

The three townships include the southern end of the county in McNeill, Sandhill and Pinebluff.

Mrs. Irene Mulick of Vass, who lists McNeill township property within the Southern Pines area, will be at the information Center here each week day, except Thursdays, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. She will be at the office during these hours on Thursdays, and on Saturdays from 9 a. m. to noon.

Mrs. Don J. Blue of Route 3, Carthage, lists all McNeill township property located outside the towns.

Sandhill
Mrs. Julia D. Lathan of Pinebluff is the list-taker for Sandhill Township. She will be in the office on Page 5.

PIANO, VIOLIN, HARPSICORD Lucktenburg Duo To Play Saturday

An evening of music with piano, violin and harpsichord is in store for members of the Sandhills Music Association and other concertgoers at Weaver Auditorium Saturday when the Lucktenburg Duo will appear at 8:30 p. m. The event will be the second in the Association's 1962-63 series.

Jerrie Cadek Lucktenberg, violinist, and George Lucktenberg, pianist and harpsichordist, will appear together and separately during the evening in a program that includes Beethoven's "Kreutzer" sonata for violin and piano and a rhapsody by Liszt.

MEMORIAL CEREMONY—Mrs. George C. Marshall, widow of the late U. S. chief of staff, secretary of defense and secretary of state, stands at the Marshall Park monument in Pinehurst Sunday as Leslie R. Brady, commander of the North Carolina Department of the American Legion, places a wreath, an annual event conducted as closely as possible to the anniversary of General Marshall's birthday, January 31. Mr. Brady was speaker for the ceremony.

Leaders In County 3-Race New Point-To-Point Program To Be Held Here Saturday, Jan. 19

Saturday, January 19, will be Point-to-Point Race day, sponsored by the Moore County Hounds, opening Sandhills riding events for 1963 and featuring several changes in the program, as compared to previous years.

Instead of the former single race over a long distance, most of it out of sight of spectators, three races are scheduled:

1. An Open Point-to-Point race, starting at 2 p. m. Open to all horses and to ladies and gentlemen, professionals or amateurs, this will be run over timber fences on a two-mile flagged course, in full view of the spectators.
2. A Junior Race, open to young people 18 years old or younger, will be run for approximately two miles, also visible to spectators.
3. A Hunter's Pace—the first such event held here—to be run over six miles of typical hunting country, with horses going out in pairs, two minutes apart and with only a portion in front of the spectators. A predetermined ideal time for the course will be set by a horse and rider covering the course the previous day, maintaining a proper hunting pace, taking requirements of the terrain into consideration. The winner of the race, then, will be the rider coming closest to the time of the previous day's rider.

No entry fees and no spectator fees are required for any of the events. The program will be held in the area of former races, out Youngs Road.

LIVED 23 YEARS AT FIRE STATION Kaylors Move After Long Town Service

In the past two weeks, for the first time in 23 years, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Kaylor—who have been married since 1919—have been able to walk down the street together.

They say it's a wonderful feeling—a new world of freedom—not to be constantly on duty at the fire station, one or the other of them always ready to answer the telephone, during the many years Frank was "resident fireman" and the couple made their home at the station.

If a vote had been taken any time over those 23 years to name Southern Pines's most useful citizen, Frank Kaylor would most likely have headed the list.

Taken for Granted

That is, if anybody had thought of it. It was taken for granted he'd be at the fire station on New Hampshire Ave., looking after everything there, answering fire calls, rescue calls, all other kinds of emergency calls, training the firemen and getting the equipment out at all times of day or night. Nobody ever thought a day would come when he would be there no longer.

That goes for his wife, Grace, too, for usually it was her voice answering the phone, which rang in their upstairs apartment as well as the fire station below.

They were always on the job. They aren't there any more.

The new resident fireman, E. (Ed) Baker, is moving into the fire station, and his family is moving into a new home.

BOARDS TO MEET

January meeting of the Moore County board of commissioners will be held in Carthage Monday, starting at 10 a. m. The Southern Pines town council will have its regular monthly meeting at the town hall Tuesday at 8 p. m.

FIRST AID COURSE

A standard Red Cross first aid course, open to anyone 14 years old or older, will begin Monday, January 7, at 7 p. m. in the Vass-Lakeview High School. A. B. Parker, Jr., and Max Edwards, of Moore County Rescue Squad No. 2, will be the instructors.

3 Areas Annexed To Town; Sewer Contract Okayed

Annexation of three areas to the Town was approved by the town council in a special meeting last Thursday night and, in another action, the council authorized execution of a contract for construction of a sewer line, to serve two motels in one of the annexed areas, at a cost of $19,103.

Bids on the job had been opened at a previous time. The contract authorized is with Ray Lowder, Inc., of Albermarle.

Present for the session were Mayor John S. Ruggles, Mayor Pro-Tem J. D. Hobbs and Councilmen Felton Capel and Morris Johnson. Councilman Fred Pollard was unable to attend.

Voting on all of the actions was unanimous. At a previous meeting, when the public hearings on annexation were set, Mayor Pro-Tem Hobbs had abstained in the voting, saying he thought that the Town should collect the full price of the sewer line to serve the motels, before they were annexed.

The sewer line will cost the town $19,103 and the Town now has $16,000 in payment for the sewer line from the motels—$12,000 from the unfinished Holiday Inn now owned by Byron Nelson and Associates of Petersburg, Va., and $4,000 from the Fairway Motor Court, it was reported by Town Manager F. F. Rainey.

The special meeting was set last Thursday so that all the annexed properties could be placed on the town tax rolls for the full calendar year starting January 1.

The full area annexed along with the two motel properties contains also tracts owned by Karl Andrews and by Our Saviour Lutheran Church, all with frontage on No. 1 highway. The Andrews land runs back to adjoin the N. C. Forest Service fire tower property and the town-owned Mount Hope Cemetery. The latter boundary provides the required link with an existing city limits line.

Other areas annexed were the property of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson on S. Ridge St. extension and the property of Miss Mildred Hatfield, corner of S. Ridge extension and Morganton Road.

No opposition to any of the annexations was expressed at the Thursday night public hearings.

Judge McConnell Sworn In; Office Set At Carthage

John D. McConnell of Southern Pines, who has been serving as a special Superior Court judge since last May, was sworn in as resident judge of the 20th judicial district, third division, in a ceremony held Wednesday morning in the Governor's office at Raleigh.

Governor Sanford several weeks ago announced his intention of appointing the Southern Pines man to the post resigned by Judge F. Don Phillips of Rockingham. Judge Phillips' resignation was effective January 1.

Judge McConnell will serve until the next election, in 1964, when he can become a candidate to fill out the remaining two years of Judge Phillips' unexpired term.

His accession to the post will change the seat of the judicial district from Richmond to Moore County with chambers at Carthage in conjunction with the clerk of court.

This will make the Moore County seat headquarters of both the 20th judicial district and the 13th solicitorial district, since M. G. Boyette, district solicitor, has his home and office there.

The judicial district comprises Moore, Richmond, Anson, Stanly and Union Counties, and the solicitorial district these counties and also Scotland.

Judge McConnell was sworn in to the resident post by Associate Supreme Court Justice Emery V. Denny. This was one of several swearings-in which took place at the Capitol Building and in other places in the State on Wednesday, first day of the New Year that was not a legal holiday.

In a ceremony in the Senate Chamber at Raleigh, Walter Brock of Wadesboro was sworn in as special judge succeeding (Continued on Page 8)

GOP Chairman To Be Elected At Meeting

A new chairman for the Moore County Republican Executive Committee will be elected by the committee when it meets Tuesday, January 8, at 8 p. m. in the courthouse at Carthage.

James E. Harrington, Jr., of Pinehurst, retiring chairman, called the meeting three weeks ago, after turning in his resignation from the post, for business and personal reasons.

Pinehurst-Aberdeen To Have Toll-Free Phone Service After Jan. 31

Friday, February 1, will mark the inauguration of Extended Area telephone service between Pinehurst and Aberdeen, according to Joe R. Kimball, district manager of the United Telephone Company of the Carolinas, Inc.

"At the time the new EAS calling area goes into effect, Pinehurst customers will be able to dial toll-free approximately 1,200 additional telephones," Mr. Kimball said. Another point of interest to Pinehurst customers is the fact that the new service will not mean an increase in local service rates.

The provision of EAS between the two neighboring communities has been a joint project of the Sandhill Telephone Company of Aberdeen and the United Telephone Company of the Carolinas, Inc., with headquarters in Southern Pines. Additional equipment has been installed by both the companies to make the service possible.

The February 1 change will complete the long-planned project of toll-free telephone service around the Southern Pines-Aberdeen-Pinehurst triangle. For about the past five years, Extended Area Service has been in use between Southern Pines and Pinehurst and Southern Pines and Aberdeen, but the Aberdeen-Pinehurst service has been deferred pending installation of more equipment by both the companies involved.

"We sincerely hope that this additional Extended Area Service will in some measure contribute to the development of the Sandhills area," Mr. Kimball said.

In order to gain dialing access to the Aberdeen office code of 944 (Windsor) it was necessary to change some numbers in Pinehurst; Mr. Kimball explained. Customers whose numbers will be changed are being advised of their new numbers and a new telephone directory including all of these numbers will be delivered by February 1. Customers are requested to refer to the new telephone directories when placing calls after January 31.

Football Banquet

The banquet given annually by the Elks Lodge for varsity players on the Southern Pines High School football squad will take place in the Country Club Friday, starting at 7 p. m. Clarence Stasavich, head football coach at East Carolina College, Greenville, will be the featured speaker.

License Plates On Sale At Aberdeen

North Carolina motor vehicle license plates for 1963 went on sale yesterday at the branch office serving this area, located in the Farmers Supply Store at 104 E. Main St., Aberdeen.

This location is across the Seaboard Air Line Railroad tracks from the Aberdeen depot. N. A. McGill, manager of the store, is the branch license office manager. The office is open from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., Monday through Friday and 9 a. m. to noon on Saturday, through February 15, after which date it will be illegal to drive any motor vehicle not displaying a 1963 license plate.

License plates may also be purchased at the Motor Vehicles building in Raleigh or may be ordered by mail from Raleigh.

Purchasers of license plates are asked to indicate on the reverse side of their renewal card that liability insurance is in force and to list the county in which the vehicle is subject to property taxes. It will help if this is done in advance of coming to the branch office, Mr. McGill said.

He also pointed out that a $1 extra fee for driver education must be paid for each vehicle having a registration fee of $10 or more.

Town Tags Available At Information Center

Southern Pines town license plates went on sale yesterday at the Information Center, corner of Pennsylvania Ave. and S. E. Broad St. and will be available there daily, 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., except Wednesdays and Saturdays when the open hours are 9 a. m. to noon.

A tag (cost, $1) must be chased for each automobile owned by a resident within the city limits. Deadline for purchase of tags is the same as for license plates, February 15.

FEBRUARY 15 IS DEADLINE
